Sourcebook of Family Theories and Methods Pauline Boss, William J. Doherty, Ralph LaRossa, Walter R. Schumm, Suzanne K. Steinmetz, 2008-11-19 Origins We call this book on theoretical orientations and methodological strategies in family studies a sourcebook because it details the social and personal roots i e sources from which these orientations and strategies flow Thus an appropriate way to preface this book is to talk first of its roots its beginnings In the mid 1980s there emerged in some quarters the sense that it was time for family studies to take stock of itself A goal was thus set to write a book that like Janus would face both backward and forward a book that would give readers both a perspective on the past and a map for the future There were precedents for such a project The Handbook of Marriage and the Family edited by Harold Christensen and published in 1964 the two Contemporary Theories about the Family volumes edited by Wesley Burr Reuben Hill F Ivan Nye and Ira Reiss published in 1979 and the Handbook of Marriage and the Family edited by Marvin Sussman and Suzanne Steinmetz then in production

Handbook of Reading Research, Volume III Michael L. Kamil, Peter B. Mosenthal, P. David Pearson, Rebecca Barr, 2016-11-18 In Volume III as in Volumes I and II the classic topics of reading are included from vocabulary and comprehension to reading instruction in the classroom and in addition each contributor was asked to include a brief history that chronicles the legacies within each of the volumes many topics However on the whole Volume III is not about tradition Rather it explores the verges of reading research between the time Volume II was published in 1991 and the research conducted after this date The editors identified two broad themes as representing the myriad of verges that have emerged since Volumes I and II were published 1 broadening the definition of reading and 2 broadening the reading research program The particulars of these new themes and topics are addressed Catalog of the Research Library of the Reiss-Davis Child Study Center, Los Angeles, California: A-K Reiss-Davis Child Study Center. Systematic Reviews of Research in Basic Education in South Africa Felix Maringe, 2021-04-09 Maringe ought to be commended for putting together an invaluable contribution to our understanding of research into a complex education system in South Africa This volume provides a useful foundation to the current state of education quality in South Africa including the impact of interventions It also brings to the fore challenges still facing education transformation The evidence presented which taken together lays out a coherent view of how improvements could be made Albert Chanee Head of Planning Gauteng Department of Education For too long the weight of educational scholarship produced in South Africa has been limited to that simple and standard form called the literature review Now for the first time education researchers are provided with an African based text on the concepts and methods of conducting systematic reviews In this exceptional work of editorship Felix Maringe brings together some of the leading researchers on South African education to model and demonstrate how to review a significant body of research on a chosen topic which is adjudicated strictly on the basis of the quality and efficacy of the evidence in hand I have no doubt that this remarkable book will become a standard reference for educational researchers in and beyond the African continent It will also lift the quality of educational inquiry by equipping a new generation of scholars with the capacity for doing evidence based research that compels the attention of policymakers planners and practitioners alike Prof Jonathan Jansen Stellenbosch University

Handbook of Reading Disability Research Anne McGill-Franzen,Richard Allington,2010-09-17 Bringing together a wide range of research on reading disabilities this comprehensive Handbook extends current discussion and thinking beyond a narrowly defined psychometric perspective Emphasizing that learning to read proficiently is a long term developmental process involving many interventions of various kinds all keyed to individual developmental needs it addresses traditional questions What is the nature or causes of reading disabilities How are reading disabilities assessed How should reading disabilities be remediated To what extent is remediation possible but from multiple or alternative perspectives Taking incursions into the broader research literature represented by linguistic and anthropological paradigms as well as psychological and educational research the volume is on the front line in exploring the relation of reading disability to learning and language to poverty and prejudice and to instruction and schooling The editors and authors are distinguished scholars with extensive research experience and publication records and numerous honors and awards from professional organizations representing the range of disciplines in the field of reading disabilities Throughout their contributions are contextualized within the framework of educators struggling to develop concrete instructional practices that meet the learning needs of the lowest achieving readers Resources in Education ,2001-10 Encyclopedia of Case Study

Research Albert J. Mills,Gabrielle Durepos,Elden Wiebe,2010 This is the authoritative reference work in the field An interdisciplinary set it investigates the extensive history design and methods of case study research What Reading Research Tells Us About Children With Diverse Learning Needs Deborah C. Simmons,Edward J. Kameenui,1998-09-01 The purpose of this book is to communicate findings of a research synthesis investigating the bases of reading failure and the curricular and instructional basics to help guide the design and advancement of children s reading performance The synthesis completed by the National Center to Improve the Tools of Educators NCITE and sponsored by the U S Department of Education s Office of Special Education Programs was conducted as part of NCITE s mission to improve the quality of educational tools that largely shape practice in American schools International bibliography of research in marriage and the family Joan Aldous,1967 Research in Education ,1974 Advances in Family Intervention, Assessment and Theory ,1981 Textbook of Palliative Care Communication Elaine Wittenberg PhD,Betty R. Ferrell RN, PhD, MA,

FAAN, FPCN, CHPN,Joy Goldsmith PhD,Thomas Smith MD,Sandra Ragan MD,Myra Glajchen,The Rev. George Handzo,2015-10-23 The Textbook of Palliative Care Communication is the authoritative text on communication in palliative care providing a compilation of international and interdisciplinary perspectives This volume was uniquely developed by an interdisciplinary editorial team to address an array of providers including physicians nurses social workers and chaplains and it unites clinicians with academic researchers interested in the study of communication By featuring practical conversation and curriculum tools stemming from research this text integrates scholarship and inquiry into translatable content that others can use to improve their practice teach skills to others and engage in patient centered communication The volume begins by defining communication explicating debatable issues in research and highlighting specific approaches to studying communication in a palliative care context Chapters focus on health literacy and cultural communication patient and family communication barriers and approaches to discussing palliative care with specific patient populations pain life support advance care planning and quality of life topics such as sexuality spirituality hope and grief Team communication in various care settings is outlined and current research and education for healthcare professionals are summarized Unique to this volume are chapters on conducting communication research both qualitatively and quantitatively to promote further research in palliative care

A Critical Discourse Analysis of Family Literacy Practices Rebecca Rogers, 2003-06-20 In this groundbreaking cross disciplinary book Rebecca Rogers explores the complexity of family literacy practices through an in depth case study of one family the attendant issues of power and identity and contemporary social debates about the connections between literacy and society The study focuses on June Treader and her daughter Vicky urban African Americans labeled as low income and low literate Using participant observation ethnographic interviewing photography document collection and discourse analysis Rogers describes and explains the complexities of identity power and discursive practices that June and Vicky engage with in their daily life as they proficiently critically and strategically negotiate language and literacy in their home and community She explores why despite their proficiencies neither June or Vicky sees themselves as literate and how this and other contradictions prevent them from transforming their literate capital into social profit This study contributes in multiple ways to extending both theoretically and empirically existing research on literacy identity and power

Critical discourse analysis The analytic technique of critical discourse analysis is brought into the area of family literacy The detailed explanation interpretation and demonstration of critical discourse analysis will be extremely helpful for novices learning to use this technique This is a timely book for there are few ethnographic studies exploring the usefulness and limits of critical discourse analysis Combines critical discourse analysis and ethnography This new synthesis which is thoroughly illustrated offers an explanatory framework for the stronghold of institutional discursive power Using critical discourse analysis as a methodological tool in order to build critical language awareness in classrooms and schools educators working toward a critical social democracy may be better armed to recognize sources of inequity

Researcher reflexivity Unlike most critical discourse analyses throughout the book the researcher and analyst is clearly visible and complicated into the role of power and language This practice allows clearer analysis of the ethical moral and theoretical implications in conducting ethnographic research concerned with issues of power

A critical perspective on family literacy Many discussions of family literacy do not acknowledge the raced classed and gendered nature of interacting with texts that constitutes a family s literacy practices This book makes clear how the power relationships that are acquired as children and adults interact with literacy in the many domains of a family's literacy lives A Critical Discourse Analysis of Family Literacy Practices Power In and Out of Print will interest researchers and practitioners in the fields of qualitative methodology discourse analysis critical discourse studies literacy education and adult literacy and is highly relevant as a text for courses in these areas
