

En reformulering af bibliotekets rum og funktion i fremtidens uddannelsessystemer?

Af Mai Aggerbeck

Artiklen beskriver og diskuterer informationskompetencebegrebet med udgangspunkt i en empirisk undersøgelse 'Samarbejde mellem bibliotek og uddannelse omkring formidling af informationskompetence'. Undersøgelsens hovedkonklusioner perspektiveres i forhold til de nye tendenser i samfundet og de deraf følgende nye fordringer til uddannelserne. Centralt for den fremtidige biblioteksfunktion er en ændret forståelse af videnbegrebet og et øget fokus på læringsbegrebet. Det stiller biblioteksfunktionen overfor nye udfordringer i relation til form og betydningsindhold, men også i relation til den organisatoriske forståelsesramme.

Indledning

Anskuer man informationskompetence i dets indholdsmæssige betydning ud fra fire grundbetydninger som evnen til at kunne 1. identificere, 2. udvælge, 3. strukturere og 4. formidle viden, peger det for det første på, at der er tale om et begreb, der rummer mange facetter. For det andet peger det på informationskompetence som både en nødvendighed og en selvfølgelighed, når man arbejder med viden og læreprocesser.

Informationskompetence som begreb kan, ifølge min forståelsesramme, da heller ikke ses uafhængigt af dets kontekst. Det beror på en opfattelse af, at arbejdet med viden og videnshåndtering er situativt, hvilket vil sige bestemt af de omstændigheder, som brugeren befinder sig i (Jensen 2007). Det betyder, at en række situationelle faktorer er bestemmende for, hvorledes begrebet implementeres i den enkelte uddannelse og/eller de enkelte fag. Af væsentlige situationelle elementer kan nævnes studieordninger, fagbeskrivelser, den eller de videnskabsteoretiske paradigmer, en uddannelse bygger på, samt selve den pædagogiske tilrettelæggelse af undervisningen. Denne forståelse relaterer sig til erfaringer fra min egen organisation, hvor informationskompetence er gjort til en permanent del af undervisningen, og hvor antagelsen er, at informationskompetence ikke kun skal fremstå som et selvstændigt fag, men derimod er et fag, der skal være til stede i en lang række andre fag.

Denne forandringsproces har været faciliteret af en ambition om et opbrud fra de traditionelle rammer og den traditionelle forståelse af sammenhængen mellem bibliotek og uddannelse, og har affødt en omorganisering af biblioteksfunktionen. I det forløb blev der nedsat en række teams med deltagelse af undervisere, studieledere og bibliotekar, der med informationskompetence som referenceramme skulle sikre implementeringen af denne kompetence i undervisningen. Disse arbejdsfællesskaber gav anledning til nye tanker omkring bibliotek og uddannelse og til en revurde-
