Alfred H Knight, 2008-07 This book is a compilation of legal and law related statements that have defined and characterized our legal system over the centuries But the reader will quickly recognize that it is not a textbook in disguise The quotations and the actions and ideas they present and represent were selected by purely personal criteria the author found them fascinating important or revealing They range from history changing statements Henry II's will no one rid me of this turbulent priest to purely mythological encounters Lincoln's cross examination of Sovine about the phase the moon was in when a murder took place to royal chit chat a devastating remark a high born lady made to the fugitive King James II which can be viewed as the final word on English royal tyranny to an apology made in a casual encounter on an American street that symbolized the healing of a terrible cultural wound The hope is to convey not a rigid history but a random flavor of how the law has been shaped by calculated casual powerful and even silly words uttered for the ages or merely for the moment This disparate verbal collection tells us that our legal system is not like a carefully sculptured statue but like a human being is composed of all that it has known and done and said
