Runagate Courage:

The Singular Life Story of Heedless Hopalong Hans Jakob Christoph von Grimmelshausen, 1981 When Grimmelshausen's The Singular Life Story of Heedless Hopalong Der seltzame Springinsfeld first appeared in 1670 or 1671 it was as nearly guaranteed of commercial success as any work of fiction can be Its titular hero and primary narrator was already familiar to the German reading public as a minor character in the most popular novel of the age Simplicissimus and a major character in its sequel The Runagate Courage The Singular Life Story of Heedless Hopalong is the third of the five novels by Hans Jacob Christoffel von Grimmelshausen which make up the so called Simplician cycle The first novel Simplicissimus has long been available in English translation the second appeared fifteen years ago This publication makes a complete and annotated English version of the third novel available to English readers for the first time Like its predecessors Heedless Hopalong is full of earthy humor and penetrating observations about man's foibles and the human dilemma In it Grimmelshausen vividly portrays the most important Simplician characters Courage and Hopalong as they are in their old age In the remaining two thirds of the novel Hopalong tells the story of his life describing his experience as a juggler boy as a member of various armies during the Thirty Years War as an innkeeper a beggar etc in language refreshingly direct forthright and lively In his characterization of Hopalong Grimmelshausen created one of German literature's finest portraits of the common soldier The Singular Life Story of Heedless Hopalong is the recipient of the First Basilius Award in Germanics The Runagate Courage Hans Jacob Christoffel Von Grimmelshausen, 1965 Play and the Picaresque Gordana Yovanovich, 1999-01-01 Analyses three important Latin American novels in an attempt to redefine the nature of the picaresque especially in regard to the roles of spontaneous play and carnivalesque laughter The Graph of Sex and the German Text, 2022-06-08 The Art of Survival Libby Murphy, 2016-01-01 7 Le Cafard Brutalization Alienation and Despair 8 Charlie Chaplin's Little Tramp From the Art of Survival to the Survival of Art Notes Bibliography Index A B C D E F G H I J K L M N O P Q R S T U V W Z

Early Modern Women's Work Patricia Anne Simpson, 2025-04-16 Early Modern Women's Work examines the contributions of female writers artists scientists religious leaders and patrons who engaged in entrepreneurial intellectual and emotional labor in German speaking Europe Through individual and collective authorship the women analyzed in this study assert a claim to kinship and community often beyond the hegemonic heteronormative relationships to family religion and monarch The contributions of early modern women to the construction of productive work spaces and the establishment of intellectual and actual communities are often overlooked or underestimated in scholarship on this period This book serves as a cultural corrective to suppositions of gender coded work because alongside the dominant history of the private sphere as a feminine domain a counter narrative emerges with collective authorship Despite the disparities in their biographies the women whose work Simpson foregrounds highlight a range of early modern concerns primarily but not exclusively in German speaking Europe These include debates about women's education and erudition migration and displacement in search of religious or professional freedom a persistent but varied discourse about female authorship and creative agency and the assertion of subjectivity against the violent fractious history of the Thirty Years War and beyond This book will be an ideal resource for students scholars and all those interested in German and European studies women and gender studies and the history of early modern work writers tried to glue them back together Transgression and Subversion Maren Lickhardt, Gregor Schuhen, Hans Rudolf Velten, 2018-09-13 Is the picaresque hero of early modern Spanish adventure fiction a real man? What position does he hold in the gender hierarchy of his fictional social context? Why is the picaresque so non-female? What effect has her gender constitution on her fictional social context? In terms of a gendered subject, the picaresque figure has hardly been analyzed so far. Although scholars have recognized it as a transgressive and subversive model, the queer effect of the figure is yet to be examined. With regard to the categories of class, generation, topography, and gender, the contributions assembled in this volume explore Spanish, French, English, and German novels narratologically from the perspective of culture and gender theories. Teaching Other Voices Margaret L. King, Albert Rabil Jr., 2008-09-15 The books in The Other Voice in Early Modern Europe series chronicle the heretofore neglected stories of women between 1400 and 1700 with the aim of reviving scholarly interest in their thought as expressed in a full range of genres: treatises, orations, and history; lyric, epic, and dramatic poetry; novels and novellas; letters, biography, and autobiography; philosophy and science. Teaching Other Voices: Women and Religion in Early Modern Europe complements these rich volumes by identifying themes useful in literature history, religion, women's studies, and introductory humanities courses. The volume's introduction, essays, and suggested course materials are intended as guides for teachers but will serve the needs of students and scholars as well. Beauty or Beast? Helen Watanabe-O'Kelly, 2010-06-17 A regiment of women warriors strides across the battlefield of German culture on the stage in the opera house, on the page, and in paintings and prints. These warriors are reimaginings by men of figures such as the Amazons, the Valkyries, and the biblical killer Judith. They are transgressive and therefore frightening figures who leave their proper female sphere and have to be made safe by being killed, deflowered, or both. This has produced some compelling works of Western culture: Cranach's and Klimt's paintings of Judith; Schiller's Joan of Arc; Hebbel's Judith; Wagner's Brünnhilde; Fritz Lang's Brünnhilde. Nowadays, representations of the woman warrior are used as a way of thinking about the woman terrorist. Women writers only engage with these imaginings at the end of the 19th century, but from the late 18th century on, they begin to imagine fictional cross-dressers going to war in a realistic setting and thus think the unthinkable. What are the roots of these imaginings? And how are they related to Freud's ideas about women's sexuality? Women and Family Life in Early Modern German Literature Elisabeth Wåghäll Nivre, 2004 A study of the discourse of gender in 16th-century German popular literature. Writers of sixteenth-century German popular literature took great interest in describing, debating, commenting on, and prescribing gender roles, and discourses of gender can be traced in texts of all kinds from this period. This book focuses on popular works by Georg Wickram, Jakob Frey, Martin Montanus, and Johann Fischart, all of whom published novels, joke books, plays, and/or moral treatises on marriage and family life in Strasbourg in the sixteenth century. Their works express not only their own ideas on women's roles as wives and mothers but also societal values at a time of religious, political, and cultural change. The view of gender issues provided by these writers is not a simple one, as they ascribed widely varying characteristics to woman and her relationship to man The book thus analyzes the social and cultural construction of the concept of woman as indicated not only by the narrators comments but also by the relationships and roles of men and women characters in the narratives Overall the focus is on the disparities that persisted in the sixteenth century discourse of gender confusing all attempts to arrive at definitive gender roles In the end the study argues for something that can best be described as a flowing continuity or a continuous flow in the discourses that form the sixteenth century concepts of woman and man Elisabeth W gh ll Nivre is associate professor of German at V xj University Sweden ationships and roles of men and women characters in the narratives Overall the focus is on the disparities that persisted in the sixteenth century discourse of gender confusing all attempts to arrive at definitive gender roles In the end the study argues for something that can best be described as a flowing continuity or a continuous flow in the discourses that form the sixteenth century concepts of woman and man Elisabeth W gh ll Nivre is associate professor of German at V xj University Sweden ationships and roles of men and women characters in the narratives Overall the focus is on the disparities that persisted in the sixteenth century discourse of gender confusing all attempts to arrive at definitive gender roles In the end the study argues for something that can best be described as a flowing continuity or a continuous flow in the discourses that form the sixteenth century concepts of woman and man Elisabeth W gh ll Nivre is associate professor of German at V xj University Sweden ationships and roles of men and women characters in the narratives Overall the focus is on the disparities that persisted in the sixteenth century discourse of gender confusing all attempts to arrive at definitive gender roles In the end the study argues for something that can best be described as a flowing continuity or a continuous flow in the discourses that form the sixteenth century concepts of woman and man Elisabeth W gh ll Nivre is associate professor of German at V xj University Sweden niversity Sweden
