Runaway John:

Genealogical Abstracts from the American Weekly Mercury, 1719-1746 Kenneth Scott, 1974 The American Weekly Mercury was the first newspaper published in Pennsylvania and the third in British North America In the earliest days of publication what little genealogical material is found in the paper comes chiefly from advertisements for runaway servants or Negro and Indian slaves In time however a steady stream of genealogical data mainly marriages and deaths began to appear Most of the marriage entries pertained to persons of some distinction such as governors judges government officials clergymen and eminent merchants as well as their family members In the case of death notices the age of the deceased was noted sometimes with a brief sketch of his career and with an indication of his place of birth ancestry and relatives Many of the genealogical items were concerned with persons in Delaware New Jersey Maryland South Carolina and New England as well as Pennsylvania The index lists 3 400 names of persons who would otherwise have been relegated to obscurity

Genealogical Data from Colonial New York Newspapers Kenneth Scott, 1977 This volume consists of abstracts of genealogical data from four of New York's earliest newspapers the New York Gazette 1726 1744 and the New York Weekly Journal 1733 1751 the two earliest city papers and the New York Mercury and the Weekly Mercury 1752 1783 These newspapers were originally produced as weeklies and usually consisted of four pages with occasional supplementary issues Their subject matter encompassed essays treatises parliamentary proceedings governors messages European and West Indian news shipping news incidents culled from other newspapers and many advertisements In this volume of abstracts may be found items yielding information concerning marriage birth death age status place of residence and place of origin covering in all the years 1726 through most of 1783 Treatment is not confined to New York for among individuals mentioned are those from all the other colonies especially New Jersey which had no newspaper in the colonial period New England Pennsylvania and Maryland Clearfield's reprint edition which appeared serially in The New York Genealogical and Biographical Record between 1964 and 1976 has been reprinted by kind permission of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society with the addition of an introduction and an index containing the names of some 10 000 persons
