

Rural Development in Pakistan: From Vision to Action

Mirza B. Baig & Nowshad Khan

Abstract

Pakistan is basically an agricultural country. Its rural areas and the population continue to be the mainstay of economy. Agriculture is the largest sector in the economy contributing 25 percent of the GDP and providing 70% of the total value of exports. The sector at present employs 17 million workers, representing 44% of the country's labour force. About 67 % of population resides in rural areas. The major sources of their earnings are agriculture and other small-scale rural enterprises, which directly or indirectly depend on agriculture. Many of the rural poor live in areas where arable land is scarce, agriculture potential is low; drought, and environmental degradation are common features. Moreover access to basic human needs i.e. basic human rights such as potable water and sanitation, education and healthcare are far less available in rural areas. The problems of malnutrition, low life expectancy and high infant mortality are more prevalent in rural areas.

It is argued that sustainable agriculture is the main vehicle for rural development and the rural development will not take place unless we view rural more than farmers. We need to value them as contributor to the employment, manager of rural landscape and environmental steward in protecting and upgrading the ecosystem and setting social and cultural order and above all supplier of safe high quality products to consumers. Successful rural community development calls for an integrated and comprehensive approach. We need to make, logically, efforts to identify economic opportunities, ecological constraints and social expectations. Sustainable rural development demands a balanced and a holistic approach in devising an actionable rural sector strategy. In the article, an overview of agriculture; its role in the economy; problems faced in the in the development of rural areas and its dwellers, and vision for the future has been presented.

1. Introduction

Agriculture is the mainstay of Pakistan's economy. Nearly one-fourth of total output (GDP) and 44 percent of total employment is generated in agriculture. It also contributes substantially to the country's exports (PES, 2005). Pakistan's agriculture sector has shown phenomenal growth of about 7.5% during 2004 -2005 as compared to 2.2% during 2003-2004. (Qureshi, 2005). However, the country, like many other developing nations of the world, is still faced with the multifarious problems like rural poverty, low literacy rate, lack of basic health facilities and poor sanitation etc. In the evolutionary period of economic development, the country tried and experienced many structural changes and
