Georgian and Soviet Claire P. Kaiser, 2023-01-15 Georgian and Soviet investigates the constitutive capacity of Soviet nationhood and empire The Soviet republic of Georgia located in the mountainous Caucasus region received the same nation building template as other national republics of the USSR Yet Stalin's Georgian heritage intimate knowledge of Caucasian affairs and personal involvement in local matters as he ascended to prominence left his homeland to confront a distinct set of challenges after his death in 1953 Utilizing Georgian archives and Georgian language sources Claire P Kaiser argues that the postwar and post Stalin era was decisive in the creation of a Georgian Georgia This was due not only to the peculiar role played by the Stalin cult in the construction of modern Georgian nationhood but also to the subsequent changes that de Stalinization wrought among Georgia's populace and in the unusual imperial relationship between Moscow and Tbilisi Kaiser describes how the Soviet empire could be repressive yet also encourage opportunities for advancement for individual careers as well as for certain nationalities The creation of national hierarchies of entitlement could be as much about local and republic level imperial imaginations as those of a Moscow center Georgian and Soviet reveals that the entitled republic level national hierarchies that the Soviet Union created laid a foundation for the claims of nationalizing states that would emerge from the empire's wake in 1991 Today Georgia still grapples with the legacies of its Soviet century and the Stalin factor likewise lingers as new generations of Georgians reevaluate the symbiotic relationship between Soso Jughashvili and his native land Annali della Fondazione who they are since the collapse of the Soviet Union Through an exploration of three towns in the southwest corner of Georgia all of which are situated close to the Turkish frontier Mathijs Pelkmans shows how social and cultural boundaries took on greater importance in the years of transition when such divisions were expected to vanish By tracing the fears longings and disillusionment that border dwellers projected on the Iron Curtain Pelkmans demonstrates how elements of culture formed along and in response to territorial divisions and how these elements became crucial in attempts to rethink the border after its physical rigidities dissolved in the 1990s The new boundary drawing activities had the effect of grounding and reinforcing Soviet constructions of identity even though they were part of the process of overcoming and dismissing the past Ultimately Pelkmans finds that the opening of the border paradoxically inspired a newfound appreciation for the previously despised Iron Curtain as something that had provided protection and was still worth defending
