Rural Studies In Britain And France:

Rural Studies in Britain and France Philip Lowe, Maryvonne Bodiguel, 1990 Film and Community in Britain and France Margaret Butler, 2004-08-27 Relations between France and Britain have always been uneasy and ambivalent But in cinema WWII changed all that for a time Although the two countries wartime fortunes differed post war both were busy reintegrating returning servicemen and prisoners of war and accommodating the changed aspirations of women Margaret Butler examines these subjects and more in her comparative study of the cinemas of Britain and France during and after the war Using the concept of continuity she shows how cinema dealt directly with ideas of belonging and alienation inclusion and exclusion unity and division She also draws on contemporary debates and offers a perceptive reading of key films to reveal the meaning and appeal of French classics like Les Enfants du Paradis and notable British productions like Waterloo Road

Rural Transformations and Rural Policies in the US and UK Mark Shucksmith, David L. Brown, Sally Shortall, Jo Vergunst, Mildred E. Warner, 2012-02-27 This book examines the transformations of rural society and economy in the UK and US during the last half century and explores the significance of these trends and changes for community sustainability quality of life and the environment While both the UK and US are highly urbanised rural people and communities continue to contribute to national identity economic development and social solidarity as well as to environmental quality Contributors explore the degree to which rural people exhibit agency and autonomy rather than being merely passive in the face of exogenous forces of change in a globalised world They also illuminate very different policy approaches to rural policy in two advanced capitalist societies often thought to be similar and show how fundamental differences in rural policy approaches of the US and the UK are based on different social ideologies and values that shape policies relating to rural areas This book will help to stimulate transatlantic dialogue on rural scholarship and rural policy analysis while also contributing to theory and policy development It will be of interest to researchers students and everyone involved in the policy and practice of rural development

Philosophy and Geography II Andrew Light, Jonathan M. Smith, 1998 The future of public space is uncertain Although public spaces have become increasingly shabby and crowded novel alternatives have appeared in the form of fantastic semi public pleasure grounds developed by well heeled crowd pleasing entrepreneurs and devoted to profit consumption and self indulgence Philosophers and geographers have converged on the topic of public space fascinated and in many ways alarmed by fundamental changes in the way post industrial societies produce space for public use and in the way citizens of these same societies perceive and constitute themselves as a public The contributors to this volume advance this inquiry making extensive use of political and social theory areas The authors expand on this view of rural Europe and place its significance within the broader field of rural studies

Britain's rural Muslims Sarah Hackett, 2020-06-06 Immigration has long been associated with the urban landscape from accounts of inner city racial tension and discrimination during the 1960s and 1970s and studies of minority communities of the 1980s and 1990s to the increased focus on cities amongst contemporary scholars of migration and diaspora Though cities have long provided the geographical frameworks within which a significant share of post war migration has taken place Sarah Hackett argues that there has long existed a rural dimension to Muslim integration in Britain This book offers the first comprehensive study of Muslim migrant integration in rural Britain across the post 1960s period examining the previously unexplored relationship between Muslim integration and rurality by using the county of Wiltshire in the South West of England as a case study Drawing upon a range of archival material and oral histories it challenges the long held assumption that local authorities in more rural areas have been inactive and even disinterested in devising and implementing migration integration and diversity policies and sheds light on smaller and more dispersed Muslim communities that have traditionally been written out of Britain's immigration history

Anthropological Perspectives on Local Development Simone Abram, Jacqueline Waldren, 2003-12-16 This collection examines the conflicts and realities of development at a local empirical level It provides a series of case studies which illuminate the attitudes and actions of all of those involved in local development schemes The material is drawn from Southern and Eastern Europe Asia and Africa All the contributors use rigorous anthropological methods of analysis to shed light on the place of feelings of personal sentiment and identity in reactions to planned development schemes In a world where direct action and public protest are routine responses to local development schemes they show how protesters developers and politicians often hold very different fundamental views about the environment society government and development which go beyond partisan economic and political interests organisations and groups in the environmental field in responding to the challenge of European integration Europe's Green Ring Leo Granberg,Imre Kovách,2017-07-05 Around the fringe of Europe lies a green ring of countries which have followed different pathways into modernity from the industrial core of the continent and have until recently been characterized by a strong agrarian presence in their politics economy and culture This book brings together case studies from both the post socialist countries and EU member states which make up the green ring to compare experiences of rural and agricultural groups It provides a fascinating opportunity to identify similarities and contrasts in the ways in which these countries have managed their rural areas when faced with the challenges set by industrialization political integration and globalization The book focuses on agrarian transformation as de and sometimes re peasantization referring to the changing economic social cultural and political positions of farmers and food production workers It also problematizes the standard rural models and opens up discussion of the problems these models pose for the farmers of the green ring countries

Reconstituting Rurality Jonathan Murdoch,Terry Marsden,2013-10-11 The second in the Restructuring Rural Areas series this work presents an examination of the way in which the rural and the concept of rurality is being reconstructed within urban regions It argues that the rural is not a fixed category but the outcome of political economic and socio cultural pressures These pressures are exacerbated in southeast England an area dominated by London and the patterns of growth associated with that city Through close analysis of key land development processes and a series of village studies the authors give a forceful demonstration of the way in which certain social groups are becoming increasingly influential in determining the material and social shape of rural areas in the United Kingdom The formation of class identity it is argued is closely bound up with the formation of certain local spaces class and space must be considered as combined elements in the development of rural locales To illustrate this the authors document in detail the means by which dominant groups represent themselves within the development process and show how the exclusion of certain kinds of development leads to the exclusion of certain social groups

Religion in English Everyday Life Timothy Jenkins,1999 After an ethnographic appraisal of the place of religious practices Jenkins theology Cambridge U examines three contemporary

Reclaiming English Kinship Mary Bouquet,1993 Mary Bouquet argues that while writing off the idea of kinship in English culture anthropologists of the British school absorbed the notion of pedigree into their analysis it runs through the genealogical method which they used to conceptualise the organisation of other societies She shows how British anthropological ideas about other cultures thus have their own cultural specificity A brief comparison with the French ethnological approach to kinship indicates some differences of emphasis Human Rights for Children and Youth Magali Reis,Marcelo S. Isidório,2019-10-07 This volume written by experts in the field across 3 different continents explores the condition of childhood with a particular focus on the fundamental rights of children and young people and how this translates into living conditions in different socio cultural realities
