Agricultural Economics Research, 1981. Integrated Environmental Modelling: Design and Tools F.M. Brouwer, 2012-12-06. In the mid 1980s while a student at the department of econometrics at the Free University I became an assistant at the Institute for Environmental Studies IvM of this university. My main task was assisting with the computational aspects of the project: an integrated environmental model: a case study in the Markiezaat area. A number of methodological problems were formulated during the operationalization phase of that project such as the need to develop systematically an integrated model design and to look for means of handling different sources of information. Prof. Dr. P. Nijkamp of the Department of Regional Economics and Drs. L. Hordijk at that time leader of the economic technological research group at the IvM therefore initiated a project proposal to be supported by the Netherlands Organisation for the Advancement of Pure Research ZWO. Meanwhile I became an assistant to Prof. Dr. P. Nijkamp surveying qualitative statistical developments in the field of regional inequality analysis. This inventory has been shown to be a relevant basis for the preparation of this book. In spring 1982 I began working at IvM on the above project on integrated environmental modelling.

Rural Resource Development M. C. Whitby, K. G. Willis, 2017-09-05. Originally published in 1978. The question of how best to use our various resources has become one of crucial importance as we face today's many economic problems. In this second edition the authors are concerned with decisions on rural issues in a climate of financial cut backs which emphasise the need for identifying the most efficient public choices. With a refreshing directness they consider immediate problems of rural resources such as the growth of the public sector, fluctuating commodity prices, dislocation in the land market, pollution, recreation pressure and modernisation of an outdated settlement structure. In Part one chapters deal in turn with the economics of public decisions, the application of quantitative models in the development context, the planning system as it applies to rural areas and the problems of conserving the rural environment. Part two deals with the individual topics: land use and conversion to other uses, recreational use of the countryside, conservation, economics, rural population, the labour market and farm policies, rural transport and rural settlement. The authors conclude with an examination of the Cow Green Reservoir as a case study of a rural public issue which had to be resolved. This revised and considerably expanded edition focusses specifically on the economic aspects of the subject and provides further illustrations, diagrams and examples.
