Rural Hausa A Village And A Setting:

Rural Hausa Polly Hill, 1972-03-16 Study with special reference to the village of Batagarawa Muslim Modernity in Postcolonial Nigeria Ousmane Kane, 2003-01-01 This book deals with Muslim modernity in a country with the largest single Muslim population in Sub Saharan Africa It provides much needed new grounds for comparative study Until now virtually all socio anthropological works about any specific African country are either authored by nationals of that country or by Western scholars This book is an exception because its author is an Islamicist and a social scientist from Senegal trained in the French social science tradition Therefore his work does offer an original perspective in the study of Nigeria In addition the study of Islam south of the Sahara has so far focused on Sufi orders which form the mainstream of Islam but which by no means covers the whole Islamic field so called Islamic fundamentalist movements are also part of the religious landscape This book is devoted to the study of the largest single Muslim fundamentalist organization in postcolonial Sub Saharan Africa the Society for the Removal of Innovation and Reinstatement of Tradition Plantation Slavery in the Sokoto Caliphate Mohammed Bashir Salau, 2018 A work of synthesis on plantation slavery in nineteenth century Sokoto caliphate engaging with major debates on internal African slavery on the meaning of the term plantation and on comparative slavery

Entrepreneurship in Africa Moses E. Ochonu, 2018-02-05 A tapestry of innovation ideas and commerce Africa and its entrepreneurial hubs are deeply connected to those of the past Moses E Ochonu and an international group of contributors explores the lived experiences of African innovators who have created value for themselves and their communities Profiles of vendors farmers craftspeople healers spiritual consultants warriors musicians technological innovators political mobilizers and laborers featured in this volume show African models of entrepreneurship in action As a whole the essays consider the history of entrepreneurship in Africa illustrating its multiple origins and showing how it differs from the Western capitalist experience As they establish historical patterns of business creativity these explorations open new avenues for understanding indigenous enterprise and homegrown commerce and their relationship to social economic and political debates in Africa today Telling Stories, Making Histories Mary Wren Bivins, 2007-03-30 Through reconstruction of oral testimony folk stories and poetry the true history of Hausa women and their reception of Islam's vision of Muslim in Western Africa have been uncovered Mary Wren Bivins is the first author to locate and examine the oral texts of the 19th century Hausa women and challenge the written documentation of the Sokoto Caliphate The personal narratives and folk stories reveal the importance of illiterate non elite women to the history of jihad and the assimilation of normative Islam in rural Hausaland The captivating lives of the Hausa are captured shedding light on their ordinary existence as wives mothers and providers for their family on the eve of European colonial conquest Development: Doctrines of development Stuart Corbridge, 2000 Brings together more than one hundred articles dealing with the discipline of development in all its diversity Key topics include the transformation of peasant economies agribusiness rural urban relations markets industrialization workers trade aid and structural adjustment A unique set in its comprehensiveness and diversity it also considers four key challenges for development theory and practice relating to capabilities ethics sustainability and regulation African Food Systems in Crisis Rebecca Huss-Ashmore, Solomon H Katz, 2019-07-19 Originally published in 1991 Commissioned by the Task Force on African Famine of the American Anthropological Association this the second part of a project examining the causes of food system failure in Africa and the effects of attempts to remedy the situation It evaluates the often retrogressive results of foreign aid to African nations and offers an anthropological perspective on how to reverse this trend The contributors emphasize integrating all development programs with the regional customs and traditions already in place that have thus far allowed its people to cope with food and water shortages In the past various strategies have failed due to misunderstandings and incorrect assumptions concerning gender roles food consumption habits social relations kinship networks land use and government function New understanding of the culture must be complemented with multifaceted programs incorporating education a concern for grass roots opinion and control attention to production and consumption patterns and various forms of broad spectrum integrated development The uniqueness research is recommended for all who are concerned about worldwide malnutrition and those who understand the need to recognize local traditions as resources that must be included in any successful development program Agricultural Land Redistribution and Land Administration in Sub-Saharan Africa Frank F. K. Byamugisha, 2014-05-05 Agricultural Land Redistribution and Land Administration in Sub-Saharan Africa Case Studies of Recent Reforms focuses on how to undertake land reforms in Sub-Saharan Africa but with relevant lessons for other developing countries It provides details with case studies on how reforms were undertaken to address a pressing and controversial development challenge in Africa land ownership inequality and an intransigent development issue inefficiency and corruption in land administration An equally important contribution of the book is assessing reforms and highlighting valuable lessons for other countries contemplating reforms The six case studies collectively cover two main areas of land governance reforms in redistributing agricultural land and reforms in land administration The first two case studies discuss reforms in redistributing agricultural land in Malawi and South Africa part of the southern Africa region where land ownership inequalities rival those in Latin America The remaining case studies four in number are focused on addressing corruption and inefficiency in land administration in a variety of contexts of governance including stable and post conflict countries The case studies cover Decentralizing land administration with demonstrations from Uganda Ethiopia Tanzania and Ghana Developing post conflict land administration systems with examples from Liberia and Rwanda Re engineering and computerizing land information systems with examples from Ghana and Uganda and Improving management of government land through land inventories with examples drawn from Ghana and Uganda The common elements between sometimes disparate experiences provide lessons of relevance to African and other developing countries contemplating similar reforms The rigorous analysis and yet down to earth lessons of experience are a reflection of the authors deep global experience underpinned by personal participation in the reforms covered by the book This volume will be of interest to a wide audience including land specialists and practitioners African policy makers experts and managers in the international development community and the academia Tropical Exports and Economic Development Barbara Ingham,1981-06-18

Indigenous Agricultural Revolution Paul Richards,2023-07-26 Originally published in 1985 this book argues forcefully and practically for new relationship between science and the small farmer It advocates scientific research seeking out changes which are already taking place within the smallholder farming sector and building on local initiatives Drawing on his experience of West Africa the author demonstrates that many of the most successful innovations in food crop production during the 20th century have indigenous roots and that there should therefore be less emphasis on teaching farmers how to farm and more emphasis on how to foster and support local adaptation and inventiveness This book will be of interest to students of agriculture environmental studies and rural development as well as those working with relief and development agencies
