Vallega,2009-03-18 Sense and Finitude interrogates one of continental philosophy s central insights the temporality or finitude of philosophical thought Juxtaposing the views of such philosophers as Plato Heidegger Walter Benjamin Gadamer and Derrida on art poetry and non Western cultures with the insights of those very artists poets and cultures interpreted by them Alejandro A Vallega elucidates a certain sensibility fundamental to philosophical thought once it has come face to face with its concrete finitude in the sense that philosophical ideas are always exposed to interpretation transformation and loss By addressing philosophy s exposure to experience beyond its own delimitations Vallega shows how such investigations can enrich the philosophical enterprise England's Folk Revival and the Problem of

Identity in Traditional Music Joseph Williams, 2022-08-12 Establishing an intersection between the fields of traditional music studies English folk music history and the philosophy of Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari this book responds to the problematic emphasis on cultural identity in the way traditional music is understood and valued Williams locates the roots of contemporary definitions of traditional music including UNESCO designated intangible cultural heritage in the theory of English folk music developed in 1907 by Cecil Sharp Through a combination of Deleuzian philosophical analysis and historical revision of England's folk revival of the Victorian and Edwardian eras Williams makes a compelling argument that identity is a restrictive ideology that runs counter to the material processes of traditional music's production Williams reimagines Sharp's appropriation of Darwinian evolutionary concepts asking what it would mean today to say that traditional music evolves in light of recent advances in evolutionary theory The book ultimately advances a concept of traditional music that eschews the term's long standing ontological and axiological foundations in the principle of identity For scholars and graduate students in musicology cultural studies and ethnomusicology the book is an ambitious and provocative challenge to entrenched habits of thought in the study of traditional music and the historiography of England's folk revival

The Step Back David Wood, 2012-02-01 This original contribution to the ethical and political significance of philosophy addresses a number of major themes identity violence the erotic freedom responsibility religious belief globalization and critically engages with the work of Kierkegaard Wittgenstein Heidegger Derrida and Levinas It promotes a unique blend of deconstructive critique and a certain English skepticism leading to the affirmation of a negative capability a patience and vigilance in the face of both human folly and philosophy's own homegrown pathologies The author argues for the extension of our sense of openness and responsibility to animal life and indeed life in general and not just to the human

Misfit Forms Lorri G. Nandrea, 2015-01-02 The complicated junctions negotiated by the novel during the eighteenth century reveal not only achievements but also exclusions Misfit Forms offers a speculative reconstruction of roads less traveled What if typographical emphasis and its associated transmission of sensuality and feeling had not lost out to transparent typography and its paradigms of sympathetic identification What was truncated when cumulative narrative structures were declared primitive in relation to the unified teleological plot What visions of the novel's value as an arena for experience were sidelined when novel reading was linked to epistemological gain Reading novels by Sterne Charlotte Bronte Defoe Gaskell Hardy and Woolf in tandem with less known works Nandrea illuminates the modes and techniques that did not become mainstream Following Deleuze Nandrea traces the dynamic repetitions of these junctures in the work of later writers Far from showing the eclipse of primitive modes such moments of convergence allow us to imagine other possibilities for the novel's trajectory

Immanent Frames John Caruana, Mark Cauchi, 2018-05-31 Explores a growing number of films and filmmakers that challenge the strict boundaries between belief and unbelief For some time now thinkers across the humanities and social sciences have increasingly called into question the once dominant view of the relationship between modernity and secularism prompting some to speak of a postsecular turn Until now film studies has largely been silent about this development even though cinema itself has been a major vehicle for such reflection This fact became inescapable in 2011 when Terrence Malick's The Tree of Life and Lars von Trier's Melancholia were released within days of each other While these two audacious and controversial films present seemingly opposite perspectives the former a thoughtful meditation on faith the latter a portrayal of nontriumphalist atheism together they raise critical questions about transcendence and immanence in modern life These films are however only the most conspicuous of a growing body of works that call forth similar and related questions what this collection aptly calls postsecular cinema Taking the nearly simultaneous release of The Tree of Life and Melancholia as its starting point and framing device this pioneering collection sets out to establish the idea of postsecular cinema as a distinct body of films and a viable critical category Adopting a film philosophy approach one group of essays examines Malick's and von Trier's films while another looks at works by Chantal

Akerman Denys Arcand the Dardenne brothers and John Michael McDonagh among others The volume closes with two important interviews with Luc Dardenne and Jean Luc Nancy that invite us to reflect more deeply on some of the central concerns of postsecular cinema
