something larger than ourselves The Burning Library Geordie Williamson,2012-10-24 Alarmed by the increasingly marginal status of Australian literature in the academy Williamson has set out to reintroduce us to those key writers whose works we may have forgotten or missed altogether His focus is on fiction that gives pleasure and he is ardent in defence of books that for whatever reason sit uneasily in the present moment Lost and Found Pleunie Nicole Ruiters,2025-09-29 She was stranded He was grieving Neither expected to fall When Jess Taylor s car breaks down in the middle of nowhere she s just looking for help Instead she crashes into Joe Miller a brooding small town handyman fresh off a loss that gutted him Their connection is reluctant electric and complicated Just as Jess starts to find comfort in Wookleberry a dark secret surfaces Joe s grandmother didn t die of old age As love grows and danger closes in Jess and Joe must face the truth about the past each other and what it really means to come home Lost and Found Samantha Evans,2016-06-28 Embracing Prodigals John Sanders,2020-07-31 Do you wonder why some people you know hold theological and political views that blow your mind but they find quite reasonable Today Christians are at odds over how to understand the Bible atonement and salvation of non Christians They are also polarized over issues such as same gender marriage income inequality and health care Two social science models Nurturant and Authoritative explain this divide Values are at the heart of our disagreements Nurturants prize empathy and cooperation while Authoritatives cherish obedience to law and order Each group has distinct core values and these lead them to embrace different theological moral and political views This book explains the divide and makes the case that Jesus embodied the Nurturant way of life He modeled empathy grace forgiveness and care for those beyond his own tribe The Nurturant and Authoritative approaches have competed for thousands of years but contemporary research shows that the Nurturant way of life produces better mental and spiritual health as well as superior communities in which to live More Cadillac V-16s Lost and Found Christopher W.
