Mediation and Children's Reading Anne Marie Hagen,2022-03-29 This collection of essays explores the cultural significance of children's reading by analyzing a series of Anglo American case studies from the eighteenth century to the present Marked by historical continuity and technological change children's reading proves to be a phenomenon with broad influence one that shapes both the development of individual readers and wider social values The essays in this volume capture such complexity by invoking the conception of mediation to approach children's reading as a site of interaction among individual people material texts and institutional networks Featuring a range of scholarly perspectives from the disciplines of literature education graphic design and library and information science this collection uncovers both the intricacies and wider stakes of children's reading The books public programs and archives that focus explicitly on children's interests and needs are powerful arenas that give expression to the key ideological investments of a culture The Oxford Companion to Children's Literature Daniel Hahn,2015-03-26 The last thirty years have witnessed one of the most fertile periods in the history of children's books the flowering of imaginative illustration and writing the Harry Potter phenomenon the rise of young adult and crossover fiction and books that tackle extraordinarily difficult subjects The Oxford Companion to Children's Literature provides an indispensable and fascinating reference guide to the world of children's literature. Its 3,500 entries cover every genre from fairy tales to chapbooks, school stories to science fiction, comics to children's hymns. Originally published in 1983, the Companion has been comprehensively revised and updated by Daniel Hahn. Over 900 new entries bring the book right up to date. A whole generation of new authors and illustrators are showcased with books like Dogger, The Hunger Games, and Twilight making their first appearance. There are articles on developments such as manga, fan fiction, and non-print publishing, and there is additional information on prizes and prizewinners. This accessible A to Z is the first place to look for information about the authors, illustrators, printers, publishers, educationalists, and others who have influenced the development of children's literature, as well as the stories and characters at their centre. Written both to entertain and to instruct, the highly acclaimed Oxford Companion to Children's Literature is a reference work that no one interested in the world of children's books should be without.

Maisy Goes to the Eye Doctor Lucy Cousins, 2024-05-07. Come along with Maisy for her first ever eye test in a delightful story sure to help make this a rosy experience for little patients. When Maisy's friend Ella has trouble seeing numbers on the board at preschool, the two go together to Dr. Flamingo, the optometrist's office, to have their eyes tested. Pirate Maisy has fun wearing an eyepatch and naming all the things she can see in a picture on the wall. But when it's Ella's turn, everything inside the picture looks blurry. Oh dear! Luckily, Dr. Flamingo is there to take care of her with a special machine that looks inside her eyes and some big funny glasses with dials that let Ella see everything clearly. Best of all, she gets to pick out some yellow-framed glasses, and Maisy finds some snazzy red sunglasses of her own. With Lucy Cousins's trademark brilliant colors and cheery characters, this twenty-third First Experiences story is ideal for reassuring little ones ahead of their first visit to the eye doctor. School Library Journal, 2010. Poor People and Library Services

Karen M. Venturella, 2015-11-16. In 1996, nearly 40 million United States citizens were reported to be living in poverty. This enormous number, set in conjunction with the rapid growth in demand for more information technology, presents librarians with a wrenching dilemma: how to maintain a modern facility while increasing services to the economically disadvantaged. Karen Venturella has gathered a diverse group of librarians and facilitators, including Khafre Abif, head of Children's Services for the Mount Vernon Public Library in New York; Wizard Marks, who directs the Chicago Lake Security Center in its mission to improve the area; Lillian Marrero, who has concentrated on providing services to the Spanish-speaking population; Kathleen de la Pena McCook, director of the School of Library and Information Science at the University of South Florida; and 15 others to find strategies for dealing with the current crisis of disparity. These writers address both the theoretical issues of ensuring access to information regardless of ability to pay and the practical means for meeting the needs of low-income populations. Appendices include the ALA's Policy on Library Services to Poor People, The Library Bill of Rights, and a listing of poverty-related organizations. Maisy Learns to Swim Lucy Cousins, 2015-02-10.
