Security, Arms Control, and Conflict Reduction in East Asia and the Pacific, 1993-07-30 This is the most comprehensive bibliography to date on the vast English language literature covering the myriad aspects of peace and security issues in the East Asia Pacific region McClean contacted 150 key research institutions and publishers around the world for information about the most significant books articles dissertations and official documents on international and intra state security arms control conflict avoiding diplomacy and militarization in the area He has selectively annotated 12 645 cross referenced entries and organized them into 27 sub regional and country chapters including two particularly extensive chapters on Japan and China and two further chapters on relations between Australia New Zealand and the United States and on U S and Soviet policy Vietnamese Foreign Policy in Transition Ramses Amer, 1999 This book studies Vietnam s emergence as a major actor in Southeast Asian and global affairs It focuses its analysis primarily on the period since 1995 when Vietnam became the seventh member of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN The analysis considers the impact of the Asian financial crisis on Vietnam The contributors explore the sea change in Vietnamese foreign policy that emerged in the late 1980s and early 1990s as Vietnam moved from dependency on the Soviet Union to a more balanced and multilateral set of external relations

Pacific Affairs, 1988 Proceedings in Print, 1987 Asian Bibliography, 1988 The Stockholm Journal of East Asian Studies, 1990 Pacific Research, 1990 The Racial Logic of Politics Thomas P. Kim, 2007 As he systemically studies the barriers that Asian Americans face in the electoral and legislative processes Thomas Kim shows how racism is embedded in America s two party political system Here Kim examines the institutional barriers that Asian Americans face in the electoral and legislative processes Utilizing approaches from ethnic studies and political science including rational choice theory he demonstrates how the political logic of two party competition actually works against Asian American political interests According to Kim political party leaders recognize that Asian Americans are tagged with ethnic markers that label them as immutably foreign and as such parties cannot afford to be too closely associated with racialized Asian Americans In publicly repudiating Asian American efforts to gain political power Kim asserts party elites are making rational strategic calculations Although other commentators have blamed the diversity of the Asian American population for its lack of political success Kim argues convincingly that race itself is the chief barrier to political participation and it will not be overcome simply by electing or appointing more Asian Americans to political office

Glass Ceilings and Asian Americans Deborah Woo, 2000 Throughout the history of the United States fluctuations in cultural diversity immigration and ethnic group status have been closely linked to shifts in the economy and labor market Over three decades after the beginning of the civil rights movement and in the midst of significant socioeconomic change at the end of this century scholars search for new ways to describe the persistent roadblocks to upward mobility that women and people of color still encounter in the workforce In Glass Ceilings and Asian Americans Deborah Woo analyzes current scholarship and controversies on the glass ceiling and labor market discrimination in conjunction with the specific labor histories of Asian American ethnic groups She then presents unique in depth studies of two current sites a high tech firm and higher education to argue that a glass ceiling does in fact exist for Asian Americans both according to quantifiable data and to Asian American workers own perceptions of their workplace experiences Woo s studies make an important contribution to understanding the increasingly complex and subtle interactions between ethnicity and organizational cultures in today s economic institutions and labor markets Third World Affairs ,1988 A Korean Confucian Encounter with the
