and Form Perception: Straddling the Boundary Galina V. Paramei, Cees van Leeuwen, 2016-05-31 Starting from psychophysics over the last 50 years most progress in unravelling the mechanisms of color vision has been made through the study of single cell responses mainly in LGN and striate cortex A similar development in the study of form perception may seem to be underway centred on the study of temporal cortex However because of the combinatorial characteristics of form perception we are also observing the opposite tendency from single cell activity to population coding and from static receptive field structures to system dynamics and integration and ultimately a synthetic form of psychophysics of color and form perception From single cells to system integration it is this development the present Research Topic wishes to highlight and promote How does this development affect our views on the various attributes of perception In particular we are interested in to what extent evolving knowledge in the field of color perception is relevant within a developing integrative framework of form perception The goal of this Research Topic is to bring together experimental research encompassing both color and form perception For this volume we planned a broad scope of topics on color in complex scenes color and form as well as dynamic aspects of form perception We expect that the Research Topic will be attractive to the community of researchers whose work straddles the boundary between the two visual perception fields as well as to the wider community interested in integrative systems neuroscience

The Energetic Line in Figure Drawing Alon Bement, 2009-04-23 Well crafted and class tested this guide to figure drawing features a unique teaching method. It focuses on learning to draw complete figures prior to the study of individual components and it stresses action figures rather than the customary static examples favored by most drawing and anatomy texts. Employing more text than typical art instruction books, it presents thirty figure drawing lessons and fifty six drawings and figures. Each lesson includes detailed instructions on anatomical drawing accompanied by visual examples of strokes, boxes and measurements. Author Alon Bement taught art instruction to future art teachers at Columbia University and later founded the prestigious Maryland Institute of Art. His students included Georgia O'Keeffe who regarded him as a mentor and major influence. Bement's nontraditional approach offers students at all levels an excellent opportunity to build their visual acuity and technical skills

ART THERAPY WITH CHRONIC PHYSICALLY ILL ADOLESCENTS: Exploring the Effectiveness of Medical Art Therapy as a Complementary Treatment Ruth R. Luginbuehl-Oelhafen, 2009 Art Therapy with Chronic Physically Ill Adolescents explores the effectiveness of art therapy as a primary intervention with an adolescent population with chronic physical illness. In this particular case with adolescents in chronic renal failure, either on hemodialysis, peritoneal dialysis or after kidney transplantation. The hypothesis is that art therapy 1 facilitates expression of emotions through artwork, ideally including verbal expression 2 enhances self-esteem and identity 3 helps them cope with their chronic physical illness and 4 finally offers an opportunity to vent anger and frustration, catharsis. By getting a safe place to explore issues related not only to the developmental stage but also to the conditions of chronic physical illness, these teenagers may begin to discover their individual strengths through art.

therapy rather than dwell primarily on their individual weaknesses In essence the book will explore whether art therapy can be a means by which this population could be helped to accept and integrate their chronic physical conditions into their lives and to find an appropriate place in our society In addition the book will investigate whether art therapy could become a sanctuary one in which the patient is allowed to keep control to make his own decisions and to explore and develop a sense of freedom in an overwhelming controlling environment Consisting of four chapters Chapter 1 provides an in depth perspective on literature review and adolescence as a developmental stage The psychological impact of chronic physical illness in adolescence creativity and art therapy medical art therapy and the creative process is discussed Chapter 2 studies methodology independent variables settings procedures materials used and the gathering of data Chapter 3 addresses case histories their artwork the short term treatment group and the long term treatment group Seven clients and examples of their artwork are presented Chapter 4 discusses results conclusions and ideas for further studies The Art of Antiquity
