A Catalogue of the Manuscripts in the Library of the Hunterian Museum in the University of Glasgow Hunterian Museum (University of Glasgow). Library, John Young, Patrick Henderson Aitken, 1908 American Printer and Bookmaker, 1916 The Expert versus the Object Ronald D. Spencer, 2004-04-01 The authenticity of visual art has always commanded the attention of experts dealers collectors and the art minded public Is it real or original is a way of asking what am I buying What do I own What am I looking at And today more sophisticated questions are being asked How is authenticity determined and what weight does this determination have in court This book of essays proposes to answer those questions Three lines of inquiry are basic to determining authenticity a connoisseur's evaluation historical documentation or provenance and scientific testing A connoisseur is an expert who evaluates the rightness of a work based on much careful scrutiny of many works by an artist and familiarity with that artist's usual manner of working with materials In determining provenance a researcher traces the physical object from the artist through a chain of ownership to the present owner simple enough in concept though it assumes that the documentation is not faked or inaccurate The goal is to ensure that the object is the same one that left the artist's hand. Scientific testing, although sometimes useful, is often longer on promise than result. Dating paint or wood samples, for instance, can show that a painting was made in Rembrandt's lifetime but it cannot prove that it is by Rembrandt's hand. If expert opinion is divided and large sums of money are involved, a dispute over authenticity may end up in a court of law where evaluation of expert opinion evidence can be problematic. The essays in this book clarify the nature of the methods outlined above and explain, based on case law, the present status of authentication issues in court. Contributors include experts from Christie's, London, Sotheby's, New York, and the former director of the Frick Collection, as well as leading art historians and art dealers, an art conservator, a forensic graphologist, a philanthropist and collector, and a specialist in French art law. Their collective knowledge on issues of authenticity will be invaluable for anyone interested in the world of visual art.

De Gestis Giraldi Jacob Currie, T. M. Charles-Edwards, Paul Russell, 2024

De gestis Giraldi is a narrative of the deeds of Gerald of Wales c. 1146–1223, written in the third person but actually by Gerald himself and framed as the biography of a bishop, although Gerald never became a bishop. Gerald was born in south west Wales of mixed Norman and Welsh descent and educated at Gloucester and in Paris. He worked for Henry II and Richard I, by whom he was valued as an intermediary between the king and Gerald's relations, who included the leading Welsh king Rhys ap Iffrudd and many of the first English settlers in Ireland. When elected bishop of St David's, Gerald was sent by his fellow canons to Rome to secure his own consecration and metropolitan status for St David's; ultimately both cases failed, defeated by the combined power and resources of the English state and church. Near the beginning of this final part, the single MS breaks off, but the chapter headings show that much of the substance is preserved in another work by Gerald. His career spanned Wales, Ireland, and England, Paris, and Rome, and De gestis Giraldi offers a vivid and personal view of them all. This volume has been prepared from a critical study of the extant manuscript and features an accompanying English translation. The edition supports the translation and text with an authoritative introduction, extensive historical notes, and critical study of the work.
