Losing Innocence:

Tragic Humanity and Hope Pius Ojara SJ, 2007-09-01 With insights into the thought of Gabriel Marcel Tragic Humanity and Hope recognizes that in our age scientific knowing is becoming a dominant form of knowledge The leadership influence growth and gravitational center of human existence depend it seems on scientific knowledge As a result we live in an information age that prizes production and immediate satisfaction but devalues the cultivation of wisdom We risk diminishing the significance of sapiential knowing to deal with the immensely complex and intricate domains of human relationality Furthermore inquiry into moral discernment methods expands becoming more diverse yet scholarly conversations that engage the vital exigencies as founding moral sensibility seem noticeably insufficient Tragic Humanity and Hope strives to overcome this lack But Ojara also seeks ethical groundings that exceed the language of pragmatic utility and aesthetic preference Foundations of morality cannot exclude questions of the common good and shared moral obligations that free people to reach out to one another with hopes and memories that endow life with shared meaning Through continuity and cohesion that the interlacing of scientific sapiential and moral knowing bring life becomes a marvelous expression of light joy and fervor

Relationship Morality James Kellenberger, 2010-11-01

Critical Practice Martin McQuillan, 2019-02-21 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open Access programme and is available on www.bloomsburycollections.com What is the relationship between theory and practice in the creative arts today In Critical Practice Martin McQuillan offers a critical interrogation of the idea of practice led research He goes beyond the recent vocabulary of research management to consider the more interesting question of the emergence of a cultural space in which philosophy theory history and practice are becoming indistinguishable McQuillan considers the work of a number of writers and thinkers who cross the divide between theoretical and creative practice including Alain Badiou and Terry Eagleton and the longer tradition of theory writing that runs through the work of H l ne Cixous Roland Barthes and Louis Althusser His aim is to elucidate the contemporary ramifications of a relationship that has been contested throughout the long history of philosophy from Plato s dialogues to Derrida s Envois

Reflections on Ethics and Responsibility Zachary J. Goldberg, 2017-02-06 The original essays in this book address the influential writings of Peter A French on the nature of responsibility ethics and moral practices French s contributions to a wide spectrum of philosophical discussions have made him a dominant figure in the fields of normative ethics meta ethics applied ethics as well as legal and political philosophy Many of French s deepest insights come from identifying and exploring the scope and nature of moral responsibility and human agency as they appear in actual events real social and cultural practices as well as in literature and film This immediacy renders French s scholarship vital and accessible to a wide variety of audiences The authors recognized for their own contributions to the understanding of the nature of morality and moral practices offer new and unique positions while exploring expanding and responding to those of French The final chapter is written by French in which he provides both new philosophical insight as well as some reflection on his own work and its influence This book will appeal to philosophers as well as advanced students and researchers in the humanities social sciences law and political science

Losing Ground Jione Havea, 2022-07-07 The Ruth narrative opens with a climate crisis a famine pushed a family to migrate and addresses some of the critical concerns for refugees food security home land inheritance Around those concerns Losing Ground Reading Ruth in the Pacific offers a collection of bible studies from the Pacific that interweave the climate pandemic with the interests and wisdoms of Pasifika natives Weaving Ruth's story together with the stories of those who as Pacific islanders on the frontline of a climate catastrophe are forced to leave their homes because of rising sea levels Pasifika bible scholar Jione Havea offers a powerful and potent contribution which refuses to pretend scripture can be read separately from the every day realities of a climate emergency

Alex and the Hobo José Inez Taylor, James M. Taggart, 2010-01-01 When a ten year old boy befriends a mysterious hobo in his southern Colorado hometown in the early 1940s he learns about evil in his community and takes his first steps toward manhood by attempting to protect his new friend from corrupt officials Though a fictional story Alex and the Hobo is written out of the life experiences of its author Jos Inez Joe Taylor and it realistically portrays a boy's coming of age as a Spanish speaking man who must carve out an honorable place for himself in a class stratified and Anglo dominated society In this innovative ethnography anthropologist James Taggart collaborates with Joe Taylor to explore how Alex and the Hobo sprang from Taylor's life experiences and how it presents an insider's view of Mexicano culture and its constructions of manhood They frame the story included in its entirety with chapters that discuss how it encapsulates notions that Taylor learned from the Chicano movement the farmworkers union his community his father his mother and his religion Taggart gives the ethnography a solid theoretical underpinning by discussing how the story and Taylor's account of how he created it represent an act of resistance to the class system that Taylor perceives as destroying his native culture
