Loss Of A Life Partner Narratives Of The Bereaved:

The Loss of a Life Partner Carolyn Ambler Walter, 2003-03-05 Although there is extensive research on the loss of a spouse predominantly focusing on the experiences of widows much less attention is paid to bereaved partners not married to their significant other whether or not the partners are of the same sex This first of its kind work explores both socially sanctioned and disenfranchised grief highlighting similarities and differences Combining a discussion of various theories of grief with personal narratives of grieving men and women drawn from numerous interviews and detailed case study analysis Carolyn Ambler Walter has produced a penetrating examination of the bereavement experiences of partners in varying types of relationships She views narratives of widows widowers and bereaved domestic gay and lesbian partners from a postmodern perspective that breaks away from the traditional belief that the living must detach themselves from the dead in order to move on with their lives Instead building on the works of postmodern grief theorists such as Klass Silverman and Nickman Walter views ongoing bonds with the dead as a resource for enriching functionality in the present and as a key to looking to the future The Loss of a Life Partner Carolyn Ambler Walter, 2003 Through discussions of various theories of grief narratives of the bereaved obtained in interviews with 22 men and women case study analysis and chapter summaries this text integrates the literature about and the bereavement experiences of partners in varying types of relationships

Living Through Loss Nancy R. Hooyman, Betty J. Kramer, Sara Sanders, 2021-08-31 Living Through Loss provides a foundational identification of the many ways in which people experience loss over the life course from childhood to old age It examines the interventions most effective at each phase of life combining theory sound clinical practice and empirical research with insights emerging from powerful accounts of personal experience The authors emphasize that loss and grief are universal yet highly individualized Loss comes in many forms and can include not only a loved one's death but also divorce adoption living with chronic illness caregiving retirement and relocation or being abused assaulted or otherwise traumatized They approach the topic from the perspective of the resilience model which acknowledges people's capacity to find meaning in their losses and integrate grief into their lives The book explores the varying roles of age race culture sexual orientation gender and spirituality in responses to loss Presenting a variety of models approaches and resources Living Through Loss offers invaluable lessons that can be applied in any practice setting by a wide range of human service and health care professionals This second edition features new and expanded content on diversity and trauma including discussions of gun violence police brutality suicide and an added focus on systemic racism Grief and Loss Across the Lifespan, Second Edition Judith L. M. McCoyd, Carolyn Ambler Walter, 2015-09-11 The book addresses grieving patterns and intervention strategies according to the life trajectory and provides clinical intervention tools and strategies for coping according to the developmental stage of an individual It incorporates losses beyond death loss with special focus on losses related to maturational development The second edition reflects new research that has clarified and underscored the value of theories examined in the first edition particularly in the areas of continued bonds disenfranchised grief and ambiguous grief It describes how grieving is influenced by biological responses to stress psychological responses to loss and social norms and support networks publisher The Therapist in Mourning Anne Adelman,Kerry Malawista,2013-06-04 The unexpected loss of a client can be a lonely and isolating experience for therapists While family and friends can ritually mourn the deceased the nature of the therapeutic relationship prohibits therapists from engaging in such activities Practitioners can only share memories of a client in circumscribed ways while respecting the patient s confidentiality Therefore they may find it difficult to discuss the things that made the therapeutic relationship meaningful Similarly when a therapist loses someone in their private lives they are expected to isolate themselves from grief since allowing one s personal life to enter the working relationship can interfere with a client s self discovery and healing For therapists caught between their grief and the empathy they provide for their clients this collection explores the complexity of bereavement within the practice setting It also examines the professional and personal ramifications of death and loss for the practicing clinician Featuring original essays from longstanding practitioners the collection demonstrates the universal experience of bereavement while outlining a theoretical framework for the position of the bereft therapist Essays cover the unexpected death of clients and patient suicide personal loss in a therapist s life the grief of clients who lose a therapist disastrous loss within a community and the grief resulting from professional losses and disruptions The first of its kind this volume gives voice to long suppressed thoughts and emotions enabling psychologists psychiatrists counselors and other mental health specialists to achieve the connection and healing they bring to their own work Family Ties and Aging Ingrid Arnet Connidis,Amanda E. Barnett,2018-10-05 Providing an integrated and thorough representation from current research and contemporary society Family Ties and Aging shows how pressing issues of our time an aging population changing family structures and new patterns of work family balance are negotiated in the family lives of middle aged and older adults Focusing on key questions such as How do current trends and social arrangements affect family relationships and What are the implications of what we know for future research theory practice and policy authors Ingrid Arnet Connidis and Amanda E Barnett explore groups and relationships that are typically overlooked including the unique family situations of older single and childless persons sibling ties older lesbian and gay adults and new forms of intimate relationships The Third Edition is thoroughly updated to include the latest research and theoretical developments recent media coverage of related issues and new information on intimate relationships in later life and elder neglect abuse Handbook of the Sociology of Emotions Jan E. Stets,Jonathan H. Turner,2007-10-10 Since the 1970s the study of emotions moved to the forefront of sociological analysis This book brings the reader up to date on the theory and research that have proliferated in the analysis of human emotions The first section of the book addresses the classification the neurological underpinnings and the effect of gender on emotions The second reviews sociological theories of emotion Section three covers theory and research on specific emotions love envy empathy anger grief etc The final section shows how the study of emotions adds new insight into other subfields of sociology the workplace health and more

The New Senior Man Thelma Reese, Barbara M. Fleisher, 2017-10-06 The New Senior Man Exploring New Horizons New Opportunities fills a gap that is already huge and growing Where do men fit into the astonishing changes in both life expectancy and visibility of the aging boomers among us Unlike women who move into retirement years with a network of friends and intimates cultivated over decades men for the most part do it alone Changes in women's lives and in the culture have brought changes for men who were told to man up since they were toddlers Having faced that challenge throughout their lives it's time now to do it again to see changes in the world around them as opportunities to discover new strengths and passions to make the most of the gift of time With perhaps a third of productive life ahead retirement requires redefinition Where are the role models among the men who at this critical turning point in their lives continue to redefine and reinvent their lives past the time of the proverbial gold watch and a set of golf clubs As pioneers in this rapidly emerging new world the men whose narratives appear in this book are role models for each other and those who follow They seek more than advice about investments and improving their golf strokes Men from all walks of life tell us in their own words how they see the challenges and chances that lie ahead and within themselves and how they are taking full advantage of opportunities that restart living Each chapter presents a topic relevant to this later stage of life memory family dynamics sexual intimacy loss and independence among others Like a conversation among friends the book introduces readers to new ways of looking at the present and the future so that men may cultivate a lifestyle that not only suits them but supports a healthy rewarding and enjoyable reframing of life

Grief and Loss Across the Lifespan Carolyn Ambler Walter, Judith L. M. understanding of grief and loss in modern society Paige E Payne MS MSW LSW Support Services Manager PinnacleHealth Home Care and Hospice Harrisburg PA Grief and Loss Across the Lifespan is unique in its treatment of grieving patterns and intervention strategies for different age groups With this book students and practitioners will learn how grief is influenced by biological responses to stress psychological responses to loss as well as social norms and support networks The authors utilize a developmental framework as each level of development from infancy through old age is addressed in four ways Reviews normal developmental issues abilities and challenges for the age in question Analyzes how individuals of each age cope with serious loss of a significant other and how they may experience life threatening illness themselves Examines how significant others react to and mourn the death of someone in that age range Identifies the normative losses a person is likely to experience and addresses protective and risky ways of coping with those losses The authors review important grief theories such as postmodern and Dual Process Theory and discuss current topics in grief including continuing bonds meaning making ambiguous loss and disenfranchised loss With the help of this book practitioners and students of grief counseling can learn to help patients of all ages understand that loss is at the heart of life and growth Counting Our

Losses Darcy L. Harris,2011-01-19 This text is a valuable resource for clinicians who work with clients dealing with non death nonfinite and ambiguous losses in their lives It explores adjustment to change transition and loss from the perspective of the latest thinking in bereavement theory and research The specific and unique aspects of different types of loss are discussed such as infertility aging chronic illnesses and degenerative conditions divorce and separation immigration adoption loss of beliefs and loss of employment Harris and the contributing authors consider these from an experiential perspective rather than a developmental one in order to focus on the key elements of each loss as it may be experienced at any point in the lifespan Concepts related to adaptation and coping with loss such as resilience hardiness meaning making and the assumptive world transcendence and post traumatic growth are considered as part of the integration of loss into everyday life experience Attachment Narrative Therapy Rudi Dallos,2023-02-01 This textbook provides an up to date guide to the application of Attachment Narrative Therapy ANT a model that combines concepts and techniques from systemic family therapy narrative therapy and theory and attachment theory Edited and with contributions from leading practitioners of ANT this book brings together illustrations of its applications in a variety of clinical settings It offers practical guidance and the latest research from clinicians who are now advancing its application Another important feature is illustration of how practitioners have developed ANT to incorporate the latest ideas and methods from trauma theory and neuro biology It will provide a valuable new resource for practitioners teachers and students of systemic practice family therapy clinical psychology counselling and psychotherapy Living, Loving and Loss Brad DeFord,Richard Gilbert,2016-12-05 One of the unspoken aspects of mourning concerns the ways that loss affects our intimate relationships and our sexual expressiveness This text opens these subjects for conversation with the aim of promoting the trust care and respect that enable us to be vulnerable It purposefully covers a range of topics including 1 the meaning of intimacy and the significance of sexuality providing a basis for the use of these terms throughout the book 2 death grief and differences in sexual orientation including death and intimacy in the lesbian gay bisexual and transgender LGBT community and the losses endured by young people due to gender issues 3 loss of relationship and restoration of intimacy in families including pharmacological effects on the grief processes of widowers grieving a not so loved parent the layered losses of infertility and intimacy and the tolls of war intimacy and sexuality challenges for soldiers and their families 4 adjusting to life s losses associated with aging or illness or infirmity including Alzheimer s and dementia related illnesses physical health losses after 50 and intimacy sex and hospice self determination and dignity at the end of life and 5 religious bases that have shaped our perspectives for understanding intimacy sexuality and healing after loss and which give us hope including the spiritual reflections of a rabbi and a Christian voice in defining what is right Set in a framework that is both psychological and spiritual the well researched contributions are intended to acknowledge these experiences both professionally and personally The book concludes with an extensive bibliography valuable for research and reference This book will be of value in undergraduate and graduate courses on thanatology as well as for anyone interested in knowing more about grief both those currently bereaved and those who wish to support others in mourning The contributors appreciate both the importance of our capacities for intimacy and sexuality and our inhibitions and hesitations in giving voice to our needs and concerns perhaps especially when we are grieving The information and compassionate understanding they provide encourage us to bridge the gap between the secret and the private and to share what is close to our hearts Narrative and Grief Patricia English-Schneider, Deleasa

Randall-Griffiths, 2023-05-15 Grief and loss are fundamental aspects of the human experience Narrative and Grief examines the desire to make sense out of the nonsensical by exploring specific stories of loss and grief spanning from the loss of a parent child or partner loss within larger family systems and ambiguous and anticipatory loss to broader cultural aspects of grief The autoethnographic essays in this book reflect on the unique and individual experiences of each contributor s story Simultaneously these essays reveal that although each grief experience is unique it is also collective evoking broader cultural themes related to loss and grief Scholars of communication sociology and family studies will find this book of particular interest
