My First Eighty Years:

Looking Back at My First Eighty Years Robert A. Potash, 2008-11-26 This volume offers a fascinating impressively detailed account of the professional and personal life of a prominent historian of Latin America It covers his youth contacts with a young Leonard Bernstein and his education at Boston Latin School and Harvard He served in WWII rising from private to master sergeant ending up in a three man military intelligence unit on Okinawa There he held in his hands the first aerial photos of atomic bombed Hiroshima and was an eye witness to the surrender of Japanese holdouts In rising from college instructor to department chair Potash recounts the conflicts and tensions that make up academic life His two year leave with the State Department was a career transforming experience turning him eventually into a best selling author on the the military s role in Argentine politics Potash describes his experiences working with Nazi files as part of an investigating commission created by the Argentine government Known for his expertise Potash is frequently consulted in times of crisis by the Argentine media and his name has become a household word in that country Potash also recalls his courtship and marriage and relationships with his two daughters Readers have dubbed the manuscript hard to put down

My First 80 Years George Brown, 2017-01-27 George Brown wanted to write about his interesting life for his family and friends He loved writing and kept diaries of some of his adventures during his later life In 1970 he helped his wife Nan Brown to write a book about their adventure living in South Georgia in the Antarctic for two and a half years in the mid 1950s The book is entitled Antarctic Housewife George lived in some very diverse places Glasgow Edinburgh was at sea in the British Merchant Navy sailing to Asia Africa and India during the war at thirteen years of age Grytviken South Georgia Alice Springs in Central Australia Queensland Sunshine Coast and Adelaide During his time spent in Alice Springs he worked as the Director for the Royal Flying Doctor service for thirteen years from 1957 when Alice Springs was a very small town and the only communication for people in the outback was a two way radio He and his wife then started the first travel agency in Alice Springs and were able to travel to new destinations together for their business George then began a two way communication business in Alice Springs selling radios phones and equipment for communication in the outback of Australia This was called XLCom He operated this for several years before retiring when he and Nan moved to the Sunshine Coast and lived between Alice Springs and Mooloolaba His daughter Catriona ran the business for them George was involved in the community in Alice Springs for years he started the Alice Springs Pipe Band with friend Ron Ross He also was a lifetime member and past president of Mbantua Rotary Club and was heavily involved in rotary community fund raising events like the Henley on Todd for numerous years George was a member of the Show Society and organized the annual Alice Springs show which was the highlight for families in Central Australia He became involved as a volunteer in the Alice Springs Pony Club when his daughters started riding at a young age George was president of the show Jumping Club and became a show jump course builder They traveled to Edinburgh where he owned a flat to tour around Scotland but sadly his wife died in 1995 due to suicide George was totally devastated that the love of his life could end her life so tragically George then returned to Australia to build a large place in Alice Springs and live with his two daughters Fiona and Catriona and their families in a large shared house on a block out of town on the Todd River He kept himself busy by gardening building a cottage traveling to places like Europe and South Georgia to learn more about places he had visited in his earlier life He had developed a real interest in World War II and the British Merchant Navy He caught up with friends from the various stages in his life and reacquainted himself with his family living in Australia and England He was invited to South Georgia to help restore the church and the community of Grytviken for tourists to visit as South Georgia and the Antarctic were opening up for tourism He spent several months back in the place he loved the most My First Eighty Years Edward L Rowan, MD,2022-06-09 Eighty years is just the beginning A wise woman once suggested that it should take only a paragraph or two to tell a story however the story of a long life takes more space than that This memoir chronicles an eighty year journey wearing hats as a student physician museum professional traveler and writer Not wearing a hat can result in skin cancer Some memories are serious some are lighter and some will probably make no sense to the reader From camp bugler and squirrel trapper to patient and doctor these vignettes are all parts of one man's life story My First Eighty Years Morris Schwartz,1971

Threatening Property Elizabeth A. Herbin-Triant,2019-05-28 White supremacists determined what African Americans could do and where they could go in the Jim Crow South but they were less successful in deciding where black people could live because different groups of white supremacists did not agree on the question of residential segregation In Threatening Property Elizabeth A Herbin Triant investigates early twentieth century campaigns for residential segregation laws in North Carolina to show how the version of white supremacy supported by middle class white people differed from that supported by the elites Class divides prevented Jim Crow from expanding to the extent that it would require separate neighborhoods for black and white southerners as in apartheid South Africa Herbin Triant details the backlash against the economic successes of African Americans among middle class whites who claimed that they wished to protect property values and so campaigned for residential segregation laws both in the city and the countryside where their actions were modeled on South Africa's Natives Land Act White elites blocked these efforts primarily because it was against their financial interest to remove the black workers that they employed in their homes farms and factories Herbin Triant explores what the split over residential segregation laws reveals about competing versions of white supremacy and about the position of middling whites in a region dominated by elite planters and businessmen An illuminating work of social and political history Threatening Property puts class front and center in explaining conflict over the expansion of segregation laws into private property Ethnic Chicago Melvin Holli,Peter d'Alroy Jones,1995-05-19 A study of ethnic life in the city detailing the process of adjustment cultural survival and ethnic identification among groups such as the Irish Ukrainians African Americans Asian Indians and Swedes New to this edition is a six chapter section that examines ethnic institutions including saloons sports crime churches
