Fordham, 2010-09-10 Between the Jacobite Rebellion of 1745 and the American Declaration of Independence London artists transformed themselves from loosely organized professionals into one of the most progressive schools of art in Europe In British Art and the Seven Years War Douglas Fordham argues that war and political dissent provided potent catalysts for the creation of a national school of art Over the course of three tumultuous decades marked by foreign wars and domestic political dissent metropolitan artists especially the founding members of the Royal Academy including Joshua Reynolds Paul Sandby Joseph Wilton Francis Hayman and Benjamin West creatively and assiduously placed fine art on a solid footing within an expansive British state London artists entered into a golden age of art as they established strategic alliances with the state even while insisting on the autonomy of fine art The active marginalization of William Hogarth s mercantile aesthetic reflects this sea change as a newer generation sought to represent the British state in a series of guises and genres including monumental sculpture history painting graphic satire and state portraiture In these allegories of state formation artists struggled to give form to shifting notions of national religious and political allegiance in the British Empire These allegiances found provocative expression in the contemporary history paintings of the American born artists Benjamin West and John Singleton Copley who managed to carve a patriotic niche out of the apolitical mandate of the Royal Academy of Arts

Dearborn Independent ,1926 Abstract Painting in Canada Roald Nasgaard,Art Gallery of Nova Scotia,2008 In the tradition of the distinguished Douglas McIntyre art program this lavishly illustrated and superbly printed book is a rich readable history of abstract painting in Canada The story begins in the 1920s with the sometimes eccentric but remarkable work rooted in symbolism and theosophy of pioneers such as Kathleen Munn Bertram Brooker and Lawren Harris Two decades later the Automatistes Canada s first truly independent avant garde art movement burst onto the scene in Montreal After the Second World War the urge to abstraction spread across Canada manifesting itself in significant regional movements Vancouver painters retained a British flavour while in Toronto the Painters Eleven looked south to New York Montreal s Plasticiens launched their own razor edged interpretation of the European tradition of geometric abstraction In the sixties and seventies the Prairies were influenced by Clement Greenberg s post painterly abstraction while Halifax became a hub of conceptual art and concrete painting The book continues through the eighties and nineties during which critics largely denounced painting and concludes in the twenty first century with abstract painting alive and well again in the studios of Canada s young artists A monumental tome containing 200 color reproductions it mines a rich vein of art history ripe for international discovery Census of England and Wales. 1911 ... Great Britain. Census Office,1914 Area families or separate occupiers and population Picturing Animals in Britain, 1750-1850 Diana Donald,2007-01-01 From fine art paintings by such artists as Stubbs and Landseer to zoological illustrations and popular prints a vast array of animal images was created in Britain during the century from 1750 to 1850 This highly original book investigates the rich meanings of these visual representations as well as the ways in which animals were actually used and abused What Diana Donald discovers in this fascinating study is a deep and unresolved ambivalence that lies at the heart of human attitudes toward animals The author brings to light dichotomies in human thinking about animals throughout this key period awestruck with the beauty and spirit of wild animals people nevertheless desired to capture and tame them the belief that other species are inferior was firmly held yet at the same time animals in stories and fables were given human attributes though laws against animal cruelty were introduced the overworking of horses and the allure of sport hunting persisted Animals are central in cultural history Donald concludes and compelling questions about them then and now remain unanswered Hart's Annual Army List, Militia List, and Imperial Yeomanry List ,1891 Democratising Beauty in Nineteenth-Century Britain Lucy Hartley,2017-08-03 Could the self interested pursuit of beauty actually help to establish the moral and political norms that enable democratic society to flourish In this book Lucy Hartley identifies a new language for speaking about beauty which begins to be articulated from the 1830s in a climate of political reform and becomes linked to emerging ideals of equality liberty and individuality Examining British art and art writing by Charles Lock Eastlake John Ruskin Walter Pater Edward Poynter William Morris and John Addington Symonds Hartley traces a debate about what it means to be interested in beauty and whether this preoccupation is necessary to public political life Drawing together political history art history and theories of society and supplemented by numerous illustrations Democratising Beauty in Nineteenth Century Britain offers a fresh interdisciplinary understanding of the relation of art to its publics The Official Index to The Times ,1915 Census of England & Wales 1921 ... Great Britain Census Office,1925 Report of the Committee of Council on Education (England and Wales), with Appendix Great Britain.
