Inches, 2021-07-13 What can any one of us as ordinary citizens really do about climate change A lot Advocating for the Environment is based on a vision where all life is respected revered and nurtured The shifts we need to achieve this vision are profound from how we do business to how we educate govern and care for all people and life on the planet Written by environmental policy expert Susan B Inches Advocating for the Environment is an easy to understand empowering guide to help you take action and enact environmental change Part I begins with how we must learn to think differently in order to achieve this vision and heal the planet It discusses storytelling empathy worldviews and how understanding and effective communication can help us collaborate with others even those with opposing views And it shows the important role that citizen advocates play in achieving a healthy future Part II of the book is all about action How to use power for good work with decision makers organize events manage a coalition communicate with the public and work with the media are all laid out in an easy to read and easy to reference format The book also includes case studies research and templates to deepen learning Professors and teachers students legislators environmental clubs and church groups will also find useful ideas and strategies on every page Advocating for the Environment is a guide to environmental action that readers will want to read and keep for reference for years to come Culture, Power, Place Akhil Gupta, James Ferguson, 1997-07-24 Anthropology has traditionally relied on a spatially localized society or culture as its object of study The essays in Culture Power Place demonstrate how in recent years this anthropological convention and its attendant assumptions about identity and cultural difference have undergone a series of important challenges In light of increasing mass migration and the transnational cultural flows of a late capitalist postcolonial world the contributors to this volume examine shifts in anthropological thought regarding issues of identity place power and resistance This collection of both new and well known essays begins by critically exploring the concepts of locality and community first as they have had an impact on contemporary global understandings of displacement and mobility and second as they have had a part in defining identity and subjectivity itself With sites of discussion ranging from a democratic Spain to a Puerto Rican barrio in North Philadelphia from Burundian Hutu refugees in Tanzania to Asian landscapes in rural California from the silk factories of Hangzhou to the long sought after home of the Palestinians these essays examine the interplay between changing schemes of categorization and the discourses of difference on which these concepts are based The effect of the placeless mass media on our understanding of place and the forces that make certain identities viable in the world and others not are also discussed as are the intertwining of place making identity and resistance as they interact with the meaning and consumption of signs Finally this volume offers a self reflective look at the social and political location of anthropologists in relation to the questions of culture power and place the effect of their participation in what was once seen as their descriptions of these constructions Contesting the classical idea of culture as the shared the agreed upon and the orderly Culture Power Place is an important intervention in the disciplines of anthropology and cultural studies Contributors George E Bisharat John Borneman Rosemary J Coombe Mary M Crain James Ferguson Akhil Gupta Kristin Koptiuch Karen Leonard Richard Maddox Lisa H Malkki John Durham Peters Lisa Rofel

Environmental Debates and the Public in Ireland Mary Kelly,2007 Facing Global Environmental Change Hans Günter Brauch,Navnita Chadha Behera,Patricia Kameri-Mbote,John Grin,Úrsula Oswald Spring,Béchir Chourou,Czeslaw Mesjasz,Heinz Krummenacher,2009-06-04 The year 2007 could perhaps accurately be described as the year when climate change finally received the attention that this challenge deserves globally Much of the information and knowledge that was created in this field during the year was the result of the findings of the Fourth sessment Report AR4 of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC which were disseminated on a large scale and reported extensively by the media This was the result not only of a heightened interest on the part of the public on various aspects of climate change but also because the IPCC itself proactively attempted to spread the findings of its AR4 to the public at large The interest generated on the scientific realities of climate change was further enhanced by the award of the Nobel Peace Prize to the IPCC and former Vice President of the US Al Gore By taking this decision in favour of a leader who has done a great deal to create awareness on c mate change and a body that assesses all scientific aspects of climate change and disseminates the result of its findings the Norwegian Nobel Committee has clearly drawn the link between climate change and peace in the world Kenya National Assembly Official Record (Hansard) ,1984-10-02 The official records of the proceedings of the Legislative Council of the Colony and Protectorate of Kenya the House of Representatives of the Government of Kenya and the National Assembly of the Republic of Kenya Violence in Place, Cultural and Environmental Wounding Amanda Kearney,2016-11-25 Human life is intimately woven into place Through nations and homelands monuments and sacred sites it becomes the anchorage point for ethnic cultural and national identities Yet it is also place that becomes the battlefield war zone mass grave desecrated site and destroyed landscape in the midst or aftermath of cultural wounding Much attention has been given to the impact of trauma and violence on human lives across generations but what of the spaces in which it occurs How does culturally prescribed violence impact upon place And how do the non human species with whom we coexist also suffer through episodes of conflict and violence By identifying violence in place as a crisis of our times and by encouraging both the witnessing and the diagnosing of harm this book reveals the greater effects of cultural wounding It problematises the habit of separating human life out from the ecologies in which it is held If people and place are bound through kinship whether through necessity and survival or choice and abiding love then wounding is co terminus The harms done to one will impact upon the other Case studies from Australia North and South America Europe and the Pacific illustrate the impact of violence in place while supporting a campaign for methodologies that reveal the fullness of the relational bond between people and place The book will appeal to students and practitioners alike with interests in cultural and human geography anthropology environmental humanities and moral ecology

Handbook of Environmental Psychology and Quality of Life Research Ghazlane Fleury-Bahi, Enric Pol, Oscar Navarro, 2016-08-12 This Handbook presents a broad overview of the current research carried out in environmental psychology which puts into perspective quality of life and relationships with living spaces and shows how this original analytical framework can be used to understand different environmental and societal issues Adopting an original approach this Handbook focuses on the links with other specialties in psychology especially social and health psychology together with other disciplines such as geography architecture sociology anthropology urbanism and engineering Faced with the problems of society which involve the quality of life of individuals and communities it is fundamental to consider the relationships an individual has with his different living spaces This issue of the links between quality of life and environment is becoming increasingly significant with at a local level problems resulting from different types of annoyances such as pollution and noise while at a global level there is the central question of climate change with its harmful consequences for humans and the planet How can the impact on well being of environmental nuisances and threats for example natural risks pollution and noise be reduced How can the quality of life within daily living spaces home cities work environments be improved Why is it important to understand the psychological issues of our relationship with the global environment climatic warming ecological behaviours This Handbook is intended not only for students of various disciplines geography architecture psychology town planning etc but also for social decision makers and players who will find in it both theoretical and methodological perspectives so that psychological and environmental dimensions can be better taken into account in their working practices

Code of 1986 ,2003 A Journey Into the Heroic Environment Rob Lebow,2004 A Journey Into The Heroic Environment has changed hundreds of thousands of lives In this book we unlock the secret to creating peace and fairness in any organization The size of a company does not matter in the slightest Industry ethnicity or religion does not matter What matters is the knowledge that we are all in the People Business That is the message of this book The book itself is a simple story of two strangers encounter on a train that leads us on a compelling journey into the fascinating creative and stimulating new Shared Values work environment Shared Values has since become a buzz phrase around the world now we all need to practice these principles Every week the press and media uncover yet another company organization or individual who has turned his or her back on the concepts inherent in Shared Values Now a modern business classic A Journey Into the Heroic Environment helps us all attain what we REALLY want in our work environment Chronicles from the Environmental Justice Frontline J. Timmons Roberts,Melissa M. Toffolon-Weiss,2001-09-24 Chronicles from the Environmental Justice Frontline first published in 1991 provides a rare glimpse of the environmental justice movement as it plays out in four landmark struggles at the end of the twentieth century The book describes the stories of everyday people who have decided to take to the streets to battle what they perceive as injustice the unequal exposure of minorities and the poor to the bads produced by our industrial society In these struggles residents and local state and national environmental and social justice groups are on one side pitted against local and state government representatives and industry on the other By employing historical and theoretical lenses in viewing these struggles the book reveals how situations of environmental injustice are created and how they are resolved These cases bear great similarity to battles occurring across the nation and are setting precedents for national and state agencies as they handle these cases Freedom Rising Christian Welzel,2013-12-23 This book presents a comprehensive theory of why human freedom gave way to increasing oppression since the invention of states and why this trend began to reverse itself more recently leading to a rapid expansion of universal freedoms and democracy Drawing on a massive body of evidence the author tests various explanations of the rise of freedom providing convincing support of a well reasoned theory of emancipation The study demonstrates multiple trends toward human empowerment which converge to give people control over their lives Most important among these trends is the spread of emancipative values which emphasize free choice and equal opportunities The author identifies the desire for emancipation as the origin of the human empowerment trend and shows when and why this desire grows strong why it is the source of democracy and how it vitalizes civil society feeds humanitarian norms enhances happiness and helps redirect modern civilization toward sustainable development Environmental Psychology Mirilia Bonnes,Gianfranco Secchiaroli,1995-08-11 This textbook provides a clear and comprehensive introduction to the rapidly expanding field of environmental psychology. The authors start with a review of the history of environmental psychology, highlighting its interdisciplinary nature. They trace its roots in architecture, ecology, and geography and examine the continuing relationship of these subjects to the psychological tradition. The book then moves through key contemporary lines of research in the field, contrasting models from perception and cognition such as those of Gibson and Brunswick with major social psychological approaches as represented by Lewin, Barker, and others. The book concludes with an analysis of the most promising areas of research and practice.
