Santal A Tribe In Search Of A Great Tradition:

The Santal Martin Orans,1965 The Dynamics of Santal Traditions in a Peasant Society George E.

Somers,1985-12 An Untouchable Community in South India Michael Moffatt,2015-03-08 While many studies suggest that Indian Untouchables do not entirely share the hierarchical values characteristic of the caste system Michael Moffatt argues that the most striking feature of the lowest castes is their pervasive cultural consensus with those higher in the system Though rural Untouchables question their particular position in the system they seldom question the system as a whole and they maintain among themselves a set of hierarchical conceptions and institutions virtually identical to those of the dominant social order Based on fourteen months of fieldwork with Untouchable castes in two villages in Tamil Nadu south India Professor Moffatt's analysis specifies ways in which the Untouchables are both excluded and included by the higher castes Ethnographically he pursues his structural analysis in two related domains Untouchable social structure and Untouchable religious belief and practice The author finds that in those aspects of their lives where Untouchables are excluded from larger village life they replicate in their own community nearly every institution role and ranked relation from which they have been excluded Where the Untouchables are included by the higher castes they complete the hierarchical whole by accepting their low position and playing their assigned roles Thus the most oppressed members of Indian society are often among the truest believers in the system Originally published in 1979 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Friendship Daniel J. Hruschka,2010-09-24 Friends they are generous and cooperative with each other in ways that appear to defy standard evolutionary expectations frequently sacrificing for one another without concern for past behaviors or future consequences In this fascinating multidisciplinary study Daniel J Hruschka synthesizes an array of cross cultural experimental and ethnographic data to understand the broad meaning of friendship how it develops how it interfaces with kinship and romantic relationships and how it differs from place to place Hruschka argues that friendship is a special form of reciprocal altruism based not on tit for tat accounting or forward looking rationality but rather on mutual goodwill that is built up along the way in human relationships Ancient Hindu Refugees Paul Hockings,2011-06-15 No detailed description available for Ancient Hindu Refugees Semiotics of Cities, Selves, and Cultures Milton Singer,2012-05-02 No detailed description available for Semiotics of Cities Selves and Cultures South Asia in Transition Robert Parkin,2020-05-19 South Asia in Transition is an introductory book on the anthropology of South Asia including India Pakistan Nepal Sri Lanka and Bangladesh suitable for students at all levels and others interested in this topic It assumes no prior knowledge of either the region or the discipline of anthropology The book makes extensive use of existing publications to describe how anthropologists have approached the region and what they have said about it The first group of chapters deals mostly with India and caste class tribes religion kinship and marriage gender the body and personhood politics and political economy A second group of chapters deals successively with Pakistan Sri Lanka and Nepal Steel Town Adivasis Christian Strümpell, 2024-06-07 Steel Town Adivasis Industry and Inequality in Eastern India presents an analysis of class formation in the industrial town Rourkela in the eastern Indian state Odisha and the ways this process relates to regional ethnicity and caste This study is based on long term ethnographic research conducted in the 2000s and oral histories covering the period from the inception of the steel plant and it focusses on the region s tribes indigenous people or Adivasis who lost their land when the Government of India established a large steel plant in Rourkela in the 1950s The book will be of interest to anthropologists sociologists historians interested in industrial labour and work in class caste Adivasis ethnicity and their dynamic entanglement as well as students and activists Print edition not for sale in South Asia India Sri Lanka Nepal Bangladesh Pakistan and Bhutan Rise of Anthropology in India Lalita Prasad Vidyarthi, 1976 Folklore of Tribal Communities N. Patnaik, 2002 The Unwritten Literary World of Tribal Communities is nothing but the Oral Literature or Folklore It covers stories legends myths song dances riddles proverbs metaphors and such other aspects of their culture which are in their memory and handed down from generation to generation These sources of their literary world speak of their spiritual world and the eco system The older persons are the store house of of their oral literature and from these sources the literary world of theirs is disseminated among the youngsters This book gives the folklore of four tribal communities namely the Kharias the Oraons the Santals and the Mundas of Orissa The Kharias are a hunting and food gathering community the Oraons are noted for the dance and music and the Santals are well known as hard working cultivators and skilled in wall painting and noted for their sense of beauty The cultural patterns of these tribal communities and their life ways and thought ways are different from one another as revealed in the analysis of their oral literature Even though they lead a life full of wants and difficulties they are very labourious and joyful by virtue of which they forget their sorrows and miseries Law and Economic Organization Katherine S. Newman, 1983-12-30 In this important contribution to the comparative study of legal systems the author examines a sample of some sixty pre industrial societies from around the world in an attempt to explain why their legal institutions vary Identity, Gender, and Poverty Maya Unnithan-Kumar, 1997 Most studies of the so called tribal communities in India stress their social economic and political differences from communities that are organized on the basis of caste It was this apparent contrast between tribal and caste lifestyle and moreover the paucity of material on tribal groups that motivated the author to undertake this study of a poor tribal community the Girasia in northwestern India While carrying out her fieldwork the author soon became aware that the traditional tribe caste categories needed to be revised in fact she found them more often than not to be constructs by outsiders mostly academic Of greater importance for an understanding of the Girasia was the wider and more complex issue of self perception and identification by others that must be seen in the context of their poverty as well as in the strategic and shifting use of kinship gender and class relations in the region Santhal Worldview Indira Gandhi National Centre for the Arts,2001 The Book Arises Out Of A Seminar On Santhal World View Held In 1997 The Essays Presented In The Book Address The Themes Of Nature And Culture Sound And Language And Life Style And Worldview 16 Papers Index The Participates From Various Disciplines In India But For Our Musicologist From Germany Without Dustjacket

Contemporary Society Georg Pfeffer,Deepak Kumar Behera,1997 Contributed articles in honor of S N Ratha former professor at Sambalpur University Orissa v 7 Identity intervention and ideology in tribal India and beyond Deepak Kumar Behera Georg Pfeffer Graphic Politics in Eastern India Nishaant Choksi,2021-03-25 Investigating the communicative practices of indigenous Santali speakers in eastern India Nishaant Choksi examines the overlooked role of script in regional movements for autonomy to provide one of the first comprehensive theoretical and ethnographical accounts of graphic politics Based on extensive fieldwork in the villages of southwestern West Bengal Choksi explores the deployment of Santali scripts including a newly created script called Ol Chiki in Bengali dominated local markets the education system and in the circulation of print media He shows how manipulating the linguistic landscape and challenging the idea of a vernacular enables Santali speakers to delineate their own political domains and scale their language on local regional and national levels In doing so they contest Bengali speaking upper castes hegemony over public spaces and institutions as well as the administrative demarcations of the contemporary Indian nation state Combining semiotic theory with ethnographically grounded investigation Graphic Politics in Eastern India provides a new framework for understanding writing and literacy practices among ethnic minorities and points to future directions for interdisciplinary research on indigenous autonomy in South Asia Mandelbaum, David: Society in India A.R. Desai,1975 Society in India: Continuity and change David Goodman Mandelbaum,1970 November 2004 Anthropology for the Nineties Johnnetta B. Cole,1988 Children of Colonialism Lionel Caplan,2020-12-01 Among the legacies of the colonial encounter are any number of contemporary mixed race populations descendants of the offspring of sexual unions involving European men colonial officials traders etc and local women These groups invite serious scholarly attention because they not only challenge notions of a rigid divide between colonizer and colonized but beg a host of questions about continuities and transformations in the postcolonial world This book concerns one such group the Eurasians of India or Anglo Indians as they came to be designated Caplan presents an historicized ethnography of their contemporary lives as these relate both to the colonial past and to conditions in the present In particular he forcefully shows that features which theorists associate with the postcolonial present blurred boundaries multiple identities creolized cultures have been part of the colonial past as well Presenting a powerful argument against theoretically essentialized notions of culture hybridity and postcoloniality this book is a much needed contribution to recent debates in cultural studies literary theory anthropology sociology as well as historical studies of colonialism mixed race populations and cosmopolitan identities Donegal's Changing Traditions Eugenia Shanklin, 2016-12-05 First Published in 1985 One of the notable objectives of the Library of Anthropology is to provide a vehicle for the expression in print of new controversial and seemingly unorthodox theoretical methodological and philosophical approaches to anthropological data This is a book about traditions that are changing not languishing in a moribund state and not dead as other scholars have suggested but changing to fit present circumstances Since many people think of traditions as static or immutable the author's assertion that traditions are changing may strike readers as paradoxical but this book deals with a paradoxical people the Irish of Southwest Donegal who simultaneously guard and manipulate their traditions guarding them against the encroachments of the modern world and manipulating them for their own advantage in that world
