The Big Why Michael Winter, 2017-02-01 Michael Winter's The Big Why takes the tradition of the historical novel and twists it into the cool sinuous entertaining shape we've all been waiting for His characters are real and from the past but the lives they live feel contemporary and emotionally modern Winter's version of the American artist Rockwell Kent is an over aged erotically fleckless Huck Finn ready to leave the superficial art world of New York and light out for the territory Only he heads the wrong way north and east to Brigus Newfoundland before and at the beginning of World War One A socialist and a philanderer certain in the greatness of his work he is drawn north by a fascination for the rocky Atlantic coast and by the example of Brigus's other well known resident fabled Arctic explorer Robert Bartlett But once in Newfoundland Kent discovers that notoriety is even easier to achieve in a small town than in New York As events come to a head both internationally and domestically and the war begins Kent becomes a polarizing figure in this intimate impoverished community where everyone knows everyone and any outsider is suspect possibly even a German spy Writing in Kent s voice Michael Winter delivers a passionate witty and cerebral exploration of what makes exceptional individuals who they are and why

Elmer E. Critchfield,Marco Morrow,Richard S. Thain,1914 Willing, Wanting, Waiting Richard Holton,2009-04-23 Richard Holton provides a unified account of intention choice weakness of will strength of will temptation addiction and freedom of the will Drawing on recent psychological research he argues that rather than being the pinnacle of rationality the central components of the will are there to compensate for our inability to make or maintain sound judgments Choice is understood as the capacity to form intentions even in the absence of judgments of what action is best Weakness of will is understood as the failure to maintain an intention or more specifically a resolution in the face of temptation where temptation typically involves a shift in judgment as to what is best or in the case of addiction a disconnection between what is judged best and what is desired Strength of will is the corresponding ability to maintain a resolution an ability that requires the employment of a particular faculty or skill Finally the experience of freedom of the will is traced to the experiences of forming intentions and of maintaining resolutions both of which require effortful activity from the agent JUDICIOUS ADVERTISING ,1914
