Early

Buddhist Art of China and Central Asia, Volume 3 Marylin Martin Rhie, 2010-06-14 This book third in a series on the early Buddhist art of China and Central Asia centers on Buddhist art from the Western Ch in 385-431 A.D. in northwest China primarily from the cave temples of Pinglingssu and Maijishan. A detailed chronological and iconographic study of sculptures and wall paintings in Cave 169 at Pinglingssu particularly yields a chronological framework for unlocking the difficult issues of dating early fifth century Chinese Buddhist art and offers some new insights into textual sources in the Lotus Sutra and Amitayus sutras. Further, this study introduces the iconography of the five Buddhas and its relation to the art of Gandhara and the famous five colossal T'an-yao caves at Yung-kang. Early Buddhist Art of China and Central Asia, Volume 3 Marylin M. Rhie, 2010-06-14 Presenting new studies on the chronology and iconography of Buddhist art during the Western Ch in 385-431 A.D. in northwest China including Pinglingssu and Maijishan, this book addresses issues of dating textual sources, the five Buddhas, and relation with Gandhara. History of civilizations of Central Asia Adle, Chahryar, UNESCO, 2005-10-03 This major six volume project co-published with Macmillan covers the historical experience of the peoples and societies of the Central Asian region from the earliest times to the present day. The sixth volume brings this series to an end as it takes in the whole of the modern period from colonial conquest and domination to decolonization, the Cold War from start to finish, the disintegration of the Soviet Union, and the renewed instability in certain areas. Not only did the colonial regimes lay a new patina over the region, but nationalism remoulded all old identities into a series of new ones. That process of the twentieth century was perhaps the most transformative of all after the colonial subjugation of the nineteenth. While it has been the basis of remarkable stability in vast stretches of the region, it has been a fertile source of tension and even wars in other parts. The impact and the results of such changes have been astonishingly variable despite the proximity of these states to each other and their being subject to or driven by virtually the same compulsions. The Bulletin of the College Art Association, 1920 The Treasure of the Oxus Ormonde Maddock Dalton, 1905 The Social Role of Art and Culture in Central Asia Aliya de Tiesenhausen, 2022-07-25 This collection of multi-disciplinary essays offers a fresh perspective on Central Asian art and culture as it gains increased attention on both the local and international stage. Influenced by the golden ages of its history from the ancient Scythians through the glory of the Persians and Turks and shaped by the Russian and later Soviet imperial powers, the region is revealed as exotic, dramatic, and universally topical. Contributions come from scholars and participants in the Central Asian cultural scene who specialise in different, often isolated spheres. Their unifying theme is identity and its formation, including national, ethnic, cultural, religious, and gender identities. Art and culture are shown to have active social roles, representing, analysing, questioning, and supporting social upheavals and change. Culture is seen as an intrinsic part of society while being affected by the specific historical context; it does at times affect it in return. From major socio-economic and political shifts to smaller, yet not less potent, personal and individual identities, this collection demonstrates we are once again experiencing a time in which culture plays a crucial role in opening minds and facilitating change The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Central Asian Survey Early Buddhist Art of China and Central Asia, Volume 1 Later Han, Three

Cave Temples of Mogao at Dunhuang Roderick Whitfield, Susan Whitfield, Neville Agnew, 2015-09-15 The Mogao grottoes in China situated near the town of Dunhuang on the fabled Silk Road constitute one of the world s most significant sites of Buddhist art The hundreds of caves carved into rock cliffs at the edge of the Gobi desert preserve one thousand years of exquisite art Founded by Buddhist monks as an isolated monastery in the late fourth century Mogao evolved into an artistic and spiritual mecca whose renown extended from the Chinese capital to the Western Kingdoms of the Silk Road Among its treasures are miles of stunning wall paintings more than two thousand statues magnificent works on silk and paper and thousands of ancient manuscripts such as sutras poems and prayer sheets In this new expanded edition Cave

Temples of Mogao at Dunhuang first published in 2000 combines lavish color photographs of the caves and their art with the fascinating history of the Silk Road to create a vivid portrait of this remarkable site Chapters narrate the development of Dunhuang and the Mogao cave temples the iconography of the wall paintings and the extraordinary story of the rare manuscripts including the oldest printed book in existence a ninth century copy of the Diamond Sutra The book also discusses the collaboration between the Getty Conservation Institute and Chinese authorities in conservation projects at Mogao and the ways in which the site can be visited today Along the Ancient Silk Routes Herbert Härtel, Marianne Yaldiz, Museum für Indische Kunst (Germany), Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1982 The Art Bulletin, 1938 Includes section Notes and reviews A Concise History of Afghanistan-Central Asia and India in 25 Volumes HAMID ALIKUZAI, 2015-01-19 Thirteen years after the U S invasion of Afghanistan Thirteen years after the U S invasion of Afghanistan the gains that the international coalition has made with its local partners are real but reversible Afghanistan is no longer a global hub of terrorist activity but Taliban resurgence would threaten to make it one again Reconstruction assistance has produced demonstrable progress in health education and economic well being but corruption and governance problems have undermined popular support for the government in Kabul and constrained the overall level of progress Internationally a coalition still backs the International Security Assistance Force ISAF military mission However NATO's will is waning China Russia and India are largely free riders and Punjab and Iran publicly say the right things while destabilizing Afghanistan by privately meddling to their own ends Political and economic realities in the United States make the current level of American engagement in Afghanistan unsustainable But as the commitment of coalition partners fades what Washington decides will shape the future of South Asia Looking ahead there are three different scenarios for American engagement in Afghanistan It remains to be seen exactly which route Washington will take But it is clear that U S interests require a long term commitment not only in Afghanistan but across the region Lest it be forgotten the consequences of ignoring the region in the 1990s were visited upon the United States on 9 11 So the most vital goals present day are defeating the remnants of al Qaeda in Punjab preventing the reemergence of terrorist sanctuaries in Afghanistan ensuring the security of Punjab's nuclear weapons and discouraging Punjab's use of extremism and terror as a policy instrument There are three ways forward Each entails a different degree of involvement and carries varying risks and rewards The first option is the riskiest Future 1 Immediate Departure and the Reallocation of Resources because discontent among the U S public over the war is already at an all time high
