Tompkins,1928 ART THERAPY WITH CHRONIC PHYSICALLY ILL ADOLESCENTS: Exploring the Effectiveness of Medical Art Therapy as a Complementary Treatment Ruth R. Luginbuehl-Oelhafen,2009 Art Therapy with Chronic Physically Ill Adolescents explores the effectiveness of art therapy as a primary intervention with an adolescent population with chronic physical illnessOCo in this particular case with adolescents in chronic renal failure either on hemodialysis peritoneal dialysis or after kidney transplantation The hypothesis is that art therapy 1 facilitates expression of emotions through artwork ideally including verbal expression 2 enhances self esteem and identity 3 helps them cope with their chronic physical illness and 4 finally offers an opportunity to vent anger and frustration catharsis By getting a safe place to explore issues related not only to the developmental stage but also to the conditions of chronic physical illness these teenagers may begin to discover their individual strengths through art therapy rather than dwell primarily on their individual weaknesses In essence the book will explore whether art therapy can be a means by which this population could be helped to accept and integrate their chronic physical conditions into their lives and to find an appropriate place in our society In addition the book will investigate whether art therapy could become a sanctuary one in which the patient is allowed to keep control to make his own decisions and to explore and develop a sense of freedom in an overwhelming controlling environment Consisting of four chapters Chapter 1 provides an in depth perspective on literature review and adolescence as a developmental stage The psychological impact of chronic physical illness in adolescence creativity and art therapy medical art therapy and the creative process is discussed Chapter 2 studies methodology independent variables settings procedures materials used and the gathering of data Chapter 3 addresses case histories their artwork the short term treatment group and the long term treatment group Seven clients and examples of their artwork are presented Chapter 4 discusses results conclusions and ideas for further studies Creating Art for All Ages Frances Flicker,Jacqueline G. Van Schooneveld,Jeanne Richins,2020-10-23 This is the third book in the series Creating Art for All Ages The series takes students on an interdisciplinary cross content journey Each book provides experiences in language arts social studies math and art as the students investigate ancient and modern civilizations Industry and Imagination in Ancient and Modern Civilizations is the third book of the series and examines the generations of the Industrial Revolution society during WWI and WWII Modern and Contemporary times During the era of the Industrial Revolution the role of the artist transformed as the patronage changed and advancements in photography were able to portray likenesses The artist sought new avenues by using art as an expressive tool As time progressed artistic expression navigated the art into innovative imaginative and unique styles Art became whatever the artist intended it to be this mixture I've realized that there are different ways to approach one's use of color and this formed my first idea for creating a book Furthermore as a teacher I've spent time experimenting with different surfaces pastel brands and techniques in order to make suggestions to students to help them find the look they want to achieve I do not teach students to paint the way I do but instead try to share my experience and help them develop their own individual style Master Drawings from the Yale University Art Gallery Yale University (New Haven, Conn.).
