Minor Re/Visions Morris Young, 2004-03-12 Through a blend of personal narrative cultural and literary analysis and discussions about teaching Minor Re Visions Asian American Literacy Narratives as a Rhetoric of Citizenship shows how people of color use reading and writing to develop and articulate notions of citizenship Morris Young begins with a narration of his own literacy experiences to illustrate the complicated relationship among literacy race and citizenship and to reveal the tensions that exist between competing beliefs and uses of literacy among those who are part of dominant American culture and those who are positioned as minorities Influenced by the literacy narratives of other writers of color Young theorizes an Asian American rhetoric by examining the rhetorical construction of American citizenship in works such as Richard Rodriguez's Hunger for Memory Victor Villanueva's Bootstraps From an American Academic of Color Carlos Bulosan's America Is in the Heart and Maxine Hong Kingston's Song for a Barbarian Reed Pipe from Woman Warrior These narratives Young shows tell stories of transformation through education the acquisition of literacy and cultural assimilation and resistance They also offer an important revision to the American story by inserting the minor and creating a tension amid dominant discourses about literacy race and citizenship Through a consideration of the literacy narratives of Hawai'i Young also provides a context for reading literacy narratives as responses to racism linguistic discrimination and attempts at othering in a particular region As we are faced with dominant discourses that construct race and citizenship in problematic ways and as official institutions become even more powerful and prevalent in silencing minor voices Minor Re Visions reveals the critical need for revising minority and dominant discourses Young's observations and conclusions have important implications for the ways rhetoricians and compositionists read teach and assign literacy narratives

Forbes, 2003-02-28 The fourth and final volume of the Hawaiian National Bibliography 1780-1900 records the most volatile period in Hawaii's history American business interests and the desire for a constitutional monarchy were pitted against the desire of the monarchs King Kalikau and Queen Liliuokalani to strengthen the power of the throne The convulsions of the 1887 and 1889 revolutions were succeeded by the overthrow of the monarchy on January 17 1893 Documents revealing the struggle over annexation beginning in 1893 and the counterrevolution of 1895 are an important component of this volume Annexation in 1898 was followed by a two year period during which functions of government and laws were altered to conform to those of the United States After the organic act became effective in 1900 vestiges of monarchical Hawaii disappeared and the history of the Territory of Hawaii unfolded As with the previous volumes Volume 4 is a record of printed works touching on some aspect of the political religious cultural or social history of the Hawaiian Islands A valuable component of this series is the inclusion of newspaper and periodical accounts and single sheet publications such as broadsides circulars playbills and handbills Entries are extensively annotated and also provided for each are exact title date of publication size of volume collation of pages number and type of plates and maps references and location of copies     People and Cultures of Hawaii John F.
