Development, Poverty and Power in Pakistan Syed Mohammad Ali, 2014-12-05 Rural development remains a major challenge for governments of developing countries such as Pakistan While a broad range of state and donor interventions impact the lives of poor farmers who provide a significant proportion of the labour force comprehensive consideration of these combined interactions remains inadequate Focussing on Pakistan this book discusses the political economy of agrarian poverty and underdevelopment in the region The book provides an in depth exploration of the combined impact of state and donor interventions as well as that of resistance attempts to alter the status quo within Pakistan. It questions the relevance of state institutions and policies contending with the problems of farmers in Pakistan and how donor led policies and programmes also influence their lives. It draws on findings that have emerged from interviews of over 200 respondents including government officials, donor agency representatives and different categories of poor farmers during eleven months of fieldwork in the provinces of Sindh and Punjab. This research reveals some divergences between state and donor policies but it finds more prominent convergences which in turn enable the landed rural elite to benefit from market based and capital intensive processes of agricultural growth without offering substantial opportunities for poor farmers. Reflecting the need to become less insular when discussing solutions to rural development and demonstrating how state policies and institutions can interconnect with donor funded programmes, this book will be of interest to students and scholars of South Asian Politics and Development Studies.

India, Europe and Pakistan Professor Rajendra K Jain, 2017-09-15. Containing thirteen chapters by Indian and European scholars and practitioners, this volume critically examines the multifarious domestic and external challenges that Pakistan confronts today. It discusses the vicissitudes of the European Union's relations with Pakistan and the cultural, economic, political and military relations of Central Europe and key European countries, France, Germany and the United Kingdom with Pakistan. The study highlights the different approaches of India and the European Union towards the Kashmir dispute and the considerations, concerns and policy of the EU towards democracy promotion in Pakistan. It also seeks to answer the question whether the relationship between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and Pakistan is a transactional relationship or an enduring partnership. The book analyses the problems faced by Pakistan's oil and gas sector and the challenges and opportunities for European companies to expand Pakistan's energy basket. The volume examines the nature, dynamics and challenges of social integration and political participation by the Pakistani diaspora in the United Kingdom. It also explores the political context that shapes both policy and discourse on immigrant integration with special reference to the Pakistani diaspora's lived experience in three Scandinavian countries. The study will be of interest to all those engaged in the fields of political science, international relations, European politics and foreign policy and Indian and South Asian politics and foreign policy.
