Pakistan A Political And Economic History Since 1947 Paper:

Pakistan's Arms Procurement and Military Buildup, 1979-99 A. Siddiqua-Agha, 2001-03-20 The strategic imperative is held as the primary explanation for Pakistan's military buildup This book presents a fundamental departure in presenting an analysis of the internal dynamics of defence management and decisionmaking in Pakistan a new nuclear weapon state This is an in depth study of Pakistan's security link with its arms suppliers and defence industrial capacity and the influence of Pakistan's Army on conventional and non conventional defence decisions The analysis is backed with numerous case studies of defence decisions carried out from 1979-99 The Routledge Handbook of Security Studies Myriam Dunn Cavelty, Victor Mauer, 2009-12-16 Focusing on contemporary challenges this major new Handbook offers a wide ranging collection of cutting edge essays from leading scholars in the field of Security Studies The field of Security Studies has undergone significant change during the past twenty years and is now one of the most dynamic sub disciplines within International Relations It now encompasses issues ranging from pandemics and environmental degradation to more traditional concerns about direct violence such as those posed by international terrorism and inter state armed conflict A comprehensive volume comprising articles by both established and up and coming scholars the Handbook of Security Studies identifies the key contemporary topics of research and debate today This Handbook is a benchmark publication with major importance both for current research and the future of the field It will be essential reading for all scholars and students of Security Studies War and Conflict Studies and International Relations

Pakistan's National Security Approach and Post-Cold War Security Arshad Ali, 2021-03-31 This book analyzes the paradox that despite being a national security state Pakistan has become even more insecure in the post Cold War era It provides an in depth analysis of Pakistan's foreign and security policies and their implications for the overall state and society The book identifies the immediate security challenges to Pakistan and charts the distinctive evolution of Pakistan's national security state in which the military elite became the dominant actor in the political sphere of government during and after the Cold War period By examining the national security state militarization democracy and security proxy wars and the hyper military industrial complex the author illustrates how the vanguard role of the military created considerable structural sociopolitical economic and security problems in Pakistan Furthermore the author argues that the mismatch between Pakistan's national security stance and the transformed security environment has been facilitated and sustained by the embedded interests of the country's military industrial complex A critical evaluation of the role of the military in the political affairs of the government and how it has created structural problems for Pakistan this book will be of interest to academics in the field of South Asian Politics and Security South Asian Foreign and Security Policy International Relations Asian Security and Cold War Studies The Rational Believer Masooda Bano, 2012-03-15 Islamic schools or madrasas have been accused of radicalizing Muslims and participating either actively or passively in terrorist networks since the events of 9 11 In Pakistan the 2007 siege by government forces of Islamabad's Red

Mosque and its madrasa complex whose imam and students staged an armed resistance against the state for its support of the war on terror reinforced concerns about madrasas role in regional and global jihad By 2006 madrasas registered with Pakistan's five regulatory boards for religious schools enrolled over one million male and 200 000 female students In The Rational Believer Masooda Bano draws on rich interview ethnographic and survey data as well as fieldwork conducted in madrasas throughout the country to explore the network of Pakistani madrasas She maps the choices and decisions confronted by students teachers parents and clerics and explains why available choices make participation in jihad appear at times a viable course of action Bano's work shows that beliefs are rational and that religious believers look to maximize utility in ways not captured by classical rational choice She applies analytical tools from the New Institutional Economics to explain apparent contradictions in the madrasa system for example how thousands of young Pakistani women now demand the national adoption of traditional sharia law despite its highly restrictive limits on female agency and do so from their location in Islamic schools for girls that were founded only a generation ago

Comrades at Odds Andrew Jon

Rotter,2000 Comrades at Odds explores the complicated Cold War relationship between the United States and the newly independent India of Jawaharlal Nehru from a unique perspective that of culture broadly defined In a departure from the usual way of doing diplomatic history Andrew J Rotter chose culture as his jumping off point because he says Like the rest of us policymakers and diplomats do not shed their values biases and assumptions at their office doors They are creatures of culture and their attitudes cannot help but shape the policy they make To define those attitudes Rotter consults not only government documents and the memoirs of those involved in the events of the day but also literature art and mass media An advertisement a photograph a cartoon a film and a short story he finds tell us in their own ways about relations between nations as surely as a State Department memorandum does While expanding knowledge about the creation and implementation of democracy Rotter carries his analysis across the categories of race class gender religion and culturally infused practices of governance strategy and economics Americans saw Indians as superstitious unclean treacherous lazy and prevaricating Indians regarded Americans as arrogant materialistic uncouth profane and violent Yet in spite of these stereotypes Rotter notes the mutual recognition of profound similarities between the two groups they were indeed comrades at odds

The Aftermath of Partition in South Asia Gyanesh Kudaisya,Tan Tai Yong,2004-03 The Aftermath of Partition in South Asia draws upon new theoretical insights and fresh bodies of data to historically reappraise partition in the light of its long aftermath

Transnational Pakistani Connections Katharine Charsley,2013-11-12 Since restrictions on commonwealth labour immigration to Britain in the 1960s marriage has been the dominant form of migration between Pakistan and the UK Most transnational Pakistani marriages are between cousins or other more distant relatives lending a particular texture to this transnational social field Based on research in Britain and Pakistan this book provides a rounded portrayal incorporating the emotional motivations for and content of these transnational unions The book explores the experiences of families and individuals involved including the neglected experiences of migrant husbands and charts the management of the risks of contracting transnational marriages as well as examining the consequences in cases when marriages run into conflict Equally however the book explores the attractions of marrying back home and the role of transnational marriage in maintaining bonds between people and places Marriage emerges as a crucial but dynamic and contested element of Pakistani transnational connections This book is of interest to students and scholars in the fields of migration studies kinship the family and South Asian studies as well as social work family law and immigration

Trade Liberalisation and Regional Disparity in Pakistan Muhammad Shoaib Butt,Jayatileke S. Bandara,2008-12-04 This is the first study to distinguish a possible link between trade liberalisation and regional disparities under dissimilar political regimes such as autocracy and democracy It uses Pakistan as a case study to draw broader lessons for other developing countries

Islamic Leviathan Seyyed Vali Reza Nasr,2001-09-13 Islamization is commonly seen as the work of Islamist movements who have forced their ideology on ruling regimes and other hapless social actors There is little doubt that ruling regimes and disparate social and political actors alike are pushed in the direction of Islamic politics by Islamist forces. However, Islamist activism and its revolutionary and utopian rhetoric only partly explain this trend. Here Nasr argues that the state itself plays a key role in embedding Islam in the politics of Muslim countries. Focusing on Malaysia and Pakistan, Nasr argues that the turn to Islam is a facet of the state's drive to establish hegemony over society and expand its powers and control.

Subalterns and Raj Crispin Bates, 2013-09-16 Subalterns and Raj presents a unique introductory history of India with an account that begins before the period of British rule and pursues the continuities within that history up to the present day. Its coverage ranges from Mughal India to post-independence Pakistan, Bangladesh, and Sri Lanka, with a focus on the ordinary people of India and South Asia. Subalterns and Raj examines overlooked issues in Indian social history and highlights controversies between historians. Taking an iconoclastic approach to the elites of South Asia since independence, it is critical of the colonial regime that went before them. This book is a stimulating and controversial read and, with a detailed guide to further reading and end-of-chapter bibliographies, it is an excellent guide for all students of the Indian subcontinent.

The Geopolitics of South Asia: From Early Empires to the Nuclear Age Graham Chapman, 2018-10-22 Anyone who is planning on carrying out research in South Asia or indeed anyone who simply wishes to understand more about this cultural heartland should read this book. It shows how geological movements moulded the land of this unique cradle and how they still impact on it. Discussions are woven around the three major forces of integration: These are identity forces (bonds of language, ethnicity, religion, or ideology), utilitarian forces (bonds of common material interest and coercion), the institutional use or threat of physical violence. By studying these forces, Professor Chapman shows how the organization of territory has been central to the region's historic cultural, linguistic, and economic development. In addition to the material on the Northwest frontier, Afghanistan, and Kashmir, which was added for the second edition, the Northeastern borderlands are also now examined in this fully revised third edition. The current geopolitical state of the region is completely updated and greatly enhanced.

The Economy of South Asia Tirthankar Roy, 2017-08-05 This book explores the historical roots of rapid economic growth in South Asia with reference to politics, markets, resources, and the world economy. Roy posits that after an initial slow period of growth between 1950 and the 1980s, the region has been growing rapidly and fast catching up with the world on average levels of living. Why did this turnaround happen? Does it matter? Is it sustainable? The author answers these questions by drawing connections, comparisons, and parallels between the five large countries in the region: India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka, and Nepal. It shows why, despite differences in political experience between these countries, similarities in resources and markets could produce similar trajectories. Home to a fifth of the world's population, South Asia's transformation has the power to change the world. Most accounts of the process focus on individual nations but by breaking out of that mould Roy takes on the region as a whole and delivers a radical new interpretation of why the economy of South Asia is changing so fast.

Pakistan A Political And Economic History Since 1947 Paper: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous compelling novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the captivating narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. The Must-Read :

Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph.

Pakistan A Political And Economic History Since 1947 Paper : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery.

Pakistan A Political And Economic History Since 1947 Paper : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered.

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is an exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
