Inequality in Education Donald B. Holsinger, W. James Jacob, 2009-05-29 Inequality in Education Comparative and International Perspectives is a compilation of conceptual chapters and national case studies that includes a series of methods for measuring education inequalities The book provides up to date scholarly research on global trends in the distribution of formal schooling in national populations It also offers a strategic comparative and international education policy statement on recent shifts in education inequality and new approaches to explore develop and improve comparative education and policy research globally Contributing authors examine how education as a process interacts with government finance policy to form patterns of access to education services In addition to case perspectives from 18 countries across six geographic regions the volume includes six conceptual chapters on topics that influence education inequality such as gender disability language and economics and a summary chapter that presents new evidence on the pernicious consequences of inequality in the distribution of education The book offers 1 a better and more holistic understanding of ways to measure education inequalities and 2 strategies for facing the challenge of inequality in education in the processes of policy formation planning and implementation at the local regional national and global levels

The Practical Critical Educator Karyn Cooper, Robert E. White, 2006-06-10 I am delighted to have the opportunity to write this foreword for Karyn Cooper's and Robert White's splendid and compelling edited text on The Practical Critical Educator Critical practice in education is grounded in two bodies of thought and action critical theory and critical pedagogy Drawing on classical Marxism and its articulation of how oppression and injustice arose through capitalism's economic exploitation of labour critical theories of society took a cultural turn in the writings of Adorno and Horkheimer European Jewish refugees who fled to America where they articulated how the power relations and oppressive forces of capitalism expressed themselves in the alienating symbolic forces of culture music and art When booming demographics and an economic surplus fuelled the student movement of the late 60s and in to the 70s in many Western nations new forms of cultural Marxism were added to this body of critical theory extending beside but also far beyond the classical Marxist preoccupations with economic equalities of social class British writers such as the articulate and elegant cultural Marxist Raymond Williams revived and refined the lost work of Italian Marxist Antonio Gramsci from the 1920s and his concern with the influence of what he called hegemony the force through which ruling classes could maintain existing structures of domination by defining through language media and culture what was normal natural true beautiful and defensible and what was eccentric unreasonable or unworthy of serious consideration

Critical Pedagogy and Cognition Curry Stephenson Malott, 2011-02-10 This book simultaneously contributes to the fields of critical pedagogy and educational psychology in new and innovative ways by demonstrating how critical pedagogy postformal psychology and Enlightenment science seemingly separate and distinct disciplines are actually part of the same larger contextualized complex whole from the inner most developmentally fixed biological context of human faculties to the perpetually shifting socially and politically constructed context of individual schema and human civilization The text's uniqueness stems from its bold attempt to connect the postformal critical constructivist pedagogy work of Joe Kincheloe and others to Western science through a shared although previously misunderstood critique and rejection of crude forms of social control which the psychologists call behaviorism and Western scientists identify as mechanical philosophy This book therefore argues that critical pedagogy which includes among others anarchist Marxist feminist Indigenous globally conceived Afro Caribbean American and postmodern traditions and critical constructivist educational psychology have much to gain by engaging previously rejected work in critical solidarity that is without compromising one's values or democratic commitments The goal of this book is therefore to contribute to this vision of developing a more transgressive and transformational educational psychology

Critical Constructivism Primer Joe L. Kincheloe, 2005 The Critical Constructivism Primer introduces education students to the study of knowledge how it is inscribed by particular values and produced in problematic ways whose interests it serves and how it shapes the identities of those who consume it Critical constructivism is an epistemological position that examines the process by which knowledge is socially constructed Joe L. Kincheloe takes readers through the basic concepts and alerts them to the dangers of objectivism reductionism and the pathological views of self and world that emerge if students and educators are unaware of the construction of knowledge by dominant power interests The book is essential reading for individuals who want to become researchers and educators

Critical Pedagogy Primer Joe L. Kincheloe, 2008 The second edition of the Critical Pedagogy Primer not only introduces the topic but also provides a vision for the future of the critical pedagogy Kincheloe's notion of an evolving criticality makes sure that critical pedagogy will continue to be a vibrant and creative force that makes a powerful difference in education and in the world in general As it prepares readers for the challenges of the future it focuses on the traditions and individuals who have helped construct the discipline This attention to the past and the future provides readers with an introduction unlike most initiations into academic disciplines In a richly textured but direct manner Kincheloe captures the spirit of critical pedagogy in a language accessible to diverse audiences Both the uninitiated and those with experience in critical pedagogy can learn from this unique and compelling perspective on the field

Critical Education Against Global Capitalism Paula Allman, 2001-04-30 In today's vernacular Marx outed capitalism well over a century ago but his explanation has been both ignored and misinterpreted by not only his detractors but also by many socialists and even a considerable number of Marxists

as well Today we are experiencing the full impact and suffering the repercussions of capitalism's inherent need to become more than ever before a fully internationalized and integrated system of socio economic control and domination the global system that many commentators have suddenly remembered Marx and Engels 1848 presciently forecasted in the Communist Manifesto When the Berlin Wall fell in 1989 the victory of capitalism and liberal democracy was triumphantly proclaimed The Cold War was over and we were promised a lasting peace But as we enter the third millennium we are facing escalating social divisions injustice and oppression with an environment in varying stages of ecological decay Daily we are bombarded by the schizoid media images of capitalism's extremes on television news the ravaged faces and wasted bodies of some of the thousands suffering famine or the millions living in the world's slums and then the gleaming yet vacuous smile and sumptuously adorned figure of some extravagant wealthy individual who is one of the select members of the global upper class Are we becoming conditioned to accept such contrasts and regard them as normal and inevitable at a time when we have the potential to eliminate scarcity and eradicate human deprivation The author argues that critical education is needed to form a movement capable of challenging and then transforming capitalism She also offers an accessible account of Marx's dialectical critique and expos of capitalism clearly demonstrating the real enemy that should be the focus of anti capitalist and anti globalization struggles This is an account that explains why our main focus should not be on greedy individual capitalists or particular multinational corporations or even their handmaiden institutions such as the World Bank IMF WTO etc but instead the global network of capitalist social relations and consequent habituated human practices in which we are all involved These together with the historically specific form of capitalist wealth are the real enemy the essence of capitalism that must be abolished in order for humanity to have any hope of social and economic justice in the future Handbook of

Research in the Social Foundations of Education Steven Tozer, Bernardo P. Gallegos, Annette Henry, Mary Bushnell Greiner, Paula Groves Price, 2011-07-05 Parts one and two of this volume present the theoretical lenses used to study the social contexts of education These include long established foundations disciplines such as sociology of education and philosophy of education as well as newer theoretical perspectives such as critical race theory feminist educational theory and cultural studies in education Parts three four and five demonstrate how these theoretical lenses are used to examine such phenomena as globalization media popular culture technology youth culture and schooling This groundbreaking volume helps readers understand the history evolution and significance of this wide ranging often misunderstood and increasingly important field of study This book is appropriate as a reference volume not only for scholars in the social foundations of education but also for scholars interested in the cultural contexts of teaching and learning formal and informal It is also appropriate as a textbook for graduate level courses in Social Foundations of Education School and Society Educational Policy Studies Cultural Studies in Education and Curriculum and Instruction Marxism Against Postmodernism in Educational Theory Mike Cole, Dave Hill, Peter McLaren, 2002-12-11 Postmodernism has become the orthodoxy in educational theory It heralds the end of grand theories like Marxism and liberalism scorning any notion of a united feminist challenge to patriarchy of united anti racist struggle and of united working class movements against capitalist exploitation and oppression For postmodernists the world is fragmented history is ended and all struggles are local and particularistic Written by internationally renowned British and American educational theorists Marxism Against Postmodernism in Educational Theory a substantially revised edition of the original 1999 work Postmodernism in Educational Theory critically examines the infusion of postmodernism and theories of postmodernity into educational theory policy and research The writers argue that postmodernism provides neither a viable educational politics nor the foundation for effective radical educational practice and offer an alternative politics of human resistance which puts the challenge to capitalism firmly on the agenda of educational theory politics and practice

Libraries, Classrooms, and the Interests of Democracy John Buschman, 2012-07-30 Library marketing and advertising in schools are now very widespread practices Since libraries and schools have been strongly linked to economic performance adopting marketing and advertising techniques into them is often seen as a natural extension of that linkage But should that be the case John Buschman argues that as we shape and guide our educative institutions we should carefully consider the consequences In Libraries Classrooms and the Interests of Democracy Marking the Limits of Neoliberalism Dr Buschman details the connections between our educative institutions and democracy and the resources within democratic theory reflecting on the tensions between marketing advertising consumption and democracy Drawing on wide scholarship to explore some of the history of democratic theory and its intertwinements with capitalism the author helps the reader think about how democracies can deal with the challenges of this current historical phase The complex arguments of de Tocqueville Dewey Marx and many others help clarify how the market has pierced classrooms and libraries with advertising and marketing and why this is of concern in the interests of democracy In this volume Buschman provides a history of marketing and advertising and their entanglements with democracy education and libraries He then engages Democratic Theory and the framework it provides to critique neoliberalism s influences A final chapter traces the trajectory of neoliberalism and educative institutions on our democracy Throughout the book makes clear that issues concerning public educative institutions in a democracy are political A provocative and engaging book Libraries Classrooms and the Interests of Democracy should be required reading for anyone interested in the challenges facing libraries today

Neoliberalism and Education and its Consequences Dave Hill, Ravi Kumar, 2012-04-06 In this groundbreaking critique of neoliberalism in schooling and education an international cast of education policy analysts educational activists and scholars deftly analyze the ideologies underlying the global national and local neoliberalisation of schooling and education The thrilling scholarship that makes up Global Neoliberalism and Education and its Consequences exposes the machinations agenda and impacts of the privatising and merchandisation of education by the World Bank the General Agreement on Trade in Services GATS biased think tanks global and national corporations and capital and the full political spectrum of Neoliberal governments Including such topics as the increasing polarization of racialized and gendered social classes as a consequence of neoliberal policies the role and shape of markets and education in the era of globalised Capitalism the effects of the profit motive in higher education the impact of the Heritage Foundation in the USA and even a critical evaluation of education in Cuba readers are sure to find startling insight and provocative arguments throughout Global Neoliberalism and Education and its Consequences Critical Citizens for an Intercultural World Manuela Guilherme, 2002-01-01 This book examines the acquisition of requests in English by a seven year old Japanese girl during her 17 month residence in Australia The study focuses on the linguistic repertoire available to the child as she attempts to make requests and vary these to suit different goals and addressees This book helps unravel features of pragmatic development in the child's interlanguage a subject about which we yet know very little Knowledge and Power in the Global Economy David Gabbard, 2017-07-05 Advancing a three fold political agenda this volume illuminates how the meanings assigned to a whole vocabulary of words and phrases frequently used to discuss the role and reform of U S public schools reflect an essentially economic view of the world contends that education or educational reform conducted under an economized worldview will only intensify the effects of the colonial relations of political and economic domination that it breeds at home and abroad and offers a set of alternative concepts and meanings for reformulating the role of U S public schools and for considering the implications of such a reformulation more generally for the underlying premises of all human relationships and activities Toward these ends the authors in Part I critically examine many of the most commonly used terms within the rhetoric of educational reform since the early 1980s and before Part II links today's economized worldview to curricular and instructional issues These essays are especially important for comprehending how the organization of school curriculum privileges those disciplines deemed most central to market expansion math and science and how the political centrality of the economic sphere influences the nature of the knowledge presented in specific content areas Given that language constrains as well as advances human thought the twin tasks of de economizing education and decolonizing society will require a vocabulary that transcends the familiar terminologies addressed in Parts I and II The entries in Part III cultivate the beginnings of such a vocabulary as the authors elucidate innovative concepts which they view as central to the creation of truly alternative educational visions and practices
