PHILOSOPHY AS A WAY OF LIFE - SPIRITUAL EXERCISES FROM SOCRATES TO FOUCAULT. PIERRE HADOT, 2022 The Care of the Self and the Care of the Other Daniel Louis Wyche, 2025-05-20 What is the relationship between the ethical transformation of the self and the political transformation of the world This book explores the ways several twentieth century thinkers can help us relate the care of the self to the care of the other tracing their accounts of how and why practices intended to change an individual can help spur social and political change just as collective political action can produce a transformation of the self Daniel Louis Wyche examines the political implications of what he calls practices of ethical self change These include Pierre Hadot's notion of spiritual exercises what the French sociologist of labor Georges Friedmann calls the interior effort Michel Foucault's ethics of the care of the self what Martin Luther King Jr refers to as the work of self purification integral to direct action and Audre Lorde's claim that caring for herself constitutes a form of political warfare Wyche argues that these concepts can collectively provide an understanding that effaces distinctions between the care of the self the other and the community in a way that avoids reducing the political to the ethical Ambitious and nuanced The Care of the Self and the Care of the Other offers a framework for unifying individual moral action and collective political life

The Philosophy of Foucault Todd May, 2014-12-05 Michel Foucault's historical and philosophical investigations have gone through many phases the archaeological the genealogical and the ethical among them What remains constant however is the question that motivates them who are we Todd May follows Foucault's itinerary from his early history of madness to his posthumously published College de France lectures and shows how the question of who we are shifts and changes but remains constantly at or just below the surface of his writings By approaching Foucault's work in this way May is able to offer readers an engaging and illuminating way to understand

Foucault Each of Foucault's key works Madness and Civilization The Archaeology of Knowledge The Order of Things Discipline and Punish and the multi volume History of Sexuality are examined in detail and situated in an historical context that makes effective use of comparisons with other thinkers such as Freud Nietzsche and Sartre Throughout this book May strikes a balance between sympathetic presentation and criticism of Foucault's ideas and in so doing exposes Foucault's contributions of lasting value The Philosophy of Foucault is an accessible and stimulating introduction to one of the most popular and influential thinkers of recent years and will be welcomed by students studying Foucault as part of politics sociology history and philosophy courses

Philosophy of Culture as Theory, Method, and Way of Life, 2022-05-16 The idea of culture comprises almost all human activities from science to art from music to microscopy Does anything important escape the limits of this idea The authors of this collection argue that all philosophy is really the philosophy of culture since in some way each and every discipline and subdiscipline is foremost a manifestation of our collective cultural effort Further they argue that by engaging with philosophy as a cultural activity and as a discipline to meaningfully engage with all dimensions of intercultural life we can live more meaningful flourishing and wisely guided lives

The Sermon on the Mount and Spiritual Exercises George Branch-Trevathan, 2020-03-31 What in Matthew's view should a human being become and how does one attain that ideal In The Sermon on the Mount and Spiritual Exercises The Making of the Matthean Self George Branch Trevathan presents a new account of Matthew's ethics and argues that the evangelist presents the Sermon on the Mount as functioning like many other ancient sayings collections that is as facilitating transformative work on oneself or spiritual exercises that enable one to realize the evangelist's ideals. The conclusion suggests some implications for our understanding of ethical formation in antiquity and the study of ethics more generally. This will be an essential volume for scholars studying the Gospel of Matthew, early Christian ethics, the relationships between early Christian and ancient philosophical writings, or ethical formation in antiquity.

Augustine and Roman Virtue Brian Harding, 2011-10-20. Augustine and Roman Virtue seeks to correct what the author sees as a fundamental misapprehension in medieval thought, a misapprehension that fuels further problems and misunderstandings in the historiography of philosophy. This misapprehension is the assumption that the development of certain themes associated with medieval philosophy is due primarily, if not exclusively, to extra philosophical religious commitments rather than philosophical argumentation referred to here as the sacralization thesis. Brian Harding explores this problem through a detailed reading of Augustine's City of God as understood in a Latin context that is in dialogue with Latin writers such as Cicero, Livy, Sallust, and Seneca. The book seeks to revise a common reading of Augustine's critique of ancient virtue by focusing on that dialogue while showing that his attitude towards those authors is more sympathetic and more critical than one might expect. Harding argues that the criticisms rest on sympathy and that Augustine's critique of ancient virtue thinks through and develops certain trends noticeable in the major figures of Latin philosophy.

Phenomenology and Intercultural Understanding Kwok-Ying Lau, 2016-09-29. This book approaches the topic of intercultural understanding in philosophy from a phenomenological perspective. It provides a bridge between Western and Eastern philosophy through in-depth discussion of concepts and doctrines of phenomenology and ancient and contemporary Chinese philosophy. Phenomenological readings of Daoist and Buddhist philosophies are provided; the reader will find a study of theoretical and methodological issues and innovative readings of traditional Chinese and Indian philosophies from the phenomenological perspective. The author uses a descriptive rigor to avoid cultural prejudices and provides a non-Eurocentric conception and practice of philosophy. Through this East-West comparative study, a compelling criticism of a Eurocentric conception of philosophy emerges. New concepts and methods in intercultural philosophy are proposed through these chapters. Researchers, teachers, post-graduates, and students of philosophy will all find this work intriguing, and those with an interest in non-Western philosophy or phenomenology will find it particularly engaging.

Crisis of Authority Nancy Luxon, 2013-09-23. Contemporary social and political theory has reached an impasse about a problem that had once seemed straightforward: how can individuals make ethical judgments about power and politics? Crisis of Authority analyzes the practices that bind authority, trust, and truthfulness in contemporary theory and politics. Drawing on newly available archival materials, Nancy Luxon locates two models for such practices in Sigmund Freud's writings on psychoanalytic technique and Michel Foucault's unpublished lectures on the ancient ethical practices of fearless speech or parrhesia. Luxon argues that the dynamics provoked by the figures of psychoanalyst and truth teller are central to this process Her account offers a more supple understanding of the modern ethical subject and new insights into political authority and authorship Food and Faith Norman Wirzba, 2011-05-23 A comprehensive theological framework for assessing the significance of eating demonstrating that eating is of profound economic moral and theological significance domains and disciplines including public health clinical medicine media entertainment school programs advertising sociology and ethics This book offers a timely critique of the continued interventions into the lives of individuals and communities by government agencies private industries medical and non medical experts in the name of health and population security and will be of interests to students and scholars of critical international relations theory health and bioethics and governmentality studies The Oxford Handbook of Critical Improvisation Studies, Volume 1 George E.
