

The complaints reached the ears of the grim Saladin, who was facing his own problems. In 1187, four years after Suhrawardī's arrival in Aleppo, Saladin had destroyed the Kingdom of Jerusalem at the Battle of the Horns of Hattin. The disaster, with the attendant loss of Jerusalem, roused Christendom. The counterattack came four years later, in 1191, in the form of the Third Crusade, led by the two kings Richard the Lion-hearted of England and Philip Augustus of France. That same year Saladin ordered Suhrawardī put to death. The events are probably related. Though the sources are confused, it seems that Saladin became alarmed at the influence Suhrawardī had acquired over his son—an alarm that was fanned by the more orthodox clergy of Aleppo. Suhrawardī, a Platonist, evidently sought to train the young prince to be a philosopher-king—and he was accused of claiming to be a prophet himself. Even before he came to Aleppo, he had had dealings with several rulers in Anatolia; these contacts may have been attempts to carry out the implicit political program of his Illuminationist philosophy. Saladin had met philosopher-kings before—the Fatimid caliphs in Egypt and the Old Man of the Mountain with his murderous followers—and he did not like them. He could not take the chance that Aleppo, with its location strategic for both Saladin and the Crusaders, might revolt or even make common cause with the Crusaders. Saladin sent repeated orders that the troublesome philosopher be executed. Eventually, the reluctant prince obeyed, some said by leaving Suhrawardī to die of hunger.⁷

The Illuminationist Philosophy

The nature of the "Illuminationist philosophy" has long been a matter of controversy. As early as the thirteenth century, Shams al-Dīn Shahrāzūrī (d. after 1288) could write, "The philosophy of illumination (ḥikmat al-ishrāq) is the philosophy based upon illumination (ishrāq), which is unveiling (kashf), or the philosophy of the easterners, which is to say, the Persians." He adds, helpfully,

It amounts to the same thing since their philosophy is based on unveiling and intuition (al-kashf wa al-dhawq) and so is related to the illumination that is the manifestation of the intelligible lights, of their first principles, and their emanation of illuminations upon the perfected souls when they are abstracted from bodily matter. The Persians relied in their philosophy upon intuition and unveiling. The ancient philosophers of Greece did the same, with the exception of Aristotle and his school, who relied only upon reasoning and syllogism.⁸

Philosophy Of Illumination:

Sharḥ-i āwāz-i parr-i Jibrā'īl Mehdi Amin Razavi,1997 This study examines the life works and legacy of Shihab al Din Yahya Suhrawardi also known as Shaikh al ishraq or the Master of Illumination ﻳﺎﮬﻴﺎ ﺑﻦ ﮬﺎﺑﺎﺵ ﺳﻮﮬﺮﺍﯞﺍﺭﺩﯨ,1999 Shihab al Din al Suhrawardi was born around 1154 probably in northwestern Iran Spurred by a dream in which Aristotle appeared to him he rejected the Avicennan Peripatetic philosophy of his youth and undertook the task of reviving the earlier philosophical tradition of the Ancients Suhrawardi's philosophy grants a fundamental epistemological role to immediate and atemporal intuition It is explicitly often stridently anti Peripatetic and is identified with the pre Aristotelian sages particularly Plato He was convinced that the same wisdom was also to be found among other nations including the Egyptians as represented most prominently by Hermes Trismegistus and the pre Islamic sages and righteous kings of Persia The subject of his Hikmat al ishraq is the science of lights a science that Suhrawardi first learned through mystical exercises reinforced later by logical proofs and finally confirmed by what he saw as the parallel experiences of the Ancients from front of dust jacket The Philosophy of Illumination Šahāb ad-Din Jahjā Sohrwardi,2012

Suhrawardi's Philosophy of Illumination Hossein Ziai,1976 Suhrawardi and the School of Illumination Mehdi Amin Razavi,1997 This study examines the life works and legacy of Shihab al Din Yahya Suhrawardi also known as Shaikh al ishraq or the Master of Illumination Suhrawardī's Philosophy of Illumination Hossein Ziai,1976 Knowledge and Illumination Hossein Ziai,1990 Locations of Knowledge in Medieval and Early Modern Europe Kocku Von Stuckrad,2010 Addressing discourses of perfect knowledge in Western culture between 1200 and 1800 this book integrates the study of Western esotericism in a larger analytical framework of European history of religion Mulla Sadra and Eschatology Eiyad S. Al-Kutubi,2014-09-15 The book explains Sadr's theory of the nature of afterlife It presents Sadr's philosophical premises concerning the nature of human beings and their physical and psychological developments through which Sadr shows how the afterlife is intimately connected to the nature of the human being and how it is a natural stage of the evolution of each individual in which a corporeal body has no role Presenting Mull Sadr in a new light the aim of this book is to investigate Sadr's metaphysical principles of the Return al ma d that have been either partially presented or misunderstood in most of the existing secondary literature Focusing on Sadr's philosophical works specifically the Asf r and his commentary on the Quran this study demonstrates how Sadr is a philosopher able to carry the premises of the previous philosophical theories to radically different conclusions Mull Sadr and Eschatology demonstrates the manner in which Sadr explains the Return as presented in the Quran and Hadith but also shows how he presents the Return as a natural stage of the evolution of human beings in which a corporeal body has no role Thus Sadr offers a plausible philosophical explanation to the problem of bodily resurrection that had occupied Muslim philosophers for centuries Explaining Mull Sadr's distinctive method of doing philosophy this book will be of interest to students and scholars of Islamic Philosophy Religion and Islamic Studies more broadly Illuminationist Texts and Textual Studies Ali Gheissari, Ahmed Alwishah, John Wallbridge, 2017-11-27 The late Professor Hossein Ziai's interests focused on the Illuminationist Ishraq tradition. Dedicated to his memory, this volume deals with the post-Avicennan philosophical tradition in Iran and in particular the Illuminationist school and later philosophers such as those associated with the School of Isfahan who were fundamentally influenced by it. The focus of various chapters is on translations, editions, and close expositions of rationalist works in areas such as epistemology, logic, and metaphysics rather than mysticism more generally, and also on specific texts rather than themes or studies of individual philosophers. The purpose of the volume is to introduce new texts into the modern canon of Islamic and Iranian philosophy. Various texts in this volume have not been previously translated nor have they been the subject of significant Western scholarship. The Light of Sakina in Suhrawardi's Philosophy of Illumination Naṣr Allāh Pūrjavādī, 1998-09 The Wisdom of the Mystic East John Walbridge, 2001-08-03 An expert on the thought of medieval Islamic philosopher Suhrawardi argues that philosophers have romanticized this work as a revival of oriental wisdom.

Esotericism and the Academy Wouter J. Hanegraaff, 2012-01-19 The neglected history of how intellectuals since the Renaissance have approached ideas of the occult which challenged biblical religion. African Philosophical Illuminations John Murungi, 2017-03-21 The illumination of African philosophy offered in this volume leads to the illumination of philosophy in general. Illuminating arises as an essential task of philosophy whether African or not. What is illuminated is not already there but is constituted at the moment of illumination. This book invites the reader to participate in the illuminating work of philosophy and necessarily thereby to contribute to his or her own self-constituting self-illumination. Although the focus is on African philosophy, the book also bridges the gap between African philosophy and other branches. Today more than ever a bridging philosophy is called for, and this book helps to meet that need. This book poses philosophical questions such as who is an African and what Africa is, and seeks philosophical answers. In doing so, it contributes to the ongoing discourse on African philosophy. It addresses such issues as the African grounding of philosophy, the difference between African and Black philosophy, the African body, African art as expressed in and by Chiwara, the plight of African trees, as the plight of Africans, and the symbolic meaning of Robben Island. Light as Experience and Imagination from Medieval to Modern Times David S. Herrstrom, 2022-11-21 In Light as Experience and Imagination from Medieval to Modern Times, David S. Herrstrom synthesizes and interprets the experience of light as revealed in a wide range of art and literature from medieval to modern times. The true subject of the book is making sense of the individual's relationship with light rather than the investigation of light's essential nature while telling the story of light seducing individuals from the Middle Ages to our modern times. Consequently, it is not concerned with the progress of scientific inquiries into the physical properties and behavior of light, optical science, but rather with subjective reactions as reflected in art, architecture, and literature. Instead of its evolution, this book celebrates the complexity of our relation to light's character. No individual experience of light being truer than any other
