International Law: Politics and Values Louis Henkin, 2023-11-27 This volume derives from a series of lectures delivered as the general course at the Hague Academy of International law in July 1989 Like those lectures this volume does not pretend to provide a complete treatise covering all international law Rather it offers a particular perspective on the principal subjects of traditional international law elaborates new developments and dares reexamine assumptions and premises The book is built on three themes The first addresses law as politics and international law as the law of a political system now comprised of more than 180 separate independent states The essential autonomy of states accounts for the political as well as economic and cultural heterogeneity in a pluralist and fragmented system and international law as its common denominator of normative expression A second theme explores change in international law as reflecting change in the values and purposes of the international political system It traces the pursuit through law of the traditional ideal of the state system to secure every state's right to realize its own agenda through its own institutions and the superimposed contemporary purpose to promote individual human rights and welfare in every society The third theme perceives a movement in the law from conceptualism to functionalism from logical deduction out of abstract principles to pragmatic attention to practical needs and solutions to new and old human problems Each of these themes dominates in several chapters but the other themes are not absent from any of them Each will add a fresh perspective and contribute to understanding the nature and operation of international law in the international political system at the turn of a new century

In Fairness to Future Generations Edith Brown Weiss, 2025-01-27 Professor Weiss combines thorough research and careful analysis with imaginative solutions and a moral fervor She shows how rules of international law can be applied in an intertemporal dimension and how the basic principles of the intergenerational equity can be developed to provide new standards for human behavior She manages to communicate to the reader not only that the situation is getting desperate but also that human intelligence can in time devise adequate remedies without destroying completely our way of life Louis B Sohn Woodruff Professor of International Law Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint International Human Rights and Islamic Law Mashood A. Baderin, 2003-09-11 This volume examines the important question of whether or not international human rights and Islamic law are compatible It asks whether Muslim States can comply with international human rights law whilst adhering to Islamic law The traditional arguments on this subject are examined and responded to from both international human rights and Islamic legal perspectives The volume engages international human rights law in theoretical dialogue with Islamic law facilitating an evaluation of the human rights policy of modern Muslim States

International Human Rights and Islamic Law formulates a synthesis between these two extremes and argues that although there are differences of scope and application there is no fundamental incompatibility between these two bodies of law

Baderin argues that their differences could be better addressed if the concept of human rights were positively established from within the themes of Islamic law rather than by imposing it upon Islamic law as an alien concept

Each article of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and the International Covenant on Economic Social and Cultural Rights as well as relevant articles of the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women are analysed in the light of Islamic law

The volume concludes that it is possible to harmonise the differences between international human rights law and Islamic law through the adoption of the margin of appreciation doctrine by international human rights treaty bodies and the utilization of the Islamic law doctrines of maq sid al shar ah the overall objective of Shar ah and maslahah welfare by Muslim States in their interpretation and application of Islamic law respectively

Baderin asserts that Islamic law can serve as an important vehicle for the guarantee and enforcement of international human rights law in the Muslim world and the volume concludes with recommendations to that effect
