Semiotics Of Musical Time Berkeley Insights In Linguistics And Semiotics:

Semiotics of Musical Time Thomas Reiner, 2000 Semiotics of Musical Time investigates the link between musical time and the world of signs and symbols It examines the extent to which musical time is a product of signs sign systems and sign oriented behavior Sound is discussed as a potential sign of time and of musical time Inherent and recognizable temporal features are identified in a number of musical works Time as a compositional concern is examined in the case of Igor Stravinsky and Karlheinz Stockhausen A principal distinction between hearing associated with perception and listening associated with cognition provides the basis for the proposition that musical time is both unheard and imperceptible The role of concepts and their designations is investigated to demonstrate that consciousness of musical time involves semiotic processes

Musical scrapbook Andrei Pogorilowski, 2018-04-07 Andr Pogoriloffsky was born in Bucharest Romania in February 1968 Starting with 1982 he studied music independently helped by several private professors In 1989 A P started to hear in his head a strange yet beautiful music that he was unable to notate Short excerpts were presented on the piano to his musician friends who confirmed that the temporal fabric of that music could not be rendered satisfactorily with help from the traditional bar rhythmical semiography Between that point and 1994 A P tried to formulate a theory and a notation for that music the first result being his first published book Energies of musical time essential studies of pulsatory functionalism In the late 90s A P discovered cognitive musicology and started to merge his own discoveries with the bulk of scientific contributions from this interdisciplinary domain After abandoning several approaches the final result a book called The music of the Temporalists The author is currently living in his hometown Bucharest along with his wife Simona and his daughter Ina

Sign Levels D.S. Clarke,2012-12-06 Since the revolution in philosophic method that began about a century ago the focus of philosophic attention has been on language as used both in daily conversation and in specialized institutional activities such as science law and the arts But language is an extremely complex and varied means of communication and the study of it has been increasingly incorporated into such empirical disciplines as linguistics psycho linguistics and cognitive psychology It is becoming less clear what aspects of language remain as proper subjects of philosophical study what are to be kicked upstairs J L Austin s phrase to the sciences This work is a study of those logical features of language that remain central to philosophy after completion of kicking up It conducts this study by describing similarities and differences between signs at differing levels starting with natural events as primitive signs in the environments of their interpreters and proceeding to pre linguistic signaling systems elementary forms of language and finally to the forms of specialized discourse used within social institutions The investiga tion of comparative features requires isolating basic mental capacities that are present in the most primitive forms of organisms capable of sign interpretation The problem then becomes one of tracing the emergence from these capacities of such categories as substance attribute or quality and quantity that we apply to natural languages The study of sign levels is thus the construction of a genealogy of logical categories marking the development of natural languages Deutsche Nationalbibliographie und Bibliographie der im Ausland erschienenen deutschsprachigen Veröffentlichungen ,2000 Cumulative Book Index ,1998 A world list of books in the English language Who's who in America ,1995 Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts ,1987 Books in Print ,1991 Verzeichnis lieferbarer Bücher ,2002
