Diotima at the Barricades Paul Allen Miller, 2016 Diotima at the Barricades argues that the debates that emerged from the burgeoning of feminist intellectual life in post modern France involved complex structured and reciprocal exchanges on the interpretation and position of Plato and other ancient texts in the western philosophical and literary tradition Paul Allen Miller shows how individual works of Anglo American figures such as Toril Moi Judith Butler and Kaja Silverman as well as movements such as queer theory are rooted in feminist theoretical debates that began in the sixties in France and have continued right up to the present day Miller demonstrates that French philosophy as represented by writers as diverse as Julia Kristeva Helene Cixous Sarah Kofman Jacques Lacan Jacques Derrida and Luce Irigaray have had a profound influence on literary theoretical and cultural studies in the Anglo American world He reveals that in order to understand the intellectual substructure of much of later Anglo American critical theory it is crucial to examine the development of post modern French feminist thought in relation to its dialogue with antiquity In modern feminism and post structuralism the ancient world and Plato in particular truly function as our theoretical unconscious

Theory Does Not Exist Paul Allen Miller, 2024-05-14 Theory Does Not Exist Comparative Ancient and Modern Explorations in Psychoanalysis Deconstruction and Rhetoric is a collection of essays that makes a strong case for a comparative approach to what we term theory today It argues that our disciplinary boundaries create artificial divisions between philosophy rhetoric and literature which historically would not have been recognized and which have come to function as conceptual straitjackets These essays contend that a concerted engagement with the crucial texts in these debates over the last 2500 years not only offers a better understanding of the issues involved but also provides the necessary political ethical and existential tools for fashioning a better and more inclusive life Theory Does Not Exist offers a full throated defense of the humanities and crucial counterarguments against the reduction of education to the vocational and Narcissism Pleshette DeArmitt,2013-11-11 This book aims to wrest the concept of narcissism from its common and pejorative meanings egoism and vanity by revealing its complexity and importance DeArmitt undertakes the work of rehabilitating narcissism by patiently reexamining the terms and figures that have been associated with it especially in the writings of Rousseau Kristeva and Derrida These thinkers are known for incisively exposing a certain traditional narcissism that has been operative in Western thought and culture and for revealing the violence it has wrought from the dangers of amour propre and the pathology of a collective one's own to the phantasm of the sovereign One Nonetheless each of these thinkers denounces the naive denunciation of narcissism as the dangers of a non negotiation with narcissism are more perilous By rethinking narcissism as a complex structure of self relation through the Other the book reveals the necessity of an impossible self love The New Public Intellectual Jeffrey R. Di Leo,Peter Hitchcock,2016-04-08 What are the theoretical parameters that produce the category public intellectual By pondering the conceptual elements that inform the term this book offers not just a political critique but a sense of the new challenges its meanings present This collection complicates the notion of public intellectual while arguing for its continued urgency in communities formal and informal institutional and abstract While it is not quite accurate to say public intellectuals have disappeared entirely it is clear they function differently in an age of global neoliberalism and techno digital overdrive Today the idea of the public intellectual bears only the slightest resemblance to what it was fifty or even twenty five years ago The essays in this collection provide a number of different ways to imagine the fate of public intellectuals and offers a thorough exploration of the commonplace ideologies and politics associated with them Kristeva, Psychoanalysis and Culture Sylvie Gambaudo,2016-12-05

Examining Julia Kristeva's contention that contemporary Western society is witnessing a crisis of subjectivity due to the failure of the paternal function Gambaudo places Kristeva's thesis within the context of Freudian psychoanalytic thought and shows how Kristeva defends her position against a cultural climate privileging scientific and cognitive answers to aesthetic concerns Gambaudo argues that while Kristeva's position might be construed as defensive and a reactive clinging on to paternal modes of organisation of subjectivity it also offers a unique and visionary analysis of subjectivity that rescues the paternal project from its decline Eschewing a traditional emphasis on Kristeva's feminism this book's primary interest is located at the intersection between psychoanalysis and culture specifically analysing the superseding of Oedipus by narcissistic organisation

Feminist Perspectives on Contemporary International Law Sari Kouvo, Zoe Pearson, 2014-10-01 The essays in this volume analyse feminism's positioning vis vis international law and the current paradigms of international law The authors argue that willingly or unwillingly feminist perspectives on international law have come to be situated between resistance and compliance That is feminist scholarship aims at deconstructing international law to show why and how women have been marginalised at the same time feminists have been largely unwilling to challenge the core of international law and its institutions remaining hopeful of international law's potential for women The analysis is clustered around three themes the first part theory and method looks at how feminist perspectives on international law have developed and seeks to introduce new theoretical and methodological tools especially through a focus on psychoanalysis and geography The second part national and international security focuses on how feminists have situated themselves in relation to the current discourses of crisis the post 9 11 NGO industry and the changing discourses of violence against women The third part global and local justice addresses some of the emerging trends in international law focusing especially on transitional justice state building trafficking and economic globalisation

Unconditional Life Yoriko Otomo, 2016-05-27 Drawing on philosophy history and critical theory Unconditional Life introduces a new perspective on the significance of post war international law developments The book examines the public discourse regarding technological risk in World War II texts of unconditional surrender in the World Trade Organisation's EC Biotech dispute and in the International Court of Justices Nuclear Weapons Advisory Opinion The volume describes international law in terms of its management of and relation to the risks associated with technological innovation in war and in trade It proposes that international law too is itself a kind of technology one intended to manage the material and existential risks inherent in the creation of a new international postcolonial political community emerging out of the Second World War Members of this community are imagined to possess a universal quality humanness which itself is underscored by a power of invention Yoriko Otomo demonstrates how international lawyers inability to adjudicate questions of large scale technological risk is due to the competing and intractable claims of international law Offering a feminist analysis of the political economy that has created this crisis of governance the book provides a way of understanding the structural inequities that will need to be addressed if international law is to remain a relevant forum for the adjudication of war and trade into the 21st century

The Feminist Encyclopedia of French Literature Eva M. Sartori, 1999-07-30 The earliest known literary productions by women living in Europe were probably written by French writers As early as the 12th century women troubadours in the south of France were writing poems French women continued writing through the ages their number increasing as education became more available to women of all classes And yet of the great number of works by women writers who preceded the current feminist movement very few have survived A few writers such as Marie de France George Sand and Simone de Beauvoir became part of the canon But critics mostly male had judged the works of only a few women writers worthy of recognition As part of the feminist move to reclaim women writers and to rethink literary history scholars in French literature began to take a new look at women writers who had been popular during their lifetimes but who had not been admitted into the canon This reference book provides extensive information about French women writers and the world in which they lived Included are several hundred alphabetically arranged entries for authors literary genres such as the novel poetry and the short story literary movements such as classicism realism and surrealism life cycle events particular to women such as menstruation and menopause events and institutions which affected women differently than men such as revolutions wars and laws on marriage divorce and education The volume spans French literature from the Middle Ages to the present and covers those writers who lived and worked mainly in France The entries are written by expert contributors and each includes bibliographical information The entries focus on each writer's awareness of how her gender shaped her outlook and opportunities on how categorizations structures and terms used to describe literary works have been defined for women and the ways in which women writers have responded to these definitions The volume begins with a feminist history of French literature and concludes with a selected general bibliography and a chronology of women writers

explore how the concept of revolution permeates and unifies Julia Kristeva's body of work by tracing its trajectory from her early engagement with the Tel Quel group through her preoccupation in the 1980s with abjection melancholia and love to her latest work. Some of the leading voices in Kristeva scholarship examine her reevaluation of the concept of revolt in the context of the changing cultural and political conditions in the West, the questions of the stranger, race and nation, her reflections on narrative, public spaces and collectivity in the context of her engagement with Hannah Arendt's work, her development and refinement of the notions of abjection melancholia and narcissism in her ongoing interrogation of aesthetics as well as her contribution to film theory. Focused primarily on Kristeva's newest work, much of it only recently translated into English, this book breaks new ground in Kristeva scholarship. Becoming of the Body Amaleena Damle, 2014-04-09. No detailed description available for The Becoming of the Body: Feminism, Psychoanalysis, and Maternal Subjectivity Alison Stone, 2013-03-01. In this book Alison Stone develops a feminist approach to maternal subjectivity. Stone argues that in the West the self has often been understood in opposition to the maternal body so that one must separate oneself from the mother and maternal care givers on whom one depended in childhood to become a self or in modernity an autonomous subject. These assumptions make it difficult to be a mother and a subject, an autonomous creator of meaning. Insofar as mothers nonetheless strive to regain their subjectivity when their motherhood seems to have compromised it, theirs cannot be the usual kind of subjectivity premised on separation from the maternal body. Mothers are subjects of a new kind who generate meanings and acquire agency from their position of re-immersion in the realm of maternal body relations of bodily intimacy and dependency. Thus Stone interprets maternal subjectivity as a specific form of subjectivity that is continuous with the maternal body. Stone analyzes this form of subjectivity in terms of how the mother typically reproduces with her child, her history of bodily relations with her own mother, leading to a distinctive maternal and cyclical form of lived time.
