B. Nisbet,Claude Rawson,2005-12-08 This is a comprehensive 1997 account of the history of literary criticism in Britain and Europe between 1660 and 1800 Unlike previous histories it is not just a chronological survey of critical writing but a multidisciplinary investigation of how the understanding of literature and its various genres was transformed at the start of the modern era by developments in philosophy psychology the natural sciences linguistics and other disciplines as well as in society at large In the process modern literary theory at first often implicit in literary texts themselves emancipated itself from classical poetics and rhetoric and literary criticism emerged as a full time professional activity catering for an expanding literate public The volume is international both in coverage and in authorship Extensive bibliographies provide guidance for further specialised study The Discourse of Sensibility Henry Martyn Lloyd,2013-12-12 This volume reconstructs the body of sensibility and the discourse which constructed it The discourse of sensibility was deployed very widely throughout the mid to late eighteenth century particularly in France and Britain To inquire into the body of sensibility is then necessarily to enter into an interdisciplinary space and so to invite the plurality of methodological approaches which this collection exemplifies The chapters collected here draw together the histories of literature and aesthetics metaphysics and epistemology moral theory medicine and cultural history Together they contribute to four major themes First the collection reconstructs various modes by which the sympathetic subject was construed or scripted including through the theatre poetry literature and medical and philosophical treatises It secondly draws out those techniques of affective pedagogy which were implied by the medicalisation of the knowing body and thirdly highlights the manner in which the body of sensibility was constructed as simultaneously particular and universal Finally it illustrates the centrifugal forces at play within the discourse and the anxiety which often accompanied them At the centre of eighteenth century thought was a very particular object the body of sensibility the Enlightenment's knowing body The persona of the knowledge seeker was constructed by drawing together mind and matter thought and feeling And so where the Enlightenment thinker is generally associated with reason truth telling and social and political reform the Enlightenment is also known for its valorisation of emotion During the period intellectual pursuits were envisioned as having a distinctly embodied and emotional aspect The body of sensibility encompassed these apparently disparate strands and was associated with terms including sentimental sentiment sense sensation and sympathy
