The Garrick Theater...

Chicago is renowned for its architecture. But many of the city's most beloved buildings have been lost to the ages. Remember and celebrate Chicago's lost architectural treasures, uncovering clues about how a major metropolis rose out of the Midwestern prairie.

Based on historian David Garrard Lowe's elegant and lively book, here are the mansions and grand hotels, brilliant office buildings and civic structures, ballrooms and movie palaces that thrilled residents and tourists alike, before falling victim to the wrecking ball of "progress." Join Lowe and host John Callaway on their quest to discover Lost Chicago.

Lost Chicago Chicago Stories:

Lost Chicago Wttw, 2004-05-28 Chicago History, 1976 The Chicago Tribune Tower Competition Katherine Solomonson, 2003-11-15 In 1922 the Chicago Tribune sponsored an international competition to design its new corporate headquarters Both a serious design contest and a brilliant publicity stunt the competition received worldwide attention for the hundreds of submissions from the sublime to the ridiculous it garnered In this lavishly illustrated book Katherine Solomonson tells the fascinating story of the competition the diverse architectural designs it attracted and its lasting impact She shows how the Tribune used the competition to position itself as a civic institution whose new headquarters would serve as a defining public monument for Chicago For architects planners and others the competition sparked influential debates over the design and social functions of skyscrapers It also played a crucial role in the development of advertising consumer culture and a new national identity in the turbulent years after World War I The Wages of Wins David Berri, Martin Schmidt, Stacey Brook, 2007-09-04 The Wages of Wins is a proper analysis of the data generated by professional sports it tells many tales that are inconsistent with the myths put forward by the media industry and consumers of professional sport

Lost Kingdom: Animal Death in the Anthropocene Wendy A. Wiseman, Burak Kesgin, 2024-03-12 The authors in Lost Kingdom grapple with both the catastrophe of mass animal extinction in which the panoply of earthly life is in the accelerating process of disappearing and with the mass death of industrial animal agriculture Both forms of anthropogenic violence against animals cast the Anthropocene as an era of criminality and loss driven by boundless human exceptionalism forcing a reckoning with and an urgent reimagining of human animal relations Without the sleights of hand that would lump humanity into a singular Anthropos of the Anthropocene the authors recognize the differential nature of human impacts on animal life and the biosphere as a whole while affirming the complexity of animal worlds and their profound imbrications in human cultures societies and industries Confronting the reality of the Sixth Mass Extinction and mass animal death requires forms of narrativity that draw on traditional genres and disciplines while signaling a radical break with modern temporalities and norms Chapters in this volume reflect this challenge while embodying the interdisciplinary nature of inquiry into non human animality at the edge of the abyss historiography cultural anthropology post colonial studies literary criticism critical animal studies ethics religious studies Anthropocene studies and extinction studies entwine to illuminate what is arguably the greatest crisis for all creatures in the past 65 million years Illinois History, 1990 Inland Seas, 1992 Safety Maintenance & Production, 1908 The American Stationer, 1900 Insurance Engineering, 1908 Vanity Fair, 1929 American Education, 1915 Plagued by Fire Paul Hendrickson, 2019-10-01 Frank Lloyd Wright has long been known as a rank egotist who held in contempt almost everything aside from his own genius Harder to detect but no less real is a Wright who fully understood and suffered from the choices he made This is the Wright whom Paul Hendrickson reveals in this masterful biography the Wright who was haunted by his father about whom he told the greatest lie of his life And this we see is the Wright of many other neglected aspects of his story his close and perhaps romantic relationship with friend and early mentor Cecil Corwin the eerie unmistakable role of fires in his life the connection between the 1921 Black Wall Street massacre in Tulsa Oklahoma and the murder of his mistress her two children and four others at his beloved Wisconsin home In showing us Wright's facades along with their cracks Hendrickson helps us form a fresh deep and more human understanding of the man With prodigious research unique vision and his ability to make sense of a life in ways at once unexpected poetic and undeniably brilliant he has given us the defining book on Wright Intelligence, 1901 Lost Chicago David Lowe, 2010-10 The City of Big Shoulders has always been our most quintessentially American and world class architectural metropolis In the wake of the Great Fire of 1871 a great building boom still the largest in the history of the nation introduced the first modern skyscrapers to the Chicago skyline and began what would become a legacy of diverse influential and iconoclastic contributions to the city's built environment Though this trend continued well into the twentieth century sour city finances and unnecessary acts of demolishment left many previous cultural attractions abandoned and then destroyed Lost Chicago explores the architectural and cultural history of this great American city a city whose architectural heritage was recklessly squandered during the second half of the twentieth century David Garrard Lowe's crisp lively prose and over 270 rare photographs and prints illuminate the decades when Gustavus Swift and Philip D Armour ruled the greatest stockyards in the world when industrialists and entrepreneurs such as Cyrus McCormick Potter Palmer George Pullman and Marshall Field made Prairie Avenue and State Street the rivals of New York City's Fifth Avenue and when Louis Sullivan Daniel Burnham and Frank Lloyd Wright were designing buildings of incomparable excellence Here are the mansions and grand hotels the office buildings that met technical perfection including the first skyscraper and the stores trains movie palaces parks and racetracks that thrilled residents and tourists alike before falling victim to the wrecking ball of progress Lost Chicago is more than just another coffee table gift more than merely a history of the city's architecture it is a history of the whole city as a cultural creation New York Times Book Review Public Opinion, 1895 The American School Board Journal William George Bruce, William Conrad Bruce, 1894 The Iron Age, 1895 The Insurance Press, 1910 The Christian Advocate, 1924
