Native Informant Essays On Film Fiction And Popular Culture:

Native Informant Leo Braudy, 1991 Native Informant is Leo Braudy's first book after his widely acclaimed and award-winning history of fame The Frenzy of Renown. With a verve that breaks down the boundaries between film literature and popular culture, Braudy discusses writers and filmmakers such as Alfred Hitchcock, Daniel Defoe, Ernst Lubitsch, Emile Zola, Susan Sontag, and Richard Condon. His subjects include madness in the eighteenth century, the Hollywood blacklist, westerns, and pornography. Throughout this lively and insightful collection, his perspective is not that of the critic as a detached voice of professional authority but as a member of a particular culture, a native informant whose gaze looks simultaneously inward and outward, subjective but self-aware. Like the wide-ranging Frenzy of Renown, Native Informant will appeal to specialist and interested reader alike.

Performative Images Anaïs Nony, 2025-10-01 Performative Images draws upon the work of video artists and activists in France between the 1970s and the early 2020s and focuses on significant practices with technology. Video art and video activism are analysed together in the book to reevaluate key concepts in media studies and foreground a performative approach to the theory of image technology. The book engages works in visual culture, performance studies, digital studies, critical race theory, and feminist methodologies to account for the changes brought about by video technology in social and psychic life. Performative Images is about art and activists' engagement in video technology, an engagement that unsettles the hegemonic narrative of dominant media as well as the apparently politically neutral dimension of communication technology. In this book, the author explores how video image technology shapes our psychic and social environments from an art historiographical perspective. We know media technology is dramatically shaping our political and epistemological landscape; this book foregrounds the emergence of performative video images as a key factor in the revaluation of culture and politics.

Reflexive Representations Johannes Angermüller, 2004 This volume addresses the manifold conjunctures, interactions, and disjunctures that occur at various levels of what has come to be rubricated under the buzzword of globalization. While this term has the merit of reperiodizing our account of the capitalist dynamics, it simultaneously points to a crisis of representation both in political and epistemological terms. The contributions collected in this volume, being reflexive representations from the social sciences and humanities, assess some of the manifold aspects of this crisis.

Exiles in Hollywood Gene Phillips, 1998-07 The book deals with five European film directors who were forced to remain in exile in the wake of the rise of Hitler and who subsequently enriched the American motion picture industry with a reservoir of new talent that had been nurtured in Europe. The directors treated are Fritz Lang, William Wyler, Otto Preminger, Fred Zinnemann, and Billy Wilder.

Restoration Stage Comedies and Hollywood Remarriage Films Elizabeth Kraft, 2016-10-04 In Restoration Stage Comedies and Hollywood Remarriage Films Elizabeth Kraft brings the canon of Restoration comedy into the conversation initiated by Stanley Cavell in his book Pursuits of Happiness. The Hollywood Comedy of Remarriage Before there could be imagined remarriages of the sort Cavell documents there had to be imagined marriages of equality. Such imagined marriages were first mapped out on the Restoration stage by witty pairs such as Harriet and Dorimant Millamant and Mirabell and Alithea and Harcourt who are precursors of the central couples in films such as Bringing Up Baby His Girl Friday and The Lady Eve. In considering the Restoration comedy canon in one on one discourse with the Hollywood remarriage comedy canon Kraft demonstrates the indebtedness of the twentieth century films to the Restoration dramatic texts and the philosophical richness of both canons as they explore the nature and significance of marriage as pursuit of moral perfectionism. Her book will be of interest to specialists in Restoration drama and film scholars.

America Noir David Cochran, 2016-06-21 In America Noir David Cochran details how ten writers and filmmakers challenged the social pieties prevalent during the Cold War such as the superiority of the American democracy the benevolence of free enterprise and the sanctity of the suburban family. Rod Serling's The Twilight Zone featured victims of vast faceless bureaucratic powers. Jim Thompson's noir thrillers such as The Grifters portrayed the ravages of capitalism on those at the bottom of the social ladder. Patricia Highsmith in The Talented Mr. Ripley placed an amoral con man in an international setting implicitly questioning America's fitness as leader of the free world. Charles Willeford's pulp novels such as Wild Wives and Woman Chaser depicted the family as a hotbed of violence and chaos. These artists pioneered a detached ironic sensibility that radically juxtaposed cultural references and blurred the distinctions between high and low art. Their refusal to surrender to the pressures for political conformity and their unflinching portrayal of the underside of American life paved the way for the emergence of a 1960s counterculture that forever changed the way America views itself accompanied by an annotated bibliography Play It Again, Sam Andrew Horton, Stuart Y. McDougal, 2024-03-29 This title was originally published in 1998 Play It Again Sam is a timely investigation of a topic that until now has received almost no critical attention in film and cultural studies the cinematic remake As cinema enters its second century more remakes are appearing than ever before and these writers consider the full range Hollywood films that have been recycled by Hollywood such as The Jazz Singer Cape Fear and Robin Hood foreign films including Breathless and Three Men and a Cradle which Hollywood has reworked for American audiences and foreign films based on American works among them Yugoslav director Emir Kusturica's Time of the Gypsies which is a makeover of Coppola's Godfather films As these essays demonstrate films are remade by other films Alfred Hitchcock went so far as to remake his own The Man Who Knew Too Much and by other media as well The editors and contributors draw upon narrative film and cultural theories and consider gender genre and psychological issues presenting the remake as a special artistic form of repetition with a difference and as a commercial product aimed at profits in the marketplace The remake flourishes at the crossroads of the old and the new the known and the unknown Play It Again Sam takes the reader on an eye opening tour of this hitherto unexplored territory This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1998 Refiguring American Film Genres Nick Browne, 1998-04-22 This collection of essays by leading American film scholars charts a whole new territory in genre film criticism Rather than assuming that genres are self evident categories the contributors offer innovative ways to think about types of films and patterns within films in a historical context Challenging familiar attitudes the essays offer new conceptual frameworks and a fresh look at how popular culture functions in American society The range of essays is exceptional from David J Russell's insights into the horror genre to Carol J Clover's provocative take on trial films to Leo Braudy's argument for the subject of nature as a genre Also included are essays on melodrama race film noir and the industrial context of genre production The contributors confront the poststructuralist critique of genre head on together they are certain to shape future debates concerning the viability and vitality of genre in studying American cinema Martin Scorsese and the American Dream Jim Cullen, 2021-06-18 More than perhaps any other major filmmaker Martin Scorsese has grappled with the idea of the American Dream His movies are full of working class strivers hoping for a better life from the titular waitress and aspiring singer of Alice Doesn't Live Here Anymore to the scrappy Irish immigrants of Gangs of New York And in films as varied as Casino The Aviator and The Wolf of Wall Street he vividly displays the glamour and power that can come with the fulfillment of that dream but he also shows how it can turn into a nightmare of violence corruption and greed This book is the first study of Scorsese's profound ambivalence toward the American Dream the ways it drives some men and women to aspire to greatness but leaves others seduced and abandoned Showing that Scorsese understands the American dream in terms of a tension between provincialism and cosmopolitanism Jim Cullen offers a new lens through which to view such seemingly atypical Scorsese films as The Age of Innocence Hugo and Kundun Fast paced instructive and resonant Martin Scorsese and the American Dream illuminates an important dimension of our national life and how a great artist has brought it into focus Feeling Italian Thomas J.
