Arms, Transparency, and Security in South-East Asia Bates Gill, J. N. Mak, 1997 This report jointly sponsored by SIPRI and the Maritime Institute of Malaysia MIMA draws together the work of eight experts on armaments and Asia Pacific security affairs to present analysis and extensive data on arms and defence related transparency mechanisms in South East Asia It also includes a de facto arms trade register for South East Asia covering the period 1975-96 The book will prove useful to security analysts and policy makers seeking analysis of and practical approaches to transparency and confidence building in South East Asia The Koreas ,1990 Books from National Defense University Press National Defense University Press, Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents ,1989-07 Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications ,1989 Japan at the Summit Shiro Saito, 2018-02-21 This book first published in 1990 and written from a Japanese perspective examines the gradual transformation of Japan's traditional role in world politics since the Second World War With Japan's postwar economic success came calls from many quarters for it to match its economic involvement with an equal commitment to international political relations The book discusses in detail the realization by Japan's leadership that international cooperation must take place on many diverse levels and focuses on Japan's involvement in Western affairs during the 1980s through participation in the seven power economic and political summits and dialogue at the meetings of ASEAN Routledge Library Editions: Japan's International Relations Various Authors, 2021-05-28 This set brings together a collection of key works about the International Relations of Japan Written by a range of international experts the titles cover the essential aspects of Japan's postwar relationship to the outside world its changing notion of its role in the international community and its relations with China and the US National Defense and Security United States. Superintendent of Documents, 1990 Comprehensive Security in Asia ,2000-04-27 The term comprehensive security was first used by the late Japanese prime minister Ohira but the concept as such can be traced back to Japanese thinking on security during the fifties Its meaning goes far beyond requirements of military defence against a particular enemy and stresses the need to take into account other aspects vital to national stability food energy environment communication and social security While not denying the importance of military security it explicitly encompasses a wide range of other aspects the search for environmental security for instance which requires cooperation with other countries including hypothetical enemies The concept stresses the need for confidence building methods as a requirement for its attainment and pertains to issues such as preventive diplomacy energy security second order cybernetics greater transparency of international financial markets as means to enhance overall stability It is a notion that goes beyond simplifications such as us and them Since the word has been first coined in Japan it has caught on in other Asian countries as well It has become clear that the concept is particularly suited for a continent where large and powerful countries such as China Korea Japan and Indonesia are unlikely to enter into close cooperation along the model of the European Union In short in this volume a team of scholars from Asia Europe and the United States provide clear analyses of issues vital to Asian politics an important contribution to one of the key issues of contemporary Asian politics

The United States and the Pacific Jean Heffer, 2002 This work offers a history of the Pacific as a frontier of the United States using economics politics and culture as its central areas of consideration While many studies have analyzed specific regions within the Pacific this work considers the whole of this vast ocean and its coasts as a single unit of study In broadening the scope of analysis one of the author s primary aims is to expand American understanding of the term frontier to include the Pacific and its nations It covers periods stretching from 1784 the year the first ship flying the American flag reached China to 1867 the eve of the Civil War During this period America s presence was expanding throughout the entire ocean It also covers the period from 1868 to Pearl Harbour in 1941 witnessing a simultaneous contraction of the area within which various American interests were active and a gradual integration of the frontier region Finally World War II marks the beginning of the period which concludes in 1994 during which Heffer argues the entire Pacific becomes an American lake and the former frontier begins to disappear
