Pacific Women Taiamoni Tongamoa,1988 Pacific Women Taiamoni Tongamoa,1988 Gender Analysis in Papua New Guinea Elizabeth C. Brouwer,Bruce M. Harris,Sonomi Tanaka,1998-01-01 In October 1996 The East Asia and Pacific Region developed a Regional Gender Action Plan that stressed the importance of country specific strategies regarding gender issues This report on gender in Papua New Guinea intends to lay the foundation for such a strategy The report provides an outline of the key historical economic demographic political geographic socio cultural legal and institutional issues that are relevant to understanding the status of women in Papua New Guinea today Daughters of the Pacific Zohl Dé Ishtar,1994 This book gives a voice to the Pacific women and shows what strength there is in these underknown cultures our nearest neighbours The nuclear industry tourism dumping of waste pollution of the oceans all carry a huge price for these islands on the rim of the world and on the rim of our imaginations Women Leading Education Across the Continents Rachel McNae,Elizabeth C. Reilly,2018-09-12 Women Leading Education Across the Continents Harnessing the Joy in Leadership is the fifth collection of research from scholars around the globe who seek to understand the successes challenges and progress of girls and women leading in education Using a variety of approaches to their inquiries the scholars and practitioners in this book discover and document the work of women leaders throughout the world seeking to understand in more nuanced ways how to chart a path for a more just society for all This volume explores the status of women in educational leadership internationally the factors that affect their leadership their personal experiences and stories and their work within the broader context of human rights The journey of discovery in these pages invites titiro whakamua looking toward a world for the good of all people Family Violence and Social Change in the Pacific Islands Lois Bastide,Denis Regnier,2022-09-23 The Pacific Islands have some of the highest rates of family violence in the world Addressing the contemporary mutations of Pacific Island families and the shifting understandings of violence in the context of rapid social change this book investigates the conflict dynamics generated by these transformations The contributors draw from detailed case studies in a range of Pacific territories to examine family violence in relation to the social economic and political situation of native populations as well as individual collective and institutional responses to the development of violence within and upon the family They focus on vernacular understandings conflicting social norms the emergence of different types of violent patterns the impact of violence on individuals and communities and local attempts at mitigating or combating it Combining ethnographic expertise with engaged scholarship this volume offers a vivid account of ongoing social change in Pacific Island societies and a crucial contribution to the understanding of family violence as a social process cultural construct and political issue This book will appeal to scholars with interests in the sociology of violence and the family Pacific studies development studies and the social and cultural anthropology of Oceania Leadership in the Pacific Islands Donald R. Shuster,Peter Larmour,Karin von Strokirch,1998 Routledge International Encyclopedia of Women Chervis

Kramarae, Dale Spender, 2004-04-16 For a full list of entries and contributors sample entries and more visit the Routledge International Encyclopedia of Women website Featuring comprehensive global coverage of women's issues and concerns from violence and sexuality to feminist theory the Routledge International Encyclopedia of Women brings the field into the new millennium In over 900 signed A-Z entries from US and Europe Asia the Americas Oceania and the Middle East the women who pioneered the field from its inception collaborate with the new scholars who are shaping the future of women's studies to create the new standard work for anyone who needs information on women related subjects Law for Pacific Women Patricia Imrana Jalal, 1998 Jalal has been able to collect the inputs of many individuals working within the legal systems of nine jurisdictions all member states of the University of the South Pacific in the region This book represents an important collection of authorities and information in the region The information is presented as simply as possible with an attempt to explain legal concepts and ideas in non technical language Although this is not an academic text and is not aimed at an academic audience many will find it a useful point of reference for case examples and some legislative provisions Its main objective however is to politicize the position of women in the Pacific Ms Jalal's work is driven by her anger at the injustice that is caused to women in the Pacific because they are women Preface ix and in her introductory chapter she argues that Pacific Island feminism will pave the way for equality for women in the region Post-Colonial and African American Women's Writing Gina Wisker, 2017-03-04 This accessible and unusually wide ranging book is essential reading for anyone interested in postcolonial and African American women's writing It provides a valuable gender and culture inflected critical introduction to well established women writers Toni Morrison Alice Walker Margaret Atwood Suniti Namjoshi Bessie Head and others from the U S A India Africa Britain Australia New Zealand and introduces emergent writers from South East Asia Cyprus and Oceania Engaging with and clarifying contested critical areas of feminism and the postcolonial exploring historical background and cultural context economic political and psychoanalytic influences on gendered experience it provides a cohesive discussion of key issues such as cultural and gendered identity motherhood mothertongue language relationships women's economic constraints and sexual politics Pacific Women Taiamoni Tongamoa, 1988 Vanua Ilaitia S. Tuwere, 2002 A theological reflection on the links between the Fijian vanua and theology Dr Tuwere former principal of Pacific Theological College takes us on a journey of reconciliation with Fiji's multiculturalism as he searches to define contemporary Fijian identity This voyage through different myths of migration and into the trinity of vanua lotu and matanitu compels the reader to question assumptions about Fijian Society and Affirms the truth of the Gospel while challenging reigning falsehood This book is seminal and proactive it is an awakening Contextualizing Theology in the South Pacific Randall G. Prior, 2019-07-10 This book engages with a widespread contemporary dilemma how do we do theology in a context where the cultures of the people are oral and not literate The nations of the South Pacific from their missionary beginnings inherited an approach to theology that was dominated by Western cultural categories The global movement of contextualization began to impact upon Pacific churches in the 1960s and challenged this inherited approach. Significant changes have resulted but the dilemma has remained. The dominant approach is still one that is defined by and better suited to literate cultures. The consequence is that theology remains an alien enterprise distant from the life of the local churches and distant from the hearts and minds of the indigenous people. In facing the dilemma this book exposes the fundamental differences between primary oral cultures and primary literate cultures and identifies the key factors that lie at the heart of the theological problem. By addressing each of these in turn the author then paves the way ahead. He offers a methodology for theology that is rooted within the oral cultural context of the South Pacific and potentially in any context where oral cultures are the norm. The consequences for theology and for theological education are profound.

Culture and Society in the Asia-Pacific Colin Mackerras, Richard Maidment, 2005-07-28 This important new text examines the crucial social and cultural factors associated with the rise of the Asia Pacific region at the end of the Twentieth Century. It takes a close look at those areas which have affected the everyday life of the people most directly. These include the family, gender relations and the position of women, religion, the arts with specific reference to film, ethnic relations and population migration, education and the images of the Asia Pacific. The authors discuss real tensions between tradition and modernity in different nations of the Asia Pacific, exploring the effects that economic growth has on powerful traditional cultures.

Food and Nutrition in Fiji A. A. J. Jansen, Susan Parkinson, A. F. S. Robertson, 1990 This two volume set is devoted to a historical review of Fiji's food resources past and present and the approach to nutrition related diseases and their prevention.

The Cambridge History of the Pacific Islanders Donald Denoon, 2004-03-25 An authoritative and comprehensive history of the Pacific islanders from 40 000 BC to the present day.

Pacific Women in Politics Kerryn Baker, 2019-04-30 Women are significantly underrepresented in politics in the Pacific Islands given that only one in twenty Pacific parliamentarians are female compared to one in five globally. A common but controversial method of increasing the number of women in politics is the use of gender quotas or measures designed to ensure a minimum level of women's representation. In those cases where quotas have been effective they have managed to change the face of power in previously male dominated political spheres. How do political actors in the Pacific islands region make sense of the success or failure of parliamentary gender quota campaigns? To answer the question Kerryn Baker explores the workings of four campaigns in the region. In Samoa the campaign culminated in a safety net quota to guarantee a minimum level of representation set at five female members of Parliament. In Papua New Guinea between 2007 and 2012 there were successive campaigns for nominated and reserved seats in parliament without success although the constitution was amended in 2011 to allow for the possibility of reserved seats for women. In post conflict Bougainville women campaigned for reserved seats during the constitution making process and eventually won three reserved seats in the House of Representatives as well as one reserved ministerial position. Finally in the French Pacific territories of New Caledonia, French Polynesia and Wallis and Futuna Baker finds that there were campaigns both for and against the implementation of the so called parity laws Baker argues that the meanings of success in quota campaigns and related notions of gender and representation are interpreted by actors through drawing on different traditions and renegotiating and redefining them according to their goals pressures and dilemmas Broadening the definition of success thus is a key to an understanding of realities of quota campaigns Pacific Women in Politics is a pathbreaking work that offers an original contribution to gender relations within the Pacific and to contemporary Pacific politics Gender and Power in the Pacific Katarina Ferro, Margit Wolfsberger, 2003 Women from the Pacific Islands are often perceived by Europeans as passive beauties dancing the hula with a flower in their hair as docile companions of European or local men or as naive personalities surrounded by an endangered environment But far from that male Western reception of women s status which can be found in documentaries motion pictures as well as travel and adventure literature women are active and resolute agents who self confidently shape their societies through their courageous and determined acting in public as well as in their communities The current volume of Novara Contributions to Research on the Pacific wants to deliver insights into the lives of women from the Pacific Islands and shows how they deal with shifting gender relations in changing societies Traditions and adjustment processes to changing living conditions of women and men in Papua New Guinea Palau and New Zealand present fascinating research fields which open up the view to new living models apart from Western gender concepts Historical Dictionary of Polynesia Robert D. Craig, 2011 The term Polynesia refers to a cultural and geographical area in the Pacific Ocean bound by what is commonly referred to as the Polynesian Triangle which consists of Hawai i in the north New Zealand in the southwest and Easter Island in the southeast Thousands of islands are scattered throughout this area most of which are currently included in one of the modern island states of American Samoa Cook Islands French Polynesia Hawai i New Zealand Samoa Tonga Tokelau Tuvalu and Wallis and Futuna The third edition of the Historical Dictionary of Polynesia greatly expands on the previous editions through a chronology an introductory essay an expansive bibliography and over 400 cross referenced dictionary entries on significant persons events places organizations and other aspects of Polynesian history from the earliest times to the present Appendixes of the major islands and atolls within Polynesia the rulers and administrators of the 13 major island states and basic demographic information of those states are also included

Reweaving the Relational Mat Joan Filemoni-Tofaeono, Lydia Johnson, 2016-06-16 Reweaving the Relational Mat is an integrative response to the problem of violence against women which grounds theological and sociological analysis in the praxis of Oceanian Christian women s experiences of violence It focuses on the collusion of the church in the problem of violence against women by critiquing the ways in which its theology and practices have contributed to power over ways of relating Employing the Oceanian metaphor of weaving the mat the analysis unravels the patriarchal relational mat paving the way for a constructive reweaving of a Christocentric egalitarian relational mat The study begins by unravelling the correlation between violence and the ideology of patriarchy It then highlights the various strands of violence against women and examines the complex mosaic of socio cultural sources and manifestations of violence against women in Oceania This leads to an analysis of the interwoven strands of religion and violence focusing particularly on the church s captivity to patriarchy The ensuing explication of problematic theological and biblical interpretations and church practices ends with a critique of male clergy power particularly as it functions in the Oceanian context This leads to an examination of the relationship between flawed theological education and violence against women Case studies of violence against women in the Oceanian theological education setting are analysed The subsequent reweaving of the relational mat issues forth in specific challenges to church leaders theological educators and church women
