Pacific Writers Series The Crocodile:

The Crocodile Vincent Eri, 1972 Monographic Series Library of Congress, Cultural History of Reading Sara E. Quay, Gabrielle R. Watling, 2008-11-30 What is it about some books that makes them timeless Cultural History of Reading looks at books from their earliest beginnings through the present day in both the U S and regions all over the world Not only fiction and literature but religious works dictionaries scientific works and home guides such as Mrs Beeton s all have had an impact on not only their own time and place but continue to capture the attention of readers today Volume 1 examines the history of books in regions throughout the world identifying both literature and nonfiction that was influenced by cultural events of its time Volume 2 identifies books from the pre colonial era to the present day that have had lasting significance in the United States History students and book lovers alike will enjoy discovering the books that have impacted our world

Southerly, 1972 Vols for 1939 1944 include the Annual report of the Australian English Association v for 1945 1946 include the Annual report of the Sydney Branch of the English Association Pacific Islands Monthly, 1986 The Pacific Islands Brij V. Lal, Kate Fortune, 2000-01-01 An encyclopaedia of information on major aspects of Pacific life including the physical environment peoples history politics economy society and culture The CD ROM contains hyperlinks between section titles and sections a library of all the maps in the encyclopaedia and a photo library Oceania, 1977 Political Life Writing in the Pacific Jack Corbett, Brij V. Lal, 2015-07-29 This book aims to reflect on the experiential side of writing political lives in the Pacific region The collection touches on aspects of the life writing art that are particularly pertinent to political figures public perception and ideology identifying important political successes and policy initiatives grappling with issues like corruption and age old political science questions about leadership and dirty hands These are general themes but they take on a particular significance in the Pacific context and so the contributions explore these themes in relation to patterns of colonisation and the memory of independence issues elliptically captured by terms like culture and tradition the nature of self presented in Pacific life writing and the tendency for many of these texts to be written by outsiders or at least the increasingly contested nature of what that term means Papua New Guinea National Bibliography, 1987 Pacific Linguistics, 1988 New Guinea and Australia, the Pacific and South-East Asia, 1971 The Rise of Pacific Literature Matthew Hayward, Maebh Long, 2024-09-03 In the 1960s and 1970s the staff and students of two newly founded universities in the Pacific Islands helped foster a golden age of Oceanian literature At the University of Papua New Guinea and the University of the South Pacific bold experiments in curriculum design recentered literary studies around a Pacific modernity Rejecting the established British colonial model writer scholars placed Pacific oratory and a growing body of Oceanian writing at the heart of the syllabus From this local core students ventured outward to contemporary postcolonial literatures where they saw modernist techniques repurposed for a decolonizing world Only then did they turn to foundational modernist texts encountered at last as a set of creative tools rather than a canon to be copied or learned by rote The Rise of Pacific

Literature reveals the transformative role and radical adaptations of global modernisms in this golden age Maebh Long and Matthew Hayward examine the reading and teaching of Pacific oral narratives European and American modernisms and African Caribbean and Indian literature tracing how Oceanian writers appropriated and reworked key texts and techniques They identify the local innovations and international networks that spurred Pacific literature s golden age by reading crucial works against the poetry prose and plays on the syllabi of the new universities Placing internationally recognized writers such as Albert Wendt Subramani Konai Helu Thaman Marjorie Crocombe and John Kasaipwalova alongside lesser known authors of works published in Oceanian little magazines this book offers a wide ranging new account of Pacific literary history that tells a fresh story about modernism s global itineraries and transformations Papua New Guinea Fraiser McConnell,1988 Pacific Islands Writing Michelle Keown,2007 Beginning with an overview of European representations of the Pacific Michelle Keown presents a broad ranging introduction to the postcolonial literatures of the Pacific from the late 1960s through to the new millennium focusing mainly on writing in English but also exploring the growing corpus of francophone and hispanophone Pacific writing Southeast Asia Journal ,1969 Routes and Roots Elizabeth DeLoughrey,2009-12-31 Elizabeth DeLoughrey invokes the cyclical model of the continual movement and rhythm of the ocean tidalectics to destabilize the national ethnic and even regional frameworks that have been the mainstays of literary study The result is a privileging of alter native epistemologies whereby island cultures are positioned where they should have been all along at the forefront of the world historical process of transoceanic migration and landfall The research determination and intellectual dexterity that infuse this nuanced and meticulous reading of Pacific and Caribbean literature invigorate and deepen our interest in and appreciation of island literature Vilsoni Hereniko University of Hawai i Elizabeth DeLoughrey brings contemporary hybridity diaspora and globalization theory to bear on ideas of indigeneity to show the complexities of native identities and rights and their grounded opposition as indigenous regionalism to free floating globalized cosmopolitanism Her models are instructive for all postcolonial readers in an age of transnational migrations Paul Sharrad University of Wollongong Australia Routes and Roots is the first comparative study of Caribbean and Pacific Island literatures and the first work to bring indigenous and diaspora literary studies together in a sustained dialogue Taking the tidalectic between land and sea as a dynamic starting point Elizabeth DeLoughrey foregrounds geography and history in her exploration of how island writers inscribe the complex relation between routes and roots The first section looks at the sea as history in literatures of the Atlantic middle passage and Pacific Island voyaging theorizing the transoceanic imaginary The second section turns to the land to examine indigenous epistemologies in nation building literatures Both sections are particularly attentive to the ways in which the metaphors of routes and roots are gendered exploring how masculine travelers are naturalized through their voyages across feminized lands and seas This methodology of charting transoceanic migration and landfall helps elucidate how theories and people travel positioning island cultures in the world historical process In fact

DeLoughrey demonstrates how these tropical island cultures helped constitute the very metropolises that deemed them peripheral to modernity Fresh in its ideas original in its approach Routes and Roots engages broadly with history anthropology and feminist postcolonial Caribbean and Pacific literary and cultural studies It productively traverses diaspora and indigenous studies in a way that will facilitate broader discussion between these often segregated disciplines Once Were Pacific Alice Te Punga Somerville,2012 Explores the relationship between indigeneity and migration among Maori and Pacific peoples The Pacific Tale Mandy Treagus,2025-07-01 This book offers a genealogy of short fiction in English set in the Pacific and written by British American and Australian writers Through its analysis of texts by non Islander authors such as Robert Louis Stevenson Louis Becke Jack London W Somerset Maugham and James A Michener this book traces the rise of The Pacific Tale as a popular genre Exploring themes of masculinity and imperialism traders literary mapping and inter racial relationships plantation labour and racial taxonomies tropical breakdown missions and colonial illegitimacy together with militarism environmental destruction and the persistence of the trope of the Polynesian belle this study highlights the role and agency of Pacific Islanders despite the multiple fronts on which their cultures were impacted by colonial powers It concludes with the moment when Pacific writers Albert Wendt and Epeli Hau ofa express that agency in their own fictions moving beyond the tradition of the Pacific tale Inside Out Vilsoni Hereniko,Rob Wilson,1999-06-24 In a time of dynamism and contradiction in Pacific cultural production a time of turning things over and writing from the inside out this far reaching volume provides a comprehensive set of essays and interviews on the emergent literatures of the New Pacific With its dynamic combination of important position papers polemics and decolonizing critiques by noted authors and of analysis by new and established post colonial scholars this volume exposes the maze and mix of literatures and cultural identities breaking down and building up across the Pacific Ocean This pioneering work will be the definitive resource for anyone researching or teaching Pacific literature and will be invaluable for bringing Pacific culture to readers outside the region Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson,L.W. Conolly,2004-11-30 Post Colonial Literatures in English together with English Literature and American Literature form one of the three major groupings of literature in English and as such are widely studied around the world Their significance derives from the richness and variety of experience which they reflect In three volumes this Encyclopedia documents the history and development of this body of work and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide
