American Historical Pageantry David Glassberg, 1990 What images shape Americans perceptions of their past How do particular versions of history become the public history And how have these views changed over time David Glassberg explores these important questions by examining the pageantry craze of the The Patchwork of World History in Texas High Schools Stephen Jackson, 2022-11-30 This book traces the historical development of the World History course as it has been taught in high school classrooms in Texas a populous and nationally influential state over the last hundred years Arguing that the course is a result of a patchwork of competing groups and ideas that have intersected over the past century with each new framework patched over but never completely erased or replaced the author crucially examines themes of imperialism Eurocentrism and nationalism in both textbooks and the curriculum more broadly The first part of the book presents an overview of the World History course supported by numerical analysis of textbook content and public documents while the second focuses on the depiction of non Western peoples and persistent narratives of Eurocentrism and nationalism It ultimately offers that a more global accurate and balanced curriculum is possible despite the tension between the ideas of professional world historians who often de center the nation state in their quest for a truly global approach to the subject and the historical core rationale of state sponsored education in the United States to produce loyal citizens Offering a new conceptual understanding of how colonial themes in World History curriculum have been dealt with in the past and are now engaged with in contemporary times it provides essential context for scholars and educators with interests in the history of education curriculum studies and the teaching of World History in the United States Pageants in Great Britain and the United States Caroline Hill Davis, 1916 Consumerism in World History Peter N. appeal of this relatively modern phenomenon Indiana History Bulletin ,1923 Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature Anna Lorraine Guthrie,Bertha Tannehill,Neltje Marie Tannehill Shimer,1919 Nationalism Eric Storm,2024-10-29 A global perspective on the nature and evolution of nationalism from the early modern era to the present The current rise of nationalism across the globe is a reminder that we are not after all living in a borderless world of virtual connectivity In Nationalism historian Eric Storm sheds light on contemporary nationalist movements by exploring the global evolution of nationalism beginning with the rise of the nation state in the eighteenth century through the revival of nationalist ideas in the present day Storm traces the emergence of the unitary nation state which brought citizenship rights to some while excluding a multitude of others and the pervasive spread of nationalist ideas through politics and culture Storm shows how nationalism influences the arts and humanities mapping its dissemination through newspapers television and social media Sports and tourism too have helped fashion a world of discrete nations each with its own character heroes and highlights Nationalism saturates the physical environment not only in the form of national museums and patriotic statues but also in efforts to preserve cultural heritage create national parks invent ethnic dishes and beverages promote traditional building practices and cultivate native plants Nationalism has even been used for selling cars furniture and fashion By tracing these tendencies across countries Storm shows that nationalism s watershed moments were global He argues that the rise of new nation states was largely determined by shifts in the international context that the relationships between nation states and their citizens largely developed according to global patterns and that worldwide intellectual trends influenced the nationalization of both culture and environment Over the centuries nationalism has transformed both geopolitics and the everyday life of ordinary people How to Teach American History John Walter Wayland,1914

Index of Bicentennial Activities American Revolution Bicentennial Administration,1976 The African American Theatrical Body Soyica Diggs Colbert,2011-10-06 Presenting an innovative approach to performance studies and literary history Soyica Colbert argues for the centrality of black performance traditions to African American literature including preaching dancing blues and gospel and theatre itself showing how these performance traditions create the performative ground of African American literary texts Across a century of literary production using the physical space of the theatre and the discursive space of the page W E B Du Bois Zora Neale Hurston James Baldwin August Wilson and others deploy performances to re situate black people in time and space The study examines African American plays past and present including A Raisin in the Sun Blues for Mister Charlie and Joe Turner s Come and Gone demonstrating how African American dramatists stage black performances in their plays as acts of recuperation and restoration creating sites that have the potential to repair the damage caused by slavery and its aftermath History Textbooks and the Wars in Asia Gi-Wook Shin,Daniel C. Snider,2011-02-08 Over the past fifteen years Northeast Asia has witnessed growing intraregional exchanges and interactions especially in the realms of culture and economy Still the region cannot escape from the burden of history

This book examines the formation of historical memory in four Northeast Asian societies China Japan South Korea and Taiwan and the United States focusing on the period from the beginning of the Sino Japanese war in 1931 until the formal conclusion of the Pacific War with the San Francisco Peace Treaty of 1951 The contributors analyse the recent efforts of Korean Japanese and Chinese scholars to write a common history of Northeast Asia and question the underlying motivations for their efforts and subsequent achievements In doing so they contend that the greatest obstacle to reconciliation in Northeast Asia lies in the existence of divided and often conflicting historical memories The book argues that a more fruitful approach lies in understanding how historical memory has evolved in each country and been incorporated into respective master narratives Through uncovering the existence of different master narratives it is hoped citizens will develop a more self critical self reflective approach to their own history and that such an introspective effort has the potential to lay the foundation for greater self and mutual understanding and eventual historical reconciliation in the region This book will be essential reading for students and scholars of Asian history Asian education and international relations in East Asia
