Klee's Mirror John Sallis, 2015-02-19 A philosophical perspective on the relation between Paul Klee's art and his thought The artist Paul Klee once said that art does not reproduce the visible but makes visible In Klee's Mirror John Sallis examines the various ways in which Klee's art makes visible things that ordinarily go unseen He shows how Klee's art is like a mirror capable of reflecting not only the surface appearance of things but also their hidden depth and the cosmic setting to which they belong Tracing the relation of Klee's paintings and drawings to music poetry and philosophy Sallis also takes account of Klee's own extensive writings both theoretical and autobiographical and of the incisive lectures that he presented while teaching at the Bauhaus Featuring large high quality reproductions Klee's Mirror shows how the painter's theories both are exemplified in his art and in turn are enhanced and extended by what his art achieves and reveals Klee's Mirror is a masterful interpretation of one of the most inspiring artists in the Western tradition one that will surely capture the interest of philosophers art history scholars as well as students and lovers of Paul Klee's works Alejandro A Vallega author of Sense and Finitude Encounters at the Limits of Language Art and the Political Paul Klee mused in his diary that his art was a kind of mirror whose aim was not to reflect the surface but rather to penetrate inside such that for example his human faces are truer than the real ones In his exquisite new study Sallis takes up the complex question of Klee's mysterious mirrors On the one hand Klee's works themselves are mirrors of truth making visible Sallis tells us what otherwise remains invisible reflecting what lies beyond the visible surface of things On the other hand Klee's own theoretical writings are extraordinarily articulate and they uniquely mirror his artistic work Klee's paintings are not however illustrations or representations of Klee's ideas The mirror of Klee's painting demands a new kind of reflective writing Finally there is the mirror of Sallis own work deftly navigating between Klee's brilliant double mirror play producing in turn a startlingly and innovative mode of writing that twists free of the dualism of sensibility and intelligibility Jason M Wirth author of The Conspiracy of Life Meditations on Schelling and His Time The Micro Revolution Peter Large,1980
