Printed Image in the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Centuries Grażyna Jurkowlaniec,Magdalena Herman,2020-09-01 This book examines the early development of the graphic arts from the perspectives of material things human actors and immaterial representations while broadening the geographic field of inquiry to Central Europe and the British Isles and considering the reception of the prints on other continents The role of human actors proves particularly prominent i e the circumstances that informed creators producers owners and beholders motivations and responses Certainly such a complex relationship between things people and images is not an exclusive feature of the pre modern period s print cultures However the rise of printmaking challenged some established rules in the arts and visual realms and thus provides a fruitful point of departure for further study of the development of the various functions and responses to printed images in the sixteenth century The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history print history book history and European studies The introduction of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4 0 license at https://www.taylorfrancis.com/chapters/oa-edit/10.4324/9781003029199_1/introduction-grazyna-jurkowlaniec-magdalena-herman-context-ubx-refld-b6a86646-c9f3-490d-8a06-2946acd75fda

German Paintings in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, 1350-1600 Maryan W. Ainsworth,Joshua P. Flemish and Dutch Artists in Early Modern England MaryBryanH. Curd,2017-07-05 By examining their production practices in a variety of genres including manuscript illustration glass painting and staining tapestry manufacture portrait painting and engraving this book explores how Netherlandish artists migrating to England in the early modern period overcame difficulties raised by their outsider status This study examines for the first time in this context the challenges of alien status to artistic production and the effectiveness of cooperation as a countermeasure The author demonstrates that collaboration was chief among the strategies that these foreigners chose to secure a position in London s changing art market Curd s exploration of these collaborations primarily follows Pierre Bourdieu s model of establishment and challenger in which dominance in a field of cultural production depends upon how much cultural political and economic capital can be accumulated and the effectiveness of the strategies used to confront competition The analysis presented here challenges received opinion that a collaborative work is only a joint effort of artists working together on a single monument by demonstrating that the participation of patrons and middlemen can also shape the final appearance of a work of art Furthermore this book shows that the strategic use of collaboration served the goal of competition by helping to establish foreign artists in the London art market and suggests that their coping strategies have implications for the study of immigrant behaviors today From Van Eyck to Bruegel Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.),1998 Published in conjunction with the 1999 exhibition of the same name ten essays and 317 illustrations 157 in color depict northern Renaissance painting in Belgium and the Netherlands This lovely book includes such artists as Van Eyck Campin Van der Weyden David Memling and Bruegel and contains commentaries on individual works an appendix of paintings not covered in the text artists biographies a glossary a bibliography and comparative illustrations Oversize 9 5x11 25Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Art and Dis-illusion in the Long Sixteenth Century Larry Silver,2023-04-12 Whereas entire libraries discuss the religious and political history of the sixteenth century in Northern Europe focused on the Reformation and the rise of nation states Larry Silver uniquely traces the dramatic even traumatic changes of the Reformation era discernible in the visual arts especially paintings and the new medium of prints Among the subjects and themes he explores are the destruction of church images witchcraft reactions to new voyages of exploration and issues of vision itself in an age when moral codes and the nature of sin and death were being re examined Rethinking Place in South Asian and Islamic Art, 1500-Present Deborah S. Hutton,Rebecca M. Brown,2016-10-04 Place plays a fundamental role in the structuring of the discipline of Art History And yet place also limits the questions art historians can ask and impairs analysis of objects and locations in the interstices of established ossified categories The chapters in this interdisciplinary volume investigate place in all of its dynamism and complexity several call into question traditional constructions regarding place in Art History while others explore the fundamental role that place plays in lived experience The particular nexus for this collection lies at the intersection and overlap of two major subfields in the history of art South Asia and the Islamic world both of which are seemingly geographically determined yet at the same time uncategorizable as place with their ever shifting and contested borders The eleven chapters brought together here move from the early modern through to the contemporary and span particular monuments and locations ranging from Asia and Europe to Africa and the Americas The chapters take on the question of place as it operates in more obvious settings such as architectural monuments and exhibitionary contexts while also probing the way place operates when objects move or when the very place they exist in transforms dramatically This volume engages place through the movement of objects the evocation of senses desires and memories and the on going project of articulating the parameters of place and location Collected Writings: Netherlandish art of the 15th and 16th

The New Art of the Fifteenth Century: Faith and Art in Florence and The Netherlands Shirley Neilsen

Blum, 2013-09-03 A fresh look at the early Renaissance considering Florentine and Netherlandish art as a single phenomenon at once deeply spiritual and entirely new Adam and Eve are driven from the Garden of Eden into a rocky landscape their naked bodies lit by a cold sun their gestures and expressions a study in shame and anguish A serious man well attired kneels in prayer before the Virgin and Child close enough to touch them almost his furrowed brow setting off the saintly perfection of their features In fifteenth century Florence and Flanders painters were using an arsenal of new techniques including perspective anatomy and the accurate treatment of light and shade to present traditional religious subjects with an unprecedented immediacy and emotional power Their art was the product of a shared Christian culture and their patrons included not only nobles and churchmen but also the middle classes of these thriving commercial centers Shirley Neilsen Blum offers a new synthesis of this remarkable period in Western art between the refinements of the Gothic and the classicism of the High Renaissance when the mystical was made to seem real In the first part of her text Blum traces the emergence of a new naturalism in the sculpture of Claus Sluter and Donatello and then in the painting of Van Eyck and Masaccio In the second part she compares scenes from the Infancy and Passion of Christ as rendered by artists from North and South Exploring both the images themselves and the theological concepts that lie behind them she re creates as far as possible the experience of the contemporary fifteenth century viewer Abundantly illustrated with color plates of masterworks by Fra Angelico Botticelli Rogier van der Weyden and others this thought provoking volume will appeal equally to general readers and students of art history
