Authors and Art Movements of the Twentieth Century Declan Lloyd, 2022-12-30 This book explores the great influence of twentieth century artists and art movements on many major writers of the twentieth century It focuses in particular on four seminal writers who were strongly influenced by very different movements they are Gertrude Stein and Cubism William S Burroughs and Dada J G Ballard and Surrealism and Douglas Coupland and Pop Art For these authors the presence and influence of these art movements is not limited to a small cluster of texts but can be felt much more expansively across their work infiltrating all manner of multifarious and complex dimensions These authors are all keen to explore new methods of shifting the signature styles and forms of visual art into the literary world Alongside these more overt methods of artistic transposition the authors also often demonstrate a deep philosophical affinity with their chosen movements This book uproots and examines these kinds of artistic engagements and also explores the authors own personal connections with the world of art For these are all authors not only interested in visual art but also intimately connected to the art world Indeed some went on to become renowned artists in their own right while others were closely associated with major historical art figures Above all however they are unified by a kindred interest in exploring how the methods and philosophies of art can be transposed into and even challenge the constraints of traditional forms of literature Apocalypse in British Art and Visual Culture in the Early Twentieth Century Thomas Bromwell, 2024-11-29 This book is the first substantial study of the presence and relationship with the concepts of apocalypse eschatology and millennium in modern British art from 1914 to 1945 addressing how and why practitioners in both religious and secular spheres turned to the subjects The volume examines British art and visual culture's relationship with the then contemporary anxieties and hopes regarding the orientation of society and culture arguing that there is an acute relationship to the particular forms of cultural discourse of eschatology apocalypse and millennium Chapters identify the continued relevance of religion and religious themes in British art during the period and demonstrate that eschatology apocalypse and millennium were thriving and surprisingly mainstream concepts in the period that remained vital in early to mid twentieth century society and culture This book is a research monograph aimed at an audience of scholars and graduate students already familiar with the core focus of modern British art and cultural histories especially those working on the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries or the concepts of apocalypse eschatology and millennium in Theology Sociology or other disciplinary settings It will also be of interest to scholars and students working on war and visual culture or histories of imperialism It will benefit scholars of early twentieth century British art demonstrating the intersection of art and religion in the modern era and critically qualifies the standard secular canon and narrative of modern British art and the general neglect of religion in existing art historical literature
