Museum, Atlanta Committee for the Olympic Games, 1996 The years around the turn of the century were a dynamic time in American art Different and seemingly contradictory movements were evolving and the dominant style that emerged during this period was Impressionism Based in part on the broken brushwork and high keyed palette of Claude Monet it was a form especially suited to the dramatic landscape and shimmering light of California This book celebrates forty Impressionist painters who worked in California from 1900 through the beginning of the Great Depression it includes widely recognized California artists such as Maurice Braun and Guy Rose less well known artists such as Mary DeNeale Morgan and Donna Schuster and eastern painters who worked briefly in the region such as Childe Hassam and William Merritt Chase The contributors essays examine the socioeconomic forces that shaped this art movement as well as the ways in which the art reflected California's self cultivated image as a healthful sun splashed arcadia Bohemian Los Angeles Daniel

Hurewitz, 2008-04-30 Historian Hurewitz brings to life a vibrant and all but forgotten milieu of artists leftists and gay men and women whose story played out over the first half of the twentieth century and continues to shape the entire American landscape In a hidden corner of Los Angeles the personal first became the political the nation's first enduring gay rights movement emerged and the broad spectrum of what we now think of as identity politics was born Portraying life over more than forty years in the hilly enclave of Edendale now part of Silver Lake Hurewitz considers the work of painters and printmakers looks inside the Communist Party's intimate cultural scene and examines the social world of gay men He discovers why and how these communities inspiring both one another and the city as a whole transformed American notions of political identity with their ideas about self expression political engagement and race relations From publisher description
