Phineas Finn Trollope 1989:

Allegories of Union in Irish and English Writing, 1790-1870 Mary Jean Corbett, 2000-09-14 In this book Mary Jean Corbett explores fictional and non fictional representations of Ireland's relationship with England throughout the nineteenth century Through postcolonial and feminist theory she considers how cross cultural contact is negotiated through tropes of marriage and family and demonstrates how familial rhetoric sometimes works to sustain sometimes to contest the structures of colonial inequality Analyzing novels by Edgeworth Owenson Gaskell Kingsley and Trollope as well as writings by Burke Carlyle Engels Arnold and Mill Corbett argues that the colonizing imperative for reforming the Irish in an age of imperial expansion constitutes a largely unrecognized but crucial element in the rhetorical project of English nation formation By situating her readings within the varying historical and rhetorical contexts that shape them she revises the critical orthodoxies surrounding colonial discourse that currently prevail in Irish and English studies and offers a fresh perspective on important aspects of Victorian culture

Victorian Fiction and the Cult of the Horse Gina M. Dorré, 2016-12-05 The horse was essential to the workings of Victorian society and its representations which are vast ranging and often contradictory comprise a vibrant cult of the horse Examining the representational emblematic and rhetorical uses of horses in a diversity of nineteenth century texts Gina M Dorré shows how discourses about horses reveal and negotiate anxieties related to industrialism and technology constructions of gender and sexuality ruptures in the social fabric caused by class conflict and mobility and changes occasioned by national progress and imperial expansion She argues that as a cultural object the horse functions as a repository of desire and despair in a society rocked by astonishing social economic and technological shifts While representations of horses abound in Victorian fiction Gina M Dorré's study focuses on those novels by Charles Dickens Elizabeth Braddon Anna Sewell and George Moore that engage with the most impassioned controversies concerning horses and horse care such as the introduction of the steam engine popular new methods of horse taming debates over the tight reining of horses and the moral furor surrounding gambling at the race track Her book establishes the centrality of the horse as a Victorian cultural icon and explores how through it dominant ideologies of gender and class are created promoted and disrupted

The Politics of Form Sarah Copland, Greta Olson, 2018-10-16 This volume enacts a project we term a politics of form working to politicise the formal analysis of narrative in novels life narratives documentaries dramas short prose works and multimodal texts while retaining the form specificity that is distinctive of narratology The introduction offers an overview of how to perform narrative analysis in conjunction with ideological critique while the chapters unite the formal analysis of texts with readings that uncover how structures of social power are expressed in as well as challenged by aesthetic forms The contributors address the need to develop sustained political analysis of aesthetic and narrative forms and they articulate methods for performing such analysis while reflecting on the politics of the work they undertake By establishing criteria to describe the politicised use of narrative forms and by historicising narratological concepts the volume bridges theoretical gaps between narratology critical theory and cultural analysis resulting in the refinement of existing narratological models This book was originally published as a special issue of the European Journal of English Studies

The Ritual Culture of Victorian Professionals Albert D. Pionke, 2016-02-24 Focusing on the middle decades of the nineteenth century Albert D Pionke's book historicizes the relationship of ritual class and public status in Victorian England His analysis of various discourses related to professionalization suggests that public ritual flourished during the period especially among the burgeoning ranks of Victorian professions As Pionke shows magazines court cases law books manuals and works by authors that include William Makepeace Thackeray Thomas Hughes Anthony Trollope Charles Dickens George Eliot and Elizabeth Barrett Browning demonstrate the importance of ritual in numerous professional settings Individual chapters reconstruct the ritual cultures of pre professionalism provided to Oxbridge undergraduates of oath taking in a wide range of professional creation and promotion ceremonies of the education promotion and public practice of Victorian barristers and of Victorian Parliamentary elections A final chapter considers the consequences of rituals that fail through the lens of the Eglinton tournament The uneasy place of Victorian writers who were both promoters of and competitors with more established professionals is considered throughout Pionke's book excavates Victorian professionals vital ritual culture at the same time that its engagement with literary representations of the professions reconstructs writers unique place in the zero sum contest for professional status

Erotic Faith Robert M. Polhemus, 1995-03 In this profoundly original and far reaching study Robert M Polhemus shows how novels have helped to make erotic love a matter of faith in modern life Erotic faith Polhemus argues is an emotional conviction ultimately religious in nature that meaning value hope and even the possibility of transcendence can be found in love Drawing on a wide range of disciplines Polhemus shows the reciprocity of love as subject the novel as form and faith as motive in important works by Jane Austen Walter Scott the Brontës Dickens George Eliot Trollope Thomas Hardy Joyce D H Lawrence Virginia Woolf and Samuel Beckett Throughout Polhemus relates the novelists representation of love to that of such artists as Botticelli Vermeer Claude Lorrain Redon and Klimt Juxtaposing their paintings with nineteenth and twentieth century texts both reveals the ways in which novels develop and individualize common erotic and religious themes and illustrates how the novel has influenced our perception of all art

New Men in Trollope's Novels Margaret Markwick, 2017-11-28 New Men in Trollope's Novels challenges the popular construction of Victorian men as patriarchal despots and suggests that hands on fatherhood may have been a nineteenth century norm Beginning with an evaluation of the evidence for cultural determinations of masculinity during Trollope's times the author sets the stage with a discussion of the religious philosophical and educational influences that informed the evolution of Trollope's personal views of masculinity as he grew from boyhood into later manhood Her treatment of his novels drawing on a wide selection from across the oeuvre shows that sensitive examination of Trollope's texts discovers him advancing a startlingly modern model of manhood under a veneer of conformity Trollope's independent views on child rearing education courtship marriage parenthood and gay men are also discussed within the context of Victorian culture in this witty original and immensely knowledgeable study of Victorian masculinity Bowker's Guide to Characters in Fiction 2007, 2008-02

The Victorian Geopolitical Aesthetic Lauren M. E. Goodlad, 2015 How did realist fiction alter in the effort to craft forms and genres receptive to the dynamism of an expanding empire and globalizing world Do these nineteenth century variations on the geopolitical aesthetic continue to resonate today Crossing literary criticism political theory and longue durée history The Victorian Geopolitical Aesthetic explores these questions from the standpoint of nineteenth century novelists such as Wilkie Collins George Eliot Gustave Flaubert and Anthony Trollope as well as successors including E M Forster and the creators of recent television serials By looking at the category of sovereignty at multiple scales and in diverse contexts Lauren M E Goodlad shows that the ideological crucible for high realism was not a hegemonic liberalism It was rather a clash of modern liberal ideals struggling to distinguish themselves from a powerful conservative vision of empire while striving to negotiate the inequalities of power which a supposedly universalistic liberalism had helped to generate The material occasion for the Victorian era's rich realist experiments was the long transition from an informal empire of trade that could be celebrated as liberal to a neo feudal imperialism that only Tories could warmly embrace The book places realism's geopolitical aesthetic at the heart of recurring modern experiences of breached sovereignty forgotten history and subjective exile The Coda titled The Way We Historicize Now concludes the study with connections to recent debates about surface reading distant reading and the hermeneutics of suspicion Encyclopedia of the Novel Paul
