PIRATE'S FIANCEE MEAGHAN. MORRIS, 2018 The Pirate's Fiancée Meaghan Morris, 1988 The Pirate's Fiancée Meaghan Morris, 1988 Ensayos en los que se analizan las consecuencias que tienen para el feminismo las transformaciones culturales y los posibles puntos de conexión entre feminismo y postmodernismo Los temas tratados desde esta perspectiva son variados Cine fotografía de arte Así como análisis de Foucault Mary Daly Susan Sontag Jean Baudrillard Michele Le Doeuff Jean François Lyotard Feminist Jurisography Ann Genovese, 2022-12-30 This book offers a jurisprudential meditation on and methodological performance of how feminist and legal thought come into relation This book is about the conduct of one's scholarship and why it requires examination Across six essays the book reintroduces official and unofficial jurisprudence writing of the late 20th century to show how disciplinary methods were transformed and how relations between people and place and between law and humanities were transferred from the periphery to the centre of contemporary scholarship To demonstrate this story Feminist Jurisography experiments with genre style and form to historicise the relationship of a feminist jurist to her own sources methods and interlocutors and remind that it was feminist intellectuals from 1949 onwards who altered conducts of interdisciplinary scholarship in ways that are underacknowledged today It exemplifies why naming a practice for yourself is an acknowledgment of relations of difference collaboration and inheritance but also a performance of the feminist tradition of intellectual self assertion that the book explores The book will be a useful resource for scholars and students of law and humanities feminism and history and of value to a general audience interested in feminist ideas The book will benefit contemporary conversations about the history and status of feminist contributions to these fields Elizabeth Bowen Renée C. Hoogland, 1994-06 Immensely popular during her lifetime the Anglo Irish writer Elizabeth Bowen 1899-1973 has since been treated as a peripheral figure on the literary map If only in view of her prolific outputten novels nearly eighty short stories and a substantial body of non fiction Bowen is a noteworthy novelist The radical quality of her work however renders her an exceptional one Surfacing in both subject matter and style her fictions harbor a subversive potential which has hitherto gone unnoticed Using a wide range of critical theories from semiotics to psychoanalysis from narratology to deconstruction this book presents a radical re-reading of a selection of Bowen's novels from a lesbian feminist perspective Taking into account both cultural contexts and the author's non-fictional writings the book's main focus is on configurations of gender and sexuality Bowen's fiction constitutes an exploration of the unstable and destabilizing effects of sexuality in the interdependent processes of subjectivity and what she herself referred to as so-called reality A Postmodern Reader Joseph Natoli, Linda Hutcheon, 1993-06-29 These readings are organized into four sections The first explores the wellsprings of the debates in the relationship between the postmodern and the enterprise it both continues and contravenes modernism Here philosophers social and political commentators as well as cultural and literary analysts present controversial background essays on the complex history of postmodernism The readings in the second section debate the possibility or desirability of trying to define the postmodern given its cultural agenda of decentering challenging even undermining the guiding master narratives of Western culture The readings in the third section explore postmodernism's complicated complicity with these very narratives while the fourth section moves from theory to practice in order to investigate in a variety of fields the common denominators of the postmodern condition in action

Feminist Aesthetics in Music Sally Macarthur, 2001-10-30 Is there such a thing as women's music Do women write and listen to music differently than men do While recognizing that the differences among women are as distinct as the differences between genders this bold new study examines gender's influence on music The author's unique analytical strategy shows in its application to actual musical compositions that there is a fluid relationship between the music and the analyst between the text and the context and that 20th century music is inextricably bound to notions of gender that transcend aesthetics Much of the work on women's music to date has failed to deal critically with the actual compositions settling instead for more biographical or sociological approaches In this respect this work fills an important void Using many concrete examples and careful analyses of the work of such undervalued composers as Alma Mahler Werfel Anne Boyd and Moya Henderson it grounds the abstract firmly and fascinatingly in the practical

Sexing the Self Elspeth Probyn, 2003-09-02 Faced with the seemingly enormous difficulty of representing others many theorists working in Cultural Studies have been turning to themselves as a way of speaking about the personal In Sexing the Self Elspeth Probyn tackles this question of the sex of the self an issue of vital importance to feminists and yet neglected by feminist theory until now to suggest that there are ways of using our gendered selves in order to speak and theorize non essential but embodied selves Arguing for feminisms with attitude Sexing the Self ranges across a wide range of theoretical strands drawing upon a body of literature from early Cultural Studies to Anglo American feminist literary criticism from identity debates to Foucault's care of the self

A Critique of Postcolonial Reason Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak, 1999-06-28 Are the culture wars over When did they begin What is their relationship to gender struggle and the dynamics of class In her first full treatment of postcolonial studies a field that she helped define Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak one of the world's foremost literary theorists poses these questions from within the postcolonial enclave

Handbook of the Sociology of Gender Janet Saltzman Chafetz, 2006-11-22 During the past three decades feminist scholars have successfully demonstrated the ubiquity and omnirelevance of gender as a sociocultural construction in virtually all human collectivities past and present Intrapsychic interactional and collective social processes are gendered as are micro meso and macro social structures Gender shapes and is shaped in all arenas of social life from the most mundane practices of everyday life to those of the most powerful corporate actors Contemporary understandings of gender emanate from a large community of primarily feminist scholars that spans the gamut of learned disciplines and also includes non academic activist thinkers However while incorporating some cross disciplinary material this volume focuses specifically on sociological theories and research concerning gender which are discussed across the full array of social processes structures and institutions As editor I have explicitly tried to shape the contributions to this volume along several lines that reflect my long standing views about sociology in general and gender sociology in particular First I asked authors to include cross national and historical material as much as possible This request reflects my belief that understanding and evaluating the here and now and working realistically for a better future can only be accomplished from a comparative perspective Too often American sociology has been both tempero and ethnocentric Second I have asked authors to be sensitive to within gender differences along class racial ethnic sexual preference and age cohort lines

Modern Conditions, Postmodern Controversies Barry

The Emotional Life of Postmodern Film Pansy Duncan,2015-11-19 Emotion and Postmodernism is it possible to imagine an odder couple stranger bedfellows less bad company The Emotional Life of Postmodern Film brings this unlikely pair into sustained dialogue arguing that the interdisciplinary body of scholarship currently emerging under the rubric of affect theory may be unexpectedly enriched by an encounter with the field that has become its critical other Across a series of radical re appraisals of canonical postmodern texts from Fredric Jameson s Postmodernism to David Cronenberg s Crash Duncan shows that the same postmodern archive that has proven resistant to strongly subject based and object oriented emotions like anger and sadness proves all too congenial to a series of idiosyncratic borderline emotions from knowingness fascination and bewilderment to boredom and euphoria The analysis of these emotions in turn promises to shake up scholarly consensus on two key counts On the one hand it will restructure our sense of the place and role of emotion in a critical enterprise that has long cast it as the stodgy subjective sister of a supposedly more critically interesting and politically productive affect On the other it will transform our perception of postmodernism as a now historical aesthetic and theoretical moment teaching us to acknowledge more explicitly and to name more clearly the emotional life that energizes it

Feminist Interpretations of Mary Daly Sarah Lucia Hoagland,Marilyn Frye,2010-11 This open ended anthology is a journey into the very canon that Mary Daly has argued to be patriarchal and demeaning to women This volume deauthorizes the official canon of Western philosophy and disrupts a related story told by some feminists who claim that Daly s work is unworthy of re reading because it contains fatal errors The editors and contributors attempt to prove that Mary Daly is located in the Western intellectual tradition Daly may be highly critical of conventional Western epistemological and theological traditions but she nevertheless appropriates themes out of context for the building of her own systematic philosophy The following are just a few of the many themes explored in this volume the question of subjectivity understood as an ongoing process of becoming the ambiguity of the need for feminists of colonial nations to speak out about violence against women in other parts of the world while that speaking carries with it the stamp of a colonial location the territoriality of lesbian and women s space the theological dimensions of twentieth century Western philosophy Contributors are Wanda Warren Berry Purushottama Bilimoria Debra Campbell Molly Dragiewicz Frances Gray Amber L Katherine AnaLouise Keating Anne Marie Korte Mar a Lugones Geraldine

Moane Sheilagh A Mogford Laurel C Schneider Renuka Sharma and Marja Suhonen Forget Baudrillard? Chris Rojek, Professor Bryan S Turner, Bryan Turner, 2002-11-01 Without doubt Jean Baudrillard is one of the most important figures currently working in the area of sociology and cultural studies but his writings infuriate as many people as they intoxicate This collection provides a wide ranging measured assessment of Baudrillard's work The contributors examine Baudrillard's relation to consumption modernity postmodernity social theory feminism politics and culture They attempt to steer a clear course between the hype which Baudrillard himself has done much to generate and the solid value of his startling thoughts Baudrillard's ideas and style of expression provide a challenge to established academic ways of proceeding and thinking The book explores this challenge and speculates on the reason for the extreme responses to Baudrillard's work The appeal of Baudrillard's arguments is clearly discussed and his place in contemporary social theory is shrewdly assessed Baudrillard emerges as a chameleon figure but one who is obsessed with the central themes of style hypocrisy seduction simulation and fatality Although these themes abound in postmodern thought they are also evident in a certain strand of modernist thought one which embraces the writings of Baudelaire and Nietzsche Baudrillard's protestation is that he is not a postmodernist is taken seriously in this collection The balanced and accessible style of the contributions and the fairness and rigour of the assessments make this book of pressing interest to students of sociology philosophy and cultural studies
