Reading the World Mary Franklin-Brown, 2024-05-31 The thirteenth century saw such a proliferation of new encyclopedic texts that more than one scholar has called it the century of the encyclopedias Various referred to as a speculum thesaurus or imago mundi the term encyclopedia was not commonly applied to such books until the eighteenth century these texts were organized in such a way that a reader could easily locate a collection of authoritative statements on any given topic Because they reproduced rather than simply summarized parts of prior texts these compilations became libraries in miniature In this groundbreaking study Mary Franklin Brown examines writings in Latin Catalan and French that are connected to the encyclopedic movement Vincent of Beauvais s Speculum maius Ramon Llull s Libre de meravelles Arbor scientiae and Arbre de filosofia d amor and Jean de Meun s continuation of the Roman de la Rose Franklin Brown analyzes the order of knowledge in these challenging texts describing the wide ranging interests the textual practices including commentary compilation and organization and the diverse discourses that they absorb from preexisting classical patristic and medieval writing She also demonstrates how these encyclopedias like libraries became heterotopias of knowledge spaces where many possible ways of knowing are juxtaposed But Franklin Brown s study will not appeal only to historians she argues that a revised understanding of late medievalism makes it possible to discern a close connection between scholasticism and contemporary imaginative literature She shows how encyclopedists employed the same practices of figuration narrative and citation as poets and romanciers while much of the difficulty of the imaginative writing of this period derives from a juxtaposition of heterogeneous discourses inspired by encyclopedias With rich and innovative readings of texts both familiar and neglected Reading the World reveals how the study of encyclopedism can illuminate both the intellectual work and the imaginative writing of the scholastic age

Learning, Keeping, and Using Language M.A.K. Halliday,John Gibbons,Howard Nicholas,1990-01-01 This volume contains selected papers from the Eight World Congress of Applied Linguistics held in Sydney in 1987 Volume I starts off with an overview of the field by G Richard Tucker in which he identifies two areas innovative language education and language education policy The overall focus of the papers to follow focus on the individual language learner how that individual in given contexts or in interaction with specific others develops a command of a first language of two or more first languages or of a second language in home and in classroom settings At the same time cutting across these variables there is a gradual shifting of attention from investigations of the language learning process to proposals for language teaching curricula and syllabuses Children's Catalog of Thirty-five Hundred Books H.W.
