Senegal Places And Peoples Of The World:

Our World: Its Cities, Peoples, Mountains, Seas and Rivers ... With ... Illustrations Edward Farr, 1870 State of the World's Cities 2008/9 Un-Habitat, 2012-05-04

Cities are perhaps one of humanity's most complex creations never finished never definitive They are like a journey that never ends Their evolution is determined by their ascent into greatness or their descent into decline They are the past the present and the future Cities contain both order and chaos In them reside beauty and ugliness virtue and vice They can bring out the best or the worst in humankind They are the physical manifestation of history and culture and incubators of innovation industry technology entrepreneurship and creativity Cities are the materialization of humanity's noblest ideas ambitions and aspirations but when not planned or governed properly can be the repository of society's ills Cities drive national economies by creating wealth enhancing social development and providing employment but they can also be the breeding grounds for poverty exclusion and environmental degradation The 21st Century is the Century of the City Half of humanity now lives in cities and within the next two decades 60 per cent of the world's people will reside in urban areas How can city planners and policymakers harmonize the various interests diversity and inherent contradictions within cities What ingredients are needed to create harmony between the physical social environmental and cultural aspects of a city and the human beings that inhabit it This report adopts the concept of Harmonious Cities as a theoretical framework in order to understand today's urban world and also as an operational tool to confront the most important challenges facing urban areas and their development processes It recognizes that tolerance diversity social justice and good governance all of which are inter related are as important to sustainable urban development as physical planning It addresses national concerns by searching for solutions at the city level For that purpose it focuses on three key areas spatial or regional harmony which examines the main drivers of urban growth in the developing world and explores the spatial nuances of economic and social policies social harmony which presents and analyzes new data on urban inequalities worldwide and describes the types of shelter deprivations experienced by slum dwellers in developing world regions and environmental harmony which examines the role of cities in the climate change debate and the impact of global warming on the most vulnerable cities The report also assesses the various intangible assets within cities that contribute to harmony such as cultural heritage sense of place and memory and the complex set of social and symbolic relationships that give cities meaning It argues that these intangible assets represent the soul of the city and are as important for harmonious urban development as tangible assets Harmony within cities argues the report is both a journey and a destination Published with UN HABITAT

Brothers in Pen: Six Cubic Feet San Quentin Nine, 2011-09-09 Foreword by Junot Diaz This anthology emerges from the Creative Writing class of San Quentin State Prison The subtitle Six Cubic Feet refers to the amount of space each prisoner is allotted for personal property The work presented here attests in a variety of voices to the ways that stories can transcend even the severe constricted enclosure of prison Contributors include Cole Bienek Charles

Southern Innovator Magazine Issue 4: Cities and Urbanization David South, Editor and Writer,2013-09-10 Launched in May 2011 the new global magazine Southern Innovator is about the people across the global South shaping our new world eradicating poverty and working towards the achievement of the Millennium Development Goals MDGs They are the innovators Issue 1 covered the theme of mobile phones and information technology Issue 2 covered the theme of youth and entrepreneurship Issue 3 covered the theme of agribusiness and food security Issue 4 covers the theme of cities and urbanization The Enculturated Gene Duana Fullwiley,2011-11-07 In the 1980s a research team led by Parisian scientists identified several unique DNA sequences or haplotypes linked to sickle cell anemia in African populations After casual observations of how patients managed this painful blood disorder the researchers in question postulated that the Senegalese type was less severe The Enculturated Gene traces how this genetic discourse has blotted from view the roles that Senegalese patients and doctors have played in making sickle cell mild in a social setting where public health priorities and economic austerity programs have forced people to improvise informal strategies of care Duana Fullwiley shows how geneticists who were fixated on population differences never investigated the various modalities of self care that people developed in this context of biomedical scarcity and how local doctors confronted with dire cuts in Senegal's health sector wittingly accepted the genetic prognosis of better than expected health outcomes Unlike most genetic determinisms that highlight the absoluteness of disease DNA haplotypes for sickle cell in Senegal did the opposite As Fullwiley demonstrates they allowed the condition to remain officially invisible never to materialize as a health priority At the same time scientists attribution of a less severe form of Senegalese sickle cell to isolated DNA sequences closed off other explanations of this population's measured biological success The Enculturated Gene reveals how the notion of an advantageous form of sickle cell in this part of West Africa has defined and obscured the nature of this illness in Senegal today Some images inside the book are unavailable due to digital copyright restrictions

With the World's People John Clark Ridpath, 1912 The Faces of Africa: Diversity and Progress, 1972 Migration and Environmental Change in the West African Sahel Victoria van der Land, 2017-10-12 The West African Sahel is predicted to be heavily affected by climate change in the future Slow onset environmental changes such as increasing rainfall variability and rising temperature are presumed to worsen the livelihood conditions and to increase the out migration from the affected regions Based on qualitative and quantitative data from study areas in Mali and Senegal this book examines the relationship between population dynamics livelihoods and environment in the Sahel region focussing specifically on motives for migration Critiquing the assumption that environmental stress is the dominating migration driver the author demonstrates the important role of individual aspirations and social processes such as educational opportunities and the pull of urban lifestyles In doing so the book provides a more nuanced picture of the environment migration nexus arguing that slow onset environmental changes may actually be less important as drivers of migration in the Sahel than they are often depicted in the media and climate change literature This is a valuable resource for academics and students of environmental sociology migration and development studies Senegal Abroad

Maya Angela Smith, 2019-03-05 Senegal Abroad explores the fascinating role of language in national transnational postcolonial racial and migrant identities Capturing the experiences of Senegalese in Paris Rome and New York it depicts how they make sense of who they are and how they fit into their communities countries and the larger global Senegalese diaspora Drawing on extensive interviews with a wide range of emigrants as well as people of Senegalese heritage Maya Angela Smith contends that they shape their identity as they purposefully switch between languages and structure their discourse The Senegalese are notable Smith suggests both in their capacity for movement and in their multifaceted approach to language She finds that although the emigrants she interviews express complicated relationships to the multiple languages they speak and the places they inhabit they also convey pleasure in both travel and language Offering a mix of poignant funny reflexive introspective and witty stories they blur the lines between the utility and pleasure of language allowing a more nuanced understanding of why and how Senegalese move
