Sensing Others:

Sensing Others Alice Rudge, 2023-10 Sensing Others explores the lives of Indigenous Batek people in Peninsular Malaysia amid the strange and the new in the borderland between protected national park and oil palm plantation As their ancestral forests disappear around them Batek people nevertheless attempt to live well among the strange Others they now encounter out of place animals and plants traders tourists poachers and forest guards How Batek people voice their experiences of the good and the strange in relation to these Others challenges essentialized notions of cultural and species difference and the separateness of ethical worlds Drawing on meticulous long term ethnographic research with Batek people Alice Rudge argues that as people seek to make habitable a constantly changing landscape what counts as Otherness is always under negotiation Anthropology's traditional dictum to make the strange familiar and the familiar strange creates a binary between the familiar and the Other often encapsulating Indigenous lives as the archetypal Other to the modern worldview Yet living well amid precarity involves constantly negotiating Otherness's ambivalences as people plants animals and places can all become familiar strange or both Sensing Others reveals that when looking from the boundary what counts as Otherness is impossible to pin down
